Washington Congressman Not Expected to Live Through Night, Say Surgeons.

TAKES TURN FOR WORSE

Enters New York Hospital for Slight Operation and While Recovering Pneumonia Sets In With Dire Effect.

NEW YORK, July 2—(Special.)—Congressman Francis W. Cushman, who has been ill in Roosevelt Hospital for 10 days, was in a critical condition tonight, and at midnight the authorities of the hospital held out little hope of his recovery. They in fact said be was so low it was doubtful if he would survive the night.

Mr. Cushman entered the hospital on

Mr. Cushman entered the hospital on Mr. Cushman entered the hospital on Juns 21 to undergo an operation for the removal of an abscess in his nock. The operation, which was a slight one, was successful, but before he recovered from it, pneumonia developed. The discass reached the critical stage today, and, contrary to the expectations of yesterday, it took a rapid turn for the worse. Started as Poor Boy.

Francis W. Cushman was born May 8, 1867, at Brighton, Ia., and was educated at the local High School and at Pleasant View Academy. In order to aid in paying his tuition there, he worked during the Summer vacation as "water boy" on railroad construction work. On completing his education at the academy, the future Congressman worked for some time as section hand on local railroads, until at the age of 16 he moved to Wyoming. There he remained for five years, being a cowboy on a ranch, a "handy hand" in a lumber camp, and also a school teacher. During this period he took up the study of law, reading by himself, with but little outside aid.

At the close of this time he moved

At the close of this time he moved to Nebraska, and was admitted to both the district and supreme bar. He remained there until 1891, when he went West again, settling in Tacoma, which has since been his permanent home. Prior to his election to Congress he held no offices of any kind, and made his living entirely by his legal practice.

Made Notable Campaign.

In 1898 Mr. Cushman was nominated by the Republicans for Congress, against James Hamilton Lewis, the incumbent. In the face of what seemed a hopeless fight, Populism being then at its high crest in this state, Mr. Cushman entered into the campaign with vigor. He stumped the entire state, which was then not divided into Congressional districts, and it was largely through his brilliant speeches that the state was reclaimed to the Republican party at the succeeding election. Since that time he has been without opposition in his own party, and has been elected by overwhelming majorities at each of the succeeding elections and is now serving his sixth term. His family consists of a wife, aged mother and brother. The latter was recently appointed Judge of the Federal Court in Alaska.

Perhaps the one attribute of Mr. Cushman, otherwise the second of the consists of the contract o

Perhaps the one attribute of Mr. Cushman's character that more than any other has contributed to his success in Congress, is his energy and tireless industry. While he has always been an energy and the contribute of the contribu ardent Republican, and fearlessly advocated the principles and policies of that party, he never allows politics to interfere with his duties in looking after the wants of his constituents or the needs of his state. This fact, as well as his uniform courtesy and kindness has given him a very warm and secure place in the hearts of citizens of the State of Wash-

Though personally in poor health for the greater part of his Congressional ca-reer. Mr. Cushman was ever ready to lend a helping hand to all that appealed to him, and overworked himself frequently in the cause of others. He was a stir-ring orator, though he spoke but rarely, and was a man of direct speech. In his home city he was a leader in public movements, and was there, as elsewhere, regarded with more than usual respect by a host of friends and acquaintances.

EXPECTING CONTEST OF WILL, TURFMAN LEFT SECOND.

Earlier Document, Signed Ten Years Before His Death, Comes to Light Now.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 2.—(Special.) -That E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin feared an attack upon his will and prepared to forestall it and be in condition to meet even a logal declaration of the invalidity of his last testament by reserving another will signed by him lo years earlier, developed at the Courthouse today. This former will was kept within the steel doors of the safe of Bradner W. Lee, attorney for the estate, during the 16 years preceding the death of the turfman and capitalist.

All danger of a contest of the Baldwin will, the last one, having passed with the signing of contracts between the two chief heirs, the fact of the existence of an earlier will first came to light today. In it Baldwin, who had at that time, it is understood, determined that his wife should have only a small share of his should have only a small share of his property, disposed of all his earthly possessions in about the same manner as he did in the final will, which was made shortly before his death.

FIGHT OFFICER

Sergeant Riley Has Much Trouble Arresting Disorderly Couple.

Ted Rice, proprietor of the Blarney Castle saloon, in Fulton, and Ethel Smith Brown, a young woman with a police record, were arrested last night on a Fulton streetcar, at Bancroft and Corbett streets, for disorderly conduct. Sergeant Riley who made the arrest, was set upon by both the man and the woman and a fight ensued which ended in the officer's coat being badly torn and the two unruly people subjugated. The motorman of the car who went to the officer's assistance bad his clothing torn too.

Rice, the officer said, kicked and bit and used every means in his power to assume the angle of the woman were both intoxicated. At the police station Rice grew very talkative and when Sergeant Riley was looking in another direction suddenly struck him a violent blow. Rice was looked up as was the woman. The suddenly struck him a violent blow. Rice was locked up as was the woman. Miss Barrette and to an attempt to show by implication that the Gingles girl was the victim of a conspiracy.

Mr. O'Donnell led his client to state by inference that on the evening of January 4. Miss Barrette and Mrs. Cecilia. Kenyon, who died suddenly on June 25, visited Ella Gingles' room with a bundle of cheap lace and after having "planted" the lace in her room accused her of stealing it; and that they then seized all the girl's own valuable Irish lace, as well as her money and other property, and compelled her to accompany them to Miss Barrette's room in the Wellington Hotel, where she remained for two hours Hotel, where she remained for two hours and where she was forced to sign a confession of theft.

The attorney for the defendant cut circles around the events that are said to have transpired in Miss Barrette's room at the Wellington Hotel on the night of January 4. He said that he would decide over night whether to go into the matter of the indignities alleged to have been suffered by the Gingles girl, or submit his case without any referen

Head of Associate Investment Company Also Hints at New Theater for Shuberts.

The silence maintained by S. Morton Cohn, president of the Associate Invest-ment Company, owner of the Hellig The-ater, concerning the closing of that place of amusement on May 31 without notice, of amusement on May 31 without hottee, was broken yesterday. In an interview Mr. Cohn made the following statement: "As a rule I do not fight my battles through the newspapers, but the mis-statements concerning this entire matter have been so flagrant that I feel it ad-visable to state clearly to the public visable to state clearly to the public our position regarding the entire controversy.

"The Hellig Theater was rented to Cal-vin Hellig for a period of five years, and the lease specifically required the tenant to make all necessary repairs to tenant to make all necessary repairs to enable him to conduct a theatrical business therein and keep same fit for his occupancy, and if, through any negligence on his part, he has allowed the building to deteriorate, then, in our opinion, he and his company, if they have any financial responsibility, are liable for the consequences and cannot legally or

"There are many facts connected with this proposition which probably will be unearthed when the lawsuit is tried on its merits in court. At that time some very pertinent questions may be put, such as, what peculiar influence was brought to bear upon the ex-Mayor to have the building condemned on the 31st of the month, just when the next month's rent was due and without a particle of notice to the owner; and why this particular theater was singled out as against ticular theater was singled out as against condemnation a petition was circulated among business men and a strenuous plea made to raise money to assist Mr. Heilig and his associates to erect a theater in which first-class attractions might be presented to the Portland public. "Public attention is also respectfully called to the fact that the ex-Mayor did not go around to any other frame buildings in this city chopping down foundations and defacing walls to help Mr. Heilig out of the consequences of the lease which he unquestionably desired to break for purposes of his own. As a matter of fact we have had architects and contractors carefully examine this building, and we are prepared to say at the proper time that the Heilig Theater, which was constructed by competent men only about four years ago, is safer for a large assemblage of people than many other frame buildings in the city now being used for public purposes. Suit has been filled by us today, through our attorney, Dan J. Malarkey, against Mr. Heilig for rent of the Heilig for the month of June, and this claim, upon which the whole case rests, will be vigorously prosecuted to final determination.

CLASHES WITH CHINA ON CON-CESSIONS TO JAPAN.

Will Close Sungari River to Navigation Unless China Explains Treaty.

PEKIN, July 2.—The Russian govern ment has demanded a declaration from China regarding the attitude of the government on the treaty of Aigun, and es pecially in the interest of Japan and others who seek the registration of vessels. Otherwise, Russia says, she will not consent to the opening of the Sungari River to international trade, General Horvath, the Russian administrator of Harbin, Manchuria, yesterday refused to recognize the Chinese maritime customs on the Sungari River at Harbin, Sansing and Lahasus.

HOLDS RUSSIA TO TREATY

China Orders Muscovite Merchants

to Leave Sungari Towns.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 2-A new source of conflict has arisen between the Russians and Chinese in Manchuria, ac-cording to private letters received here, affecting the right of foreigners to live outside the centers formally opened to foreign commerce. The Chinese show a disposition to follow up their victory in the Harbin administration question by holding the Russians strictly to treaty limits in their other privileges.

At the town of Sansing, an important center of the grain trade in northeastern Manchuria, which has for years been one the principal ports of call of the Rus sian steamers plying on the Sungari, Russian merchants have settled, interpreting the right of navigation conferred by the treaty of Aigun as covering also the privllege of residence. The Chinese authori-ties have now ordered them to leave. The Russian foreign office has as yet no information regarding this and therefore has taken no action.
