STRUGGLE BEGINS IN TINPLATE MILLS

Union Closes 15 Mills of Steel Trust to Resist Open Shop.

FOUR STATES AFFECTED

Power of Union in Steel Trust Mills at Stake—Independents Accept Its Terms—About 7000 Men Are Idle.

PITTSBURG, June 30.—Fifteen plants were crippled or entirely tied up at midnight by the strike order that went into effect in the union sheet and tinplate mills of the United States Steel Corporation, according to claims made by the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tinplate Workers. The number of men on strike is estimated at 7000.

The strike is the outcome of the open shop order posted four weeks ago by the American Sheet & Tinplate Company at all its mills throughout West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

Defeat for the Amalgamated Association, it is said, virtually means the taking away of its power in the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation, of which the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company is a subsidiary. That the company is working toward this end is apparent, it is alleged, from orders issued yesterday calling for the immediate resumption of several non-union plants which have been idle for over a year.

A wage agreement has been reached by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tinworkers and representatives of the independent sheet and tin plate manufacturers.

ONLY ONE LOCAL TO CITIES

American Federation of Labor Rules Against Many Unions.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The right to organize a local union in any locality where either organization already has a local union was denied to both the International Association of Steamfitters and the United Association of Plumbers, Gas and Steamfitters at a meeting of the executive council of building trades section, American Federation of Labor, today. It was ordered that in Syracuse, New York, Salt Lake City and Spokane, the local council unseat local unions organized in violation of the decision, and that for failure to do so, the locals be required to surrender their charters.

HIGHER PAY TO CEMENT MEN

Manufacturers Take High Cost of Living Into Account.

EASTON, Pa., June 30.—The Alpha-Portland Cement Company today announced a 10 per cent increase in the wages to the 1000 laboring men at its various plants. The additional pay is granted in consideration of the high cost of living.

WHEELING HAS 3000 IDLE

All Trust Mills at West Virginia City Shut Down.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 30.—Three thousand tinworkers, members of the Amalgamated Association of Tin Plate Workers, who are employed in the mills of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, will go on strike at midnight.

WAGE ADVANCE FOR PUDDLERS

Lessing Iron Company Grants Increase to Employes.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., June 30.—Puddlers employed at the plant of the Lessing Iron Company were notified today that their wages would be increased from $3.75 to $4 per ton.

to pay any dues to the state association until two days before the convention, when dues for 400 members were offered and refused. Dr. Eaton charged the Spokane president with offering high school girls free trips from Spokane to the exposition if they would secure 50 members to the club, and in this way it is claimed many names were secured with which to pad the membership list.

"These suspicious conditions demand an investigation," said Dr. Eaton, "before it is wise to allow the Spokane club seats for delegates in the convention. Their padded list was secured by bribes."

Spokane Should "Clean House."

In her concluding remarks Dr. Eaton directed her address to the Spokane delegation: "Go back to Spokane," said she, "and clean house, and then come back to the convention next year, and there will be seats for your delegates."

Disregarding the several interruptions to which the speaker was subjected, she continued, and was greeted with applause as she concluded.

D. C. Coates, of Spokane, took the floor and said in reply:

"If the statement you have just applauded were true I would applaud with you." At this juncture Mr. Coates was greeted with hisses from the audience and for some time was unable to proceed. When finally a semblance of order prevailed he continued:

"Were this an audience of men I would know how to reply to those hisses, but among ladies I am powerless.

"We have worked for the cause of equal suffrage. We have offered our dues to the state society. We have spent hundreds of dollars in entertaining the National and state delegates in Spokane and yet we are told we are not wanted here today. Let us get away from these narrow-minded policies and all work in harmony for the cause.

Letters Not Read.

"I have letters in my possession that would cause the writer to change the attitude she has just taken."

"Read them," "read them," came the cries from the audience. But Mr. Coates replied:

"I will not read them without the consent of Dr. Eaton and Mrs. Hutton."

Mrs. May Arkright Hutton, president of the Spokane Woman Suffrage Association, then intervened.

"I will not allow these letters to be read," said she, "for I am going to prosecute Dr. Eaton and my attorney has advised me not to make them public."

"Ladies, madam president," shouted Mr. Coates as he took his place in the audience, "there are representatives of the press in this room and I hardly think it is fit that these proceedings be given to the public."

"Put them out." "Let them stay," were the verbal volleys exchanged for some time, until Mrs. Devoe, with both hands in the air—an attitude she had held much of the time, asked the representatives of the press to retire.

Mrs. Devoe Re-elected.

They complied and left the fighting factions still in combat. As they left the church they met the police going in. By this time most of the convention was in tears.

After hearing from both sides the question of seating the Spokane delegates, they were unseated and refused to remain as guests at the convention and withdrew.

The report of the credential committee was adopted and Mrs. Hutton, on walking out of the hall, was followed by all of her adherents. Then the regulars re-elected President Devoe and chose other officers indorsed by her.

BABES IN INSTITUTION

LITTLE TOTS FOUND IN CALIFORNIA REFORM SCHOOL.

Change in State Laws to Prevent Sending of Minors to Place Will Be Soon Asked.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 30.—Secretary B. B. Deming, of the State Board of Examiners, returned from Los Angeles today with a sensational story concerning the Whittier Reform School, which he had been instructed by the Governor to investigate.

He does not criticise the management itself, but he says little children of both sexes are sent there to associate with the depraved. The next Legislature will be asked to pass a law prohibiting the sentencing of small children to reform schools. In one instance he found two little boys, one 6 and the other 7 years old, sent to the reform school because they happened to be with their father when he robbed a butcher shop.

On the ground, that these boys were in the company of criminals, they were sentenced to the reform school. A parallel case was found in the situation of three girls, two of them but little older than 10 years. Their only offense was in not having any home.

BOY ACCUSED OF ROBBERY

Arnold Bliss Said to Have Stolen $200 From Logger.

Two detectives working under the direction of Captain Baty last night brought to light what is believed to be an astounding case of youthful criminality and which resulted in the arrest of Arnold Bliss, a 13-year-old newsboy, who lives at 487 Davis street. The alleged youthful Fagin is accused of taking Henry Carson, a drunken logger, into a room in a lodging-house at Sixth and Flanders street on Tuesday night and robbing him of over $200 in money.

Carson, sober and frantic over his loss, reported the affair to the police yesterday morning. He said that he had met the newsboy on the street and, believing that he was safe in the company of one so young, had permitted the boy to guide him to a room. When he awoke he found his money had disappeared. The officers learned from the landlord of the house that the boy had been seen entering Carson's room on three different occasions on Tuesday night.

The youngster admitted to the police that he had taken 40 cents, but denied all knowledge of the large amount. When pressed by the detectives, however, he made admissions which involved another boy, and this may lead to a second arrest. The Bliss boy was held at the City Jail last night for the Juvenile Court. He has been in trouble before, having been at the Reform School. The charge against him at that time was being a truant from the Ladd School. The boy's father is David Bliss, an employe of a Sixth-street cafe.

PREACHER HELD FOR TRIAL

State Charges He Issued False Prospectus of Mining Property.

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Rev. Charles McCrossan was today held to answer to the Superior Court by Justice Summerfield on a charge of issuing a false prospectus in connection with the promotion of the Cordilleras Mining Company, limited. He was released on $5000 bonds.

Deputy District Attorney Horton, in his statement to the court, said that Mr. McCrossan had said that there was $12,000,000 worth of ore at the mines, but that the prosecution had demonstrated there was not over $180,000 worth.

LAST DAY IS PROFITABLE

Thousands of Dollars Played in Slot Machines Before Midnight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The whir and clatter of 4000 nickel-in-slot drink and cigar machines was stilled at midnight tonight, when the ordinance forbidding the continuance of these devices went into effect.

The last day of the machines was marked by unprecedentedly heavy play. Machines in saloons and cigar stands were crowded five and six deep with men waiting for a chance to play, or watching the varying fortune of others. It is estimated that thousands of dollars were poured into the slot machines during the day.

Society Note From "Courthouse."

R. K. Dickerson, who is held in the County Jail for the murder of Harry E. Garrett, committed a week ago Monday, last night sent the following to The Oregonian for publication:

Yesterday was a red-letter day for callers at the Courthouse and many were the expressions of sympathy heard on behalf of Mr. Dickerson. It kept the trustles busy from 9:30 A. M. till 4:15 P. M., carrying parcels containing sweetmeats, cigars, fruits and several bouquets of beautiful flowers, brought by his many friends, some of long years' standing, among whom were several from out of town. It is very evident that Mr. Dickerson has the full confidence of his friends and the sympathy of all familiar with his case. Mr. Fuller, who was Mr. Dickerson's foreman, has been placed in full charge of Mr. Dickerson's road work.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown, of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure Sore Lungs, Colds, obstinate Coughs, and prevent Pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottle free.

CHAMPION WITH OAR

Today's Race Decides Between Harvard and Yale.

RESULT VERY UNCERTAIN

Harvard Wins Better Position and Has Veteran Oarsmen, While Yale Crew Is Green—Record Has Stood 21 Years.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 30.—The night before the Yale-Harvard regatta finds partisans of both sides equally confident. Harvard won the toss for the two varsity races, and chose the west course. It is generally supposed that in racing up stream, as the varsity race will be rowed, there is an advantage to the crew having the west course in the smoother waters of the upper reaches of the Thames. Yale won the toss in the freshman event and took the east side in that contest, which will be rowed from the navy-yard to the drawbridge.

Harvard won the two lesser events of the regatta today. These were the gentlemen's eight for the Graves cup and the substitute freshmen threes race.

Results Very Uncertain.

Not in the 50 or more years' history of Harvard and Yale rowing has there been so much uncertainty regarding the outcome of the annual struggle. The Harvard crew is made up of veterans, while the Yale crew is composed of comparatively green oarsmen. The Yale crew has been training hard. On the other hand, the Harvard boat is propelled by seasoned oarsmen, who are still new to their positions, with the result that while the boat has a great drive, especially under the quick catch that the men have been taught, there is a noticeable sag at the recovery. The contest will be a struggle between the slower stroke and the long-leg drive of Yale and the faster stroke of Harvard, modeled after the English stroke, and which frequently is sent up as high as 38 per minute.

Race Begins at 6 P. M.

The two varsity crews will line up under the drawbridge at 6 P. M., and will start on their four-mile journey up stream to the finish off Bartles Cove. The record for the course is 20 minutes 10 seconds, which has stood since it was made by Yale 21 years ago. In today's freshmen events Yale was unable to fill the crew of four and it was agreed to make it three oars in a shell.

SUSPECT LANDS IN JAIL

Police Believe Arthur Hartwick Is Professional Thief.

Upon suspicion of having robbed the dwelling of Mrs. Dora Corbin, 670 East Morrison street, of a gold nugget, a small sum of money, some cigars and other articles, Arthur Hartwick, 29 years old, who is unknown to the police, but who is suspected of being a professional thief, was arrested last night by Detective Craddock and lodged in the City Jail, pending a more complete investigation. Hartwick rented a room from Mrs. Corbin and, after living in it for three days, mysteriously disappeared and soon afterward the articles were missing from the house.

The detective caught Hartwick last night in the neighborhood of the Corbin home. He was unable to give an account of his antecedents and was found to have a silver spoon in his pocket, the possession of which he could not explain. He was detained on a charge of vagrancy to enable the police to gather more evidence against him.

TEETH MUST IDENTIFY

No Other Way of Determining if Curt Pless' Body Is Found.

PENDLETON, Or., June 30.—Whether the body found floating cramped in a box on the Columbia River June 5 is that of the missing Curt Pless, of Bellingham, Wash., cannot be determined here, says Coroner Folsom, until an examination of the teeth is made. There was absolutely no means of identification on the body. Information from Bellingham is the missing Curt Pless was six feet six inches tall. Coroner Folsom says:

"I went to the Columbia River with an undertaker's 'pickup box' just six feet and three inches long. Despite the fact that the skull had been crushed in and the flesh decomposed and washed from the bones, I had difficulty in forcing the body into the box."

FIVE HOBOS ARE ARRESTED

Train Crew Fears Rocks and Calls on City Authorities.

WOODLAND, Wash., June 30.—(Special.)—Six hobos held up a freight train here about 10 o'clock Monday night and the train crew had to call on the local officers to protect them until they could get out of the yards. The crew had put the men off the train and the men in retaliation had threatened to rock the crew and train when it started out, and for this purpose had lined up just north of the station.

The officers surprised them with their hands full of rocks and succeeded in arresting five, one escaping. The men are being held in the town jail pending word as to charges that may be filed by the railway people.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS FREE

Judge Does Not Regard Case Important Enough to Continue.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 30.—(Special.)—Although James Barker, William Burns and Richard McCarthy, arrested for smoking cigarettes yesterday, failed to appear for trial in police court this afternoon, Judge Mann dismissed their cases.

Shortly after being arrested, the men were released upon their own recognizance, with orders to appear today, but they failed to show up and the Judge evidently thought it of insufficient consequence to insist on the men being brought to court.

NET PROFITS ARE $86,000

Total Attendance at A.-Y.-P. Fair for Month 667,971.

SEATTLE, June 30.—The attendance for the first month of the exposition, according to an official statement given out tonight, was 667,971. President Chilberg stated the net profits for the month amounted to $86,000.

The percentage of complimentary admissions is considered low, being placed by fair officials at 27 per cent.

Painter Hurt by Fall.

Philip Kleeman, a painter, fell 30 feet yesterday afternoon while at work painting the roof of a house at 676 Everett street. He received internal injuries, and was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital in the Red Cross Ambulance. The accident was the result of Kleeman's mistake in grasping a rope which released his swinging paint frame, and precipitated him to the ground. His fall was partially broken by a ladder which rested against the building. He struck on the lawn or possibly would have sustained fatal injuries. He lives at 135 North Tenth street.

Neighborhood Row Leads to Arrest.

As a result of a neighborhood row yesterday Mrs. Ben Weinstein, of 679 Second street, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out in the Municipal Court on the complaint of Mrs. Esther Rosenbloom, who is her next-door neighbor, and who alleged that Mrs. Weinstein abused her in terms which almost made her faint. The quarrel started over the dispute between the children of the two principals about the ownership of a ball. Mrs. Weinstein supplied bail and was released. The case will be aired before Judge Bennett, who sits in the Police Court for the first time today.

Accused of Annoying Girl.

Pete Steven, a Bulgarian laborer, who lives at 86 Wood street, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out on the complaint of Mrs. M. Muller, of 96 Wood street. Steven is accused technically of being a disorderly person. Mrs. Muller charges him with annoying and insulting her 15-year-old daughter, Agnes Muller. The girl says Steven met her on the street and tried to detain her by force. Steven was required to put up $50 bail for his release.

Lane Fails to Sign Light Contract.

Although he had until midnight last night to act officially, Dr. Harry Lane, ex-Mayor, refused to sign the contract between the city and the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for an electric street lighting service. At a meeting held on Tuesday of last week, the Executive Board entered into a five-year contract with the street railway company for this service, and at the same time authorized the Mayor to sign the agreement as the official representative of the city. The failure of the retiring Mayor to sign the contract makes it necessary for Mayor Simon to validate an agreement executed by a committee representing his predecessor's Executive Board.

Secures Arrest of Employe.

E. J. Kelsey, a carpenter, living at East Forty-first and Gladstone streets, was arrested last night as a result of an altercation with his employer, George S. Powell, a contractor. Kelsey was at work on a new house on East Morrison street yesterday when Powell, he says, assailed him with vile epithets, and when he went to remonstrate with Powell, the latter attacked him with a tool, striking him over the arm. To protect himself, he says, he knocked Powell down and administered several severe jolts on the jaw. Powell applied for a warrant.

Pioneer of '49 Dead.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 30.—Franklin A. Buck, a California pioneer of 1849, died at his home in this city today, aged 83 years. He went to San Francisco from Bucksport, Me., with a schooner cargo of knocked-down houses, sold them, became a grocer in Sacramento, and afterward mined in Trinity County, California, and in Nevada.

SOME OF THE CHEAPEST AND SEVERAL OF THE BEST STILL TO BE HAD.

Don't Fail to Attend to This Immediately—It's Surely Worth Inquiring Into—Look at These Names and the Prices—Not Again This Year, if Ever, Will Such Opportunity Be Offered—Sale Ends Today, Sure.

Yesterday was another busy day in the Eilers Piano Exchange and Bargain Room—a number of instruments had been delayed in our shops—these were added to the stock, making quite a comfortable variety to choose from, but now there are no additional ones and when the instruments now here are disposed of all will have been taken.

The first caller here this morning or afternoon who wants a good-toned piano for less than $100 will take a medium-sized Kingsbury for $94. Payments, $5 a month, or all cash.

A sample Bush & Lane piano, in very showy, massive-looking quarter-sawed oak case, is $185; a splendid sweet-toned Hallet & Davis, a $500 style, is $255—same price for an excellent Steinway upright—while $235 secures a dark mahogany Fischer of very latest style and design. A Kranich & Bach in fine shape is $186, and an A. B. Chase is $165.

A Decker, in good order, $135, and several others at $168 and $195. A Milton piano, fancy mahogany, sample, is $185, and a Knight-Brinkerhoff, also a traveling man's sample, at $120 less than its established retail price.

WANT WELL-TO-DO HOMES FOR THESE.

Only two of numerous exquisite special design or exhibition pianos remain, and these are the highest-priced instruments that were in this sale.

If the saving of money on a truly magnificent work of art is an object now is the time to see them—we are closing these out at actual wholesale cost, less 20 per cent, and will arrange the terms of payment to suit any reasonable purchaser.

BABY GRANDS HERE, TOO.

Several most desirable and almost new Baby Grands are also included in this sale. One came in part payment for a Pianola Piano, another has been left on sale; all have valid excuses for being located in the Piano Exchange. Priced far below actual value.

A Kranich & Bach, in fancy mahogany, can be had for $467, $17 cash and $16 a month.

A superb little Steck, in beautifully figured mahogany, costs $52 more money; double the price would be figured fair value in the usual run of piano stores.

A Steinway Grand, usually priced at $800, will go now for $485—same terms as the Steck; and a superb little Decker Grand, which has had very little use, but an interesting history, can be had for exactly half price, or $425.

SOME PIANOLAS, TOO.

In this sale, to make matters thoroughly interesting, we have included also a number of used Pianolas. The Pianola has lost none of its old-time popularity, fusly as many of these little cabinets are made and sold nowadays as ever in their history, although many prefer the latest development—the Pianola Piano—in which the Pianola mechanism is contained and cleverly concealed within the upright piano.

We are giving extraordinary discounts on Pianolas slightly used. If you have a "silent" piano and want access to the glorious realm of music at lowest possible cost, secure one of these Pianolas; join the Pianola Music Roll Library, and you have definitely provided to meet every musical want.

Remember the place: Eilers Piano House, Oregon's home establishment; largest, foremost and most responsible concern in the West—353 Washington street, at Park (Eighth) street.
