

WRIGHT AEROPLANE LIKE BALKY HORSE

Orville Fails to Make Huge Machine Go Through Its Paces as It Should.

DECLARES ENGINE IS WEAK

Wilbur Wright Bosses Job and "Joshes" Brother About Failure. Machine to Be Put Through Next Test Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Orville Wright made three flights in the Wright's new aeroplane at Fort Myer late today. Just after starting the machine swooped and barely touched the ground, but without damage.

Machine Like Horse.

"A flying machine is like a horse," said Wilbur Wright. "If it is new, you must get used to it before it will go just as you want it to. You have to learn its peculiarities. I am glad we learned what the trouble is, and after a few more trials you will see some fun."

Shortly after 5 o'clock everything was made ready. Wilbur Wright and Taylor started the engine. Orville took the operator's seat and released the weight that gives momentum to the aeroplane. The machine rose but a few feet as it left the rail. The tip of the right wing struck the earth at its base. The machine was swung completely around so that it faced the starting apparatus, and Orville stopped the machine.

After the damage, which was trivial, had been repaired, the machine was returned to the starting rail for another trial. It had traveled about 200 feet.

Lack of Power.

"I did not have enough power turned on," explained Orville. "Behind the wind is coming from behind me. If the wind had been coming towards me I would have got up," he said.

At 6:30 o'clock the mishap was repeated, with the exception that this time the left wing scraped the ground. The machine showed remarkable strength, and were not broken on either occasion. The machine was again returned for a third trial, and the crowd, seeing that Orville was determined to make a flight, gathered about the machine.

Third Trial Is Made.

The third attempt was even less successful. The machine refusing to rise at all. At 7 o'clock the final trial was made, and the machine rose 15 or 20 feet. Shortly after it had ascended from the ground it showed signs of losing headway, but Orville kept on around the field, remaining in the air about 60 seconds and landing almost immediately in front of the starting track.

Wilbur seemed to regard the difficulties encountered as rather amusing, and being Orville's "big brother," had a few criticisms to make of him. Wilbur accused Orville of "flights at Fort Meyer, saying that it is his brother's job, but he does most of the 'winging,' and most of the tinkering.

May Fly Across Channel.

LOCALAIS, June 28.—Herbert Latham, Count de Lambert and Henri Farman are at present on the coast near here, awaiting favorable weather conditions to attempt an aerial flight across the British Channel for a prize offered by a London paper. French aeroplanes are being held in readiness to go to the aid of their flight and rescue them in case of need. A Count de Lambert will make use of a Wright aeroplane. Mr. Farman will use a new machine, the old machine which he made his celebrated flight from Chalons to Rheims. Latham will use his monoplane.

TAX IS ALDRICH'S CLUB

United States. Aldrich at once moved the corporation tax provision as an amendment to the Lodge measure, thus giving the corporation tax the position of a third degree amendment, beyond which no further amendment can be offered in the Senate.

Why No Inheritance Tax.

Flint said the finance committee had considered not only a corporation, but also an income tax as a supplement to the tariff, and had decided it would be unwise to pass an income tax.

MRS. TUCKER GETS ABSOLUTE VERDICT

Court Grants Decree After but Ten Minutes' Hearing of Evidence in Case.

NO SUPPORT SINCE 1907

Colonel Tucker's Attorney Asks Mrs. Tucker if She Would Live With Husband Again and Gets Emphatic, Frigid Negative.

Aldrich Declares Himself.

"I shall vote for the corporation tax as a means of defeating the income tax," he added.

"I shall be perfectly frank in that respect. I shall vote for another reason. The income of the government this year will show a deficit of $40,000,000. Next year there will be a deficit of $40,000,000. I am willing that the deficit shall be taken care of by the corporation tax, but at the end of the year it should either be reduced to a nominal amount or repealed.

Subterfuge, Says Bailey.

Bailey declared Aldrich had announced that his attitude in favoring a corporation tax was a mere subterfuge.

"Under the statement made by the Senator from Rhode Island," said Bailey, "those who favor an income tax and do not join in this subterfuge to defeat it may see clearly what they are doing."

"No support of the corporation tax," replied Aldrich, "is not a subterfuge in any sense of the word." Aldrich said he favored an income tax only for times of emergency and, quoting the Senator from Texas, declared the latter wished to use the tax as a means of destroying the protective system.

The proposition for a corporation tax was made by the President of the United States before the House committee on ways and means prior to the time we considered it here," said Aldrich. "I am here as a Republican to support a Republican Administration as far as I can consistently with my duty. I shall vote for this proposition for the purpose I have named."

Bailey said he had a curiosity to know whether, when they had set their heads at work to defeat the income tax amendment, the President made the suggestion or the Senator from Rhode Island suggested it to the President.

Tillman Weeps for His Baby.

Aldrich replied that his conversation with the President was a private one and he refused to reply to a question by Gore as to whether the President would support a bill which would repeal the corporation tax as a subterfuge for an income tax.

"While you are talking about all of these things," pleaded Tillman in behalf of his tea proposition, "my poor little tea baby has been laid aside and is crying for papa."

"I believe the Rhode Island Senator favored the corporation tax solely to defeat the income tax."

"No support of the corporation tax," replied Aldrich, "is not a subterfuge in any sense of the word. The income tax case was decided after mature deliberation and now to submit again the question without change is simply flying in the face of that decision, to administer a rebuke to the court."

The income tax was temporarily laid aside in obedience to Tillman's plea and was not returned to again until after the repeal of the tea amendment. By the defeat of Tillman's amendment.

Cummins Assaults New Tax.

Cummins declared that the income tax question had suddenly changed. His and Bailey's amendments proposed a general income tax to be paid by all, while the President recommended a special income tax laid only on corporations. He said:

"I believe that the special income tax not only contravenes the most sacred principle of our Governmental compact, not only overrides the deepest convictions that civilized men hold with respect to taxation, but it collides with the decision of the Supreme Court at the same point, and with the same force as does the general income tax provision which we propose."

FAMILY CUPID SW TRoubles

Two Little Girls had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give her any relief. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would make the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with her for several weeks, but the child grew worse all the time. Her sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills, and in a few days the eczema was used their skin was soft and smooth as it had not been before for the winter. We keep the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment constantly by us and when any little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedies. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, 1908.

CHICAGO, June 29.—(Special.)—Absolute divorce on the grounds of desertion was today granted Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Tucker, formerly Dolly Logan, daughter of General John A. Logan, from Colonel William F. Tucker, U. S. A., retired. The hearing before Judge Barnes occupied but 10 minutes. Mrs. Tucker and her mother, Mrs. Logan, being the only witnesses heard. Colonel Tucker was represented by counsel, but offered no defense. He is at present in Chicago at the Union League Club.

After stating that she had married Colonel Tucker on November 27, 1877, Mrs. Tucker declared that she had not lived with the Colonel since January, 1906, when he sailed for the Philippines.

Support Stopped in 1907.

"Up to what time did he recognize you as his wife by supporting you?" was asked by Mrs. Tucker's attorney, Haynie E. Pearson.

"April 17, 1907," was the reply. "Has he supported you or in any way recognized you as his wife since then?" "No."

"While you lived with him did you perform the duties of a wife to him?" "Indeed, I did."

"Is there any reason why he should have ceased acting toward you as a husband should act?" "There is none whatever."

Mrs. Tucker Frigid.

Mr. Pearson here concluded his direct examination, whereupon Attorney Leo J. Doyle for Colonel Tucker, asked this question: "Do you have any children?" "Would you ever live with Colonel Tucker again?" "I am suing for divorce," retorted Mrs. Tucker, with frigidity, and I presume a divorce would sever all relations between me and the Colonel. This statement, while not officially authorized, is known to represent the views of the Government. The plea advanced by counsel for the company that the statute of limitations operates to bar prosecution contemplated by the Government may, it is said, delay action for a few days.

ACT UNDER ANTI-TRUST LAW

Government Will Not Let Sugar Trust Escape Prosecution.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Conflicting reports as to the Government's attitude toward the American Sugar Refining Company, which is being prosecuted under the department of United States District Attorney Wise for Paris, where he is to take part in the examination of French witnesses in the Panama canal case, were set against the Press Publishing Company.

Mr. Wise was quoted on one hand as saying that he was through with any attempt at prosecuting the Sugar Company so far as its relations with the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company were concerned, because of the statute of limitations.

The general understanding is, however, that the Government's plan to proceed with a general suit under the anti-trust law will not be interrupted.

LEON HAD ACCOMPLICES

NEW YORK DETECTIVES SEEK CHINAMAN'S AID.

Fifty Expert Sleuths Scatter Over Towns on Jersey Meadows in Search of Fugitive.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Leon Ling, the police declared tonight, had accomplices in the murder of Elsie Sigel. The police further have accounted for the movement of the body of Elsie Sigel out through the Newark expressman in the employ of the Constellation Express Company.

According to Logan's story, he hauled a trunk supposed to contain the body of Elsie Sigel to a Chinese laundry conducted by Wah Kee. The trunk, it appears, was there taken to a restaurant in Newark, N. J. The police believe the trunk could not have been moved so much and been received without the murder accomplices.

The police cordoned off the comparatively narrow territory comprising Paterson, Passaic, Hackensack and other neighboring towns in New Jersey is tightening today around a number of Chinamen, among whom the police hope to find trace of Leon Ling.

Fifty of the best detectives of Inspector McCafferty's staff have been sent into this district, and the concentration of so many of them in one spot tends to the belief that some important information, so far carefully guarded from the public, is in the possession of the police.

Leon Caught in Mexico?

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—It is reported here that Leon Ling, wanted for the Elsie Sigel murder, has been captured at Juarez, Mex.

CHANGE TREASURY SYSTEM

Accounting Departments Henceforth to Be Put Under One Head.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Changes in the Treasury cash system of the Treasury Department to correct discrepancies in publication of balances were announced to take effect July 1. The published records of receipts and disbursements issued by the bookkeeping and warrants division have never balanced with the daily cash statement because the bookkeeping and warrants office record on the daily statement transactions were not yet completed. The data will hereafter come from one source and will exactly tally.

The statement of the Treasury is to be divided into three classes—ordinary, Panama Canal and public debt.
