NO COIN FOR INSPECTORS

Washington Horticultural Laws Able to Avail Little This Year.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 28.— (Sperial.)—After passing a long horticulture code at the recent regular session, the Legislature failed to provide an appropriation to pay the necessary traveling expenses of the deputy inspectors, consequently there will be no enforcement of the law. The department sought to meet the financial needs by a plan to have the counties put up the maney, but the Attorney-General ruled today this cannot be done legally, and that the only cure for the oversight is a new bill appropriating the money.

printing the money.

In another opinion the Attorney-General holds that where counties take contracts for constructing state-aid roads the bonds required by law from road contractors need not be given.

hearing today to learn the views of the railroads in the matter of a uniform livestock contract, which the law passed by the last Legislature says the Commission shall prescribe. Among the railroad attorneys present were: James B. Kerr, representing the Northern Pacific, Astoria & Columbia River, Spokane. Portland & Seattle and the Oregon Electric; Arthur C. Spencer, the O. R. & N., Oregon Short Line and P. R. & N.; R. A. Leiter, the Southern Pacific, Corvallis & Eastern, Independence & Monmouth.

Corvallis & Eastern, Independence & Monmouth.

A number of railroad men were present, including W. E. Coman, assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N.; M. J. Buckley, general superintendent of the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N.; C. A. Malboeuf, district freight agent; George F. Nevins, traffic manager Oregon Electric.

The Commission has framed the tentative draft of a contract from those in use on the various roads in this part of the country, and it is understood the form drawn by the Commission is acceptable to the railroads with a few silight changes. Owing to the absence of Commissioner West, who has been a moving spirit in procuring the uniform contract, the hearing was not concluded, but will be resumed at a later date. Jesse S. Jones, Commissioner, and Secretary Calderhead, of the Washington State Railroad Commission, attended the hearing today. An effort will be made to have the Oregon contract acceptable to the Washington, shippers and railroads for the purpose of convenience in shipping. The only shipper present was Thomas sion, shippers and railroads for the purpose of convenience in shipping. The only shipper present was Thomas Carstens, of the Carstens Packing Com-

SCHOOL WORK IN OREGON TO BE IMPROVED.

Convention of County School Superintendents at Salem Completes Session.

SALEM, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—
The second annual convention of County Superintendents closed its sessions this afternoon and most of the Superintendents left on the evening train for Albany to attend the State Teachers' Association meetings.

At its sessions, the convention continued discussions relative to the standards that must be maintained by a high school. President Campbell, of the State University, brought out the point that the colleges and universities of Oregon have not yet in any way attempted to dictate the work that must be done by the high schools, but that the colleges and universities have fixed their entrance requirements, so that students who have convoluted the the colleges and universities have fixed their entrance requirements, so that students who have completed the state course of study for high schools will be received, provided the work has been thoroughly done.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that to be called a high school, a school must have at least one teacher devoting all her time to high school work, and that it must maintain at

Miss Cornelia Marvin, secretary of the library committee, addressed the convention upon the best method of securing more interest in library books. Superintendent Ackerman urged better- ventilation of schoolhouses and more sanitary conditions of outbuildings. It was decided that a transfer more sanitary conditions of outbuildings. It was decided that a teacher found guilty of immoral conduct in one district should be reported to the State Superintendent and that teacher's name should be sent to every district of the state. Other subjects discussed were: Conducting examinations and methods of grading manuscripts; division of school districts; how may the Eighth grade examination be made more helpful in the annual institutes? which should be especially emphasized; better sanitary conditions; a revival in spelling; more thorough work in all branches.
