SENATE ADOPTS CORPORATION TAX

Vote Comes as Surprise to Opponents.

INCOME TAXERS SNUFFED OUT

Can Only Muster 31 Votes Against Aldrich's 45.

WHOLE DAY OF ORATORY

All Big Guns on Each Side Fire Off Speeches-Cummins by Trying for Delay Hastens Vote on Whole Question.

WASHINGTON, July 2 .- The corporation tax amendment suggested by President Taft, drawn by Attorney-General Wickersham and presented to the Senate by Chairman Aldrich of the committee on finance, is an integral part of the tariff bill as that bill now stands. The Senate reached a vote on the proposition shortly before adjourning at 7 o'clock this evening, and the amend-ment was agreed to by the large vote of 60 to 11, with all modifying amendments disposed of, many Democrats voting for the amendment with most of the Republicans. The test vote was on the substitution of the corporation tax amendment for the income tax provision, and on that vote 45 Senators cast their ballots in the affirmative and 31 in the negative.

Democrats for Income Tax.

On this ballot all the Democratic votes were cast in favor of the income tax, which also received the support of a number of the insurgent Republicans. The income-tax question disposed of, the Senate tomorrow will enter upon the administrative features of the tariff bill, probably taking up the maximum and minimum rate provision.

The reaching of a vote came as some what of a surprise to a large majority of the Senators, but not to Aldrich and his intimate advisors. Aldrich expressed confidence from the time of his arrival the Senate early in the day, after a brief vacation, that he would succeed in getting a vote before adjournment.

Steady Fire of Oratory.

The debate was somewhat more anisteady fire of oratory from the beginning of the session at 10 o'clock until 4:30 P. M. During that time Heyburn, Hughes, Cummins, Newlands, Rayner, Brandeges, Root and Aldrich discussed all phases of the income-tax question. Aidrich then asked for a unanimous agreement for a vote on the corporation tax amendment tomorrow at 1 P. M. He had previously been conferring with Bailey, Cummins, Borah and other opponents of the amendment, and it was generally supposed that they had reached an understanding that the vote be taken tomorrow. When it seemed that such a compact was probable, Cummins made an objection. His objection to the unanimous agreement not only had the effect of preventing the fixing of the vote for Saturday, but of forcing it today.

Other Amendment Rejected.

The first vote was upon the motion to aubstitute the corporation-tax amendment for the Lodge countervailing-duty amendment, and this prevailed by a vote of 45 to 31. The affirmative vote was cast entirely by Republicans.

Before the vote upon the corporation tax provision upon its own merits could be reached, Bacon sought to obtain action on two amendments presented by himself, both of which Aldrich moved to lay upon the table, which was done. The first of these amendments provided for an exemption of educational, charitable and religious institutions and the second required the taxation of Protests From Northwest.

Business began with the presentation of petitions relating to the corporation tax, many of which came from the Far Northwest. From Spokane, Wash., 106 merchants appealed to the Senate for support of the tax as proposed by the President, because as they said, it safeguarded the private information of business institutions.

The Inman-Poulsen Lumber Company. of East Portland, wanted the "perniclous corporation tax" killed, while W. B. Ayer, of Portland, considered the proposed tax as extremely unfair, "as places the burden only on the great industrial life of the country.'

There was also a protest from the mutual insurance companies of New Jersey, which insisted that such corporations were not the proper subject of taxation under the proposed scheme of taxing corporations organized for Heyburn Criticises Measure.

Heyburn objected to the tax on the ground that it was too indefinite to make it operative. The first provision of the bill fixes a tax of 2 per cent on the net income of corporations. The Idaho Senator contended that under this language it would be quite impossible to determine the object of the bill or to enforce its provisions, because of its vagueness. He also maintained that the tax, being levied on all corporations "organized for profit," in-

When Flock opened his little parcel he found inside a solid gold case which held a gold-tipped amber eigarholder. The price card, left by inadvertence, doubt, in the package, hore the figures

PROBE BOARD GETS $30,000

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 2 .- (Special.)-At 1:30 this afternoon both Houses of the extraordinary session of the Washington Legislature took a recess until August 11 at 2 P. M., when the impeachment trial of J. H. Schively, State Insurance Commissioner, will begin.

Most of the morning it was an ope question whether the House should reconvene August 11 or permit the Board of Impeachment managers to meet and adjourn the House from day to day. Such adjournments can be taken by the Speaker and seven members of the Impeachment Board, which as originally appointed consisted of 11 members.

All Members Must Return.

After a long debate and several instances of backing and filling, the House cut down the Board of Managers to three, selected by a "direct primary method," and decided that all member should return at the end of the recess. During the 40 days interim none of the members of either House will draw per diem except the three impeachment managers and President Ruth, of the Sen afe, each of whom is allowed $10 a day. The Senate also authorized the employment when necessary of the Chief Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms and the Houses authorized the impeachment managers to employ what clerical help it needed

Probe Committee Gets $30,000. The general investigating committee work has been granted a fund of $30,000. Yesterday the House voted to provide the Senate cut to $35,000. Conference committees this morning agreed on the compromise figures. The committee will repen its work next Thursday at a meeting in Scattle. This meeting will be devoted principally to the formation of plans for future procedure.

The cost of the impeachment trial has been limited to $40,000, the Senate bill appropriating that amount having passed the House this morning. The total appropriations for the special session aggregate $117,984, but of this sum $110,000 is for future legislative, impeachment and investigation expenses, and a portion will likely revert to the State Treasury.

Divide on Wets and Drys.

The House was in a contentious mood morning, and the old division along old wet and dry lines was again repeated in quarreling over the membership of the Impeachment Board. French, of Clark, brought in a resolution this morning reducing the membership to three, they to be Speaker Meigs, Lambert of Whatcom and Edge of Spokane. Beach of Mason supporting the motion, declared that the Impeachment Board's expenses, including the salaries of clerk and sergeant-at-arms would be $89.50 a day. The Senate rules, he sald, did not give any member of the board the right to propound questions, and that so large a board would be unwieldy and useless. "Let's drop this local option, or wet and dry fight, and do some-
