That Vancouver champion team behaved, very much like a brush organization in the fifth inning of yesterday's game, and the presentation party resulting gave Casey's Colta an undeserved victory by the score of 5 to 4.

Jack Gilligan, the tall, good-looking fellow who finished Jack Hickey's game the previous day, essayed the task of fooling the Caseyites again, and while he allowed only two hits, he assisted in tessing off his same by two world beaves he allowed only two hits, he assisted in tossing off his game by two word heaves to first base. Joe Sugden must have made the mistake of tipping off the presence of George Huff, the Chicago National League scout, and also the fact that Fielder Jones, who is doing a little scouting on his own hook, were in the grandstand. Anyhow, Gilligan behaved like a schoolboy giving his first public in the first chapter. Mahon and Scharn-weber hit safely, and Quigley sacrificed. Charloy Swaln hit to Kennedy, and Ed hesitated to see if the seams on the ball had been sewn properly, Mahon scoring. Paddock, the twirler, who played right field because of Davis, injury, skied to Garry, which sacrifies fly scored Scharn-

Portland hooked one in the second b Pertland hooked one in the second by grace of Gilligan's first wild toss to first and Staton's clean single. Adams opened the fourth with a single and Kennedy was hit by a pitched ball. Garry sacrificed, advancing both men, and Staton's squeeze bunt accred Adams.

This toning was followed by the grand.

squeeze bunt scored Adams.

This inning was followed by the grand blow-up in the fifth. Fournier flew out and Scaton secured one of the two bases on balls tendered by Gilligan. Paddock muffed Cooney's fly, and when Gilligan threw Basesy's bunt away Scaton and Cooney scored and Bassey took second. He then stole third and scored on Adams' supposes bunt.

Portland was pretty lucky to get that trie, for Vancouver collected two more in the sixth. Paddock beat out an infield hit and Sugden singled to right, both scoring on Gilligan's two-bagger to left. In the seventh Jimmy Flynn got tangled up, and after calling Paddock, the third man, out at first, he made it necessary for the Portland players to get Swain, who had overrun third. This changing decisions is bad business, but it was not any worse than the game itself. The official score is as follows:

gan was the original strong-armed kid. After one of these games ball play-ers usually get back to earth, so we can expect better ball today.

Jack Hannah wore a Portland uniform yesterday, and the lad showed up fairly well. He muffed a fly ball, but so did Dell Paddock of the Vancouver-ites.

Jimmy Flynn got bumped by a high pitched ball, and if any one doubts Gilligan's speed, they can ask Flynn—

Quigley pulled off a joke play in the second which gave Portland one run. With runners on third and first Hannah hit to Quigley, who did not know where to throw the ball, and when he did let go of it he heaved wide of Nordyke.

Old Joe Sugden may not be the best throwing catcher in the world, but there are mighty few bases stolen on the veteran when his pitchers hold the runners close to the bags. He tossed out "Speed Marvel" Cooney with a yard to spare in the eighth.

The San Francisco fans will soon be so accustomed to these long games that they won't patronize the regula-tion nine-inning affairs. Not the "mar-athon" pulled off yesterday.

San Francisco will be in a bad way if that long-distance contest affects Browning as the 24-inning game seems SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 23.—(Special.)—Sacramento took the second game of the series today from Portland by a score of three to one. Like yesterday's game, the Senators gained their victory through a toree bagger by Jansing. His drive to the left field fence in the seventh scored Flanagan and House. The third run for the local team was made in the eighth, when Guyn walked Shinn and Doyle with one out and Gandil slammed a two-base hit to center field searcher. a two-base hit to center field, scoring Shinn.

Portland made its lonely run in the second by McCredie's liner down to third base. Johnson walked but was doubled out by playing off first when Ort bunted a pop fly to Whalen. McCredie gained third on Graham's wild throw to second, and scored on Fisher's single.

The Beavers came near doing business in the third, when Guyn started off by singling to right. He was sacrificed to second by Olson. Breen walked and Ryan's hit to right field filled the bases. McCredie's grounder to Raymer caused Breen to be shut out at the plate.

With two out in the eighth, Olson made a desperate attempt to steal home just as Whalen was getting ready to wind up. McCredie was at the bat, but could not interfere, and Graham tagged the runner. Olson said it was a balk, but Toman turned his back to the protest.

The game was marked by six snappy double plays. Whalen proved a better hot weather pitcher than Guyn, who let the Senators have ten hits compared with Portland's six. The score:

Plans for Harness Races Are Made by Fair Association.

LIVESTOCK BIG FEATURE

Show Next Fall Promises to Be the Most Important of the Kind Ever Held in Oregon-California Support Assured.

Portland's second annual harness race meet and livestock exposition was formally launched yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the Portland Fair and Livestock Association. Pifteen directors were present.
They reviewed the plans and results of the show held last September and were of one opinion, and that was that it was not comprehensive enough. Action was taken later to develop the project along lines that will place Portland on a turf and livestock footing equal to that of any city in the West. Reports were received showing the attendance, entries, awards and net returns from leading shows in other parts of the country, and an effort will be made to surpass any such expositions which have taken place west of the Mississippi River.

It was brought out in the report Portland Fair and Livestock Associa-

It was brought out in the report of M. D. Wisdom, secretary of the North Pacific Fair Circuit, who has only recently returned from an extensive trip through California, that Portland can rely on much more sub-stantial support from that state than was given a year ago, because horse-men and livestock breeders who were men and livestock breeders who were here a year ago have been convinced that Portland has not only the fastest race course in the Northwest, but can aggregate a higher-grade of pure-bred stock for the show-ring than any other city in this part of the country. Details of the Southern nominations for the six days of races and for the entries in the stock exhibits were given. The handling of crowds was the first matter passed on, and it was decided to have a committee of leading business men confer with President Josselyn, of the Portland, Rallway, Light lyn, of the Portland, Railway, Light & Power Company, with reference to securing an extension of the double-track Montavilla carline to the south the week between the State Fair at Salem and the fortnight of races and stock show at the A-Y-P Fair at Se-attle, each of which attracts its strong individual features, all of which will be embraced in the programme here the week of September 20-25. Work of dressing down the speedy one-mile track and fixing up the handicap at the Chicago Gun Club, made the high professional average today with a score of 73 out of a possible 80. Including yesterday's score, Mrs. Topperwein tied with Fred Gilbert, of Spirit Lake, Iowa, with 35 out of 100. R. Snowden, of Memphis, Tenn., is the favortie in the betting in the grand American handicap, 5 to 1. Rube Waddell, pitcher of the St, Louis American baseball team, took part in today's practice and made some creditable scores. grounds and buildings will be inaugurated within the next few days, and applications of horsemen for space in the stock barns for their trotters and the stock barns for their troiters and pacers that they want to work out preparatory to the opening of the season's circuit will be granted as soon as the standing of the aplicants has been passed on. It is anticipated that the dozen racing stables will be filled with green and experienced performers during the next few weeks, the Country Club having both a fine mile track and a "jogging" half-mile course inside the standard oval. Both of these will be available for the working out of the harness race talent of the big circuit.

The executive committee of the association will have another meeting with President Werung to take up further details, today. While these prelimiworked out the committee of solicitors now out selling season tickets will con-tinue at work and make weekly re-ports to headquarters.
