

RAIN SPOILS MUCH OF CELEBRATION

Small Boys and Picnickers Are Disappointed — Farmers and Firemen Happy.

PICNICS ARE HELD INDOORS

Few Parties Brave Downpour, but All Who Can Hold Jollity Under Cover—Peninsula Carries Out Programme in Spite of Wet.

Those who, out of deference for the seventh day, put off their observance of Independence day until the 8th, got little chance to engage in patriotic demonstration yesterday. The weather wasn't inclined that way.

The weather engaged in a celebration of its own which began early and lasted late, and which delighted the farmers immeasurably. Only the small boy and the picnicker were vastly disappointed. The rain fell mildly throughout the day and it was altogether valuable in view of the considerable period of warm weather that had preceded it. And for that matter it was July 5 anyway, and the sun was under no special obligation to shine.

Such celebration as occurred was assuredly sane in every sense. The volume of noise from firecrackers was greater than on the real Fourth (Sunday), but only an occasional bunch of crackers might be heard. Cannon crackers were largely missing, because of the law on the subject. Fireworks were fired abundantly but the display last night was anything but elaborate.

The chief distress of the showers fell on hundreds of picnickers. A score of organizations and clubs had made big plans for taking to the woods. Great baskets filled with good things to eat were in readiness but when the hapless picnickers awakened to find rain showers prevalent, some of them changed their minds about going. Scores of people went out anyhow, keeping under cover as much as possible. For the most part, though, the Monday picnics were spoiled. Down on the Peninsula, where enthusiasm is rampant on all public occasions, a celebration was attempted in spite of the rain. There was a parade in which Captain Moore, of the Police Department, and 25 men got somewhat wet, as did several hundred people who assembled for the Peninsula affair. The stretcher company had made elaborate preparations for carrying crowds into the country but the crowds failed to appear. Owners of stretcher stock were just a little inclined to grieve, for dozens of cars stood about on sidewalks. The picnic crowds were large enough to fill only the regular rolling stock. Business houses generally observed the belated Fourth and gave their employees a day off. But the holiday was spent chiefly in idling about home dreaming of the pleasant things that might have occurred had the sun been out.

MANY PICNICS HELD INDOORS

Numerous Events Scheduled for Day Have to Be Called Off.

Owing to the inclement weather yesterday many of the church picnics arranged were called off. Others, however, were carried through. At others, however, the rain. Several of the Catholic parishes held their celebrations inside the parish halls and these in every case were well attended.

At the Sacred Heart parish on the Milwaukee road were various games and races besides special music by a large orchestra and dancing. Several hundred people were in attendance. The people of St. Stephen's parish had planned a picnic to be held in the Ladd farm grove, but rain drove them back to the parish hall.

An excellent programme was held at the Columbia University grounds by the Holy Cross parish. The day was replete with games, sports, dancing and special music. The people of the Ascension parish went to Bonneville by steamer, where they were spent in the usual festive way. Several church picnics were called off on account of the rain. The young people of the First Presbyterian Church, unable to hold their picnic outside, gathered for a short period of festivities in the basement of the church.

The United Commercial Travelers, who had planned a big time at Tualatin Park, were forced to call it off.

What the Press Agents Say.

Tonight, Twelfth and Morrison Theaters. Tomorrow night, at 8:15 o'clock, with a matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:15, will be America's greatest actress, Mrs. Pike, and her splendidly supported company. In their latest play success, a comedy of the "Milk and Honey" type, they will be well to reserve your seats in advance.

Musical Comedy at the Lyric.

"The Murrigins of Mullivobullin" is the title of the Imperial Musical Comedy Company at the Lyric this week. There are a dozen song hits. You want to hear Ed Harrington and the beauty-bottlers sing "Meet Me Down at the Corner" and hear Clara Howard in "Mademoiselle New York." Matinee today.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Lily Lena at Orpheum. Charming, dainty, delicious little morsel, Lily Lena, is creating a great furor at the Orpheum this week. She is a direct importation from the London stage and easily outclasses any of her predecessors, due greatly, perhaps, to the daintiness of manner and the beautifully refined character of her selections.

Latest European Mystery—Fantasia.

Speaking of the weird and wonderful feats of the famous and original Swedish Trio, who are featured at the Fantasia Theater this week, a contemporary says: "scarcely is the audience allowed time to marvel at one astonishing exhibition before another of still more remarkable character is sprung upon them.

"The Bridal Chamber." "The Bridal Chamber" is a little the most mystifying of all the illusions which have been seen here in vaudeville. It is the masterpiece of Albert, the magician, who is the headliner on the current bill. Albert has created many illusions, but "The Bridal Chamber" is different from any of the others and is more puzzling.

Pictures at Star Theater. The motion picture depicting Washington crossing the Delaware in a raging snowstorm is being exhibited at every performance at the Star Theater. It is being talked of all over the city as the most wonderful and realistic picture ever thrown upon a screen in a moving-picture theater. The pianoforte solo work of John G. Karne is also a striking feature. The other pictures and the remainder of the programme are unusually clever. There will be an entire change of bill tomorrow.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"The Servant in the House." Seats are now selling at boxoffice the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets, for Henry Miller's Associate Players. They come to the city in the widely-discussed and sensational drama, "The Servant in the House." A special matinee will be given next Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

"The Blue Mouse" at the Lyric. What is reported to be one of the emphatic hits of the metropolitan season in theatricals is "The Blue Mouse," Clyde Fitch's adaptation from the German, which, with the largest cast ever used in a farce comedy, comes to the Lyric Theater next Monday. The play was intended for an audience to melancholy which purpose it is said to serve so well that the Lyric Theater, New York, where the Messrs. Shubert are showing one company, is packed nightly and standing room is sold at a premium. "The Blue Mouse" is described as a farce of the wildest description, and it moves so rapidly that it is said to be one of the most successful of one-droll situations before you are confronted with another that evokes even heavier laughter.

Marie Doro Next Monday. Beginning next Monday, July 12, and continuing the following three nights, Charles Frolova will present the brilliant American actress, Marie Doro, and her brilliant company, in the delightful comedy, "The Marquis of Maroon." Portland theater-goers are promised a rare treat in this happy offering.

CHAUTAQUA ON TODAY

OPENING EXERCISES WILL COMMENCE AT 10:30 O'CLOCK.

Splendid Programme and Easy Transportation Facilities Attracting Many People.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 5.—(Special.)—Chautauqua commences tomorrow morning the 12th annual assembly will open at 10:30 o'clock with music by the Indian band from the Chemawa Training School, followed by the invocation and address of welcome. Organization of the summer school will follow, with the usual announcements by the instructors.

The Chautauqua management this year is taking pride in what it terms "the most evenly balanced programme" ever given at Gladstone Park. The programme from day to day is so good that it is difficult to choose, and this is one of the reasons why several hundred people have decided to go to the park and camp, remaining during the entire session. The transportation facilities are unusually favorable this year, the park being reached by special service of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company and all of the regular trains of the Southern Pacific.

The coming of Dr. Frank G. Smith, of Chicago, who lectures next Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon, is eagerly anticipated by hundreds of people in the Willamette Valley who heard the distinguished orator two years ago. The famous cartoonist, Alton Packard, will appear here on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

The Chautauqua Summer School classes and the instructors are: 8 to 11 A. M.—Music, Mrs. E. Gillett; 8 to 11 A. M.—Athletics, Professor A. M. Miller; 9 to 10 A. M.—Indergarten, Miss L. F. Fawcett; 10 to 11 A. M.—Biology, Professor Albert R. Sweetser; 10 to 11 A. M.—Literature, Dr. C. H. Chapman; 10 to 11 A. M.—History, Professor W. J. Peugh; 10 to 11 A. M.—Congressman and Editor, Dora Dean McVittchee; 10 to 11 A. M.—Sociology, Professor W. J. Peugh; 10 to 11 A. M.—Bible study, Dr. E. H. Smith; 10 to 11 A. M.—Domestic Science, Mrs. Ellen Rawson Miller; 11 to 12 M.—Chautauqua, Mrs. Iva Emery Dye, leader; 3:30 P. M.—Problems of the Future, Visiting Nurses' Association of Portland.

PERSONAL MENTION.

United States Attorney McCort returned yesterday after a week's absence at Pendleton on Government business.

Sim Freiman, a prominent Elk and business man of Juneau, Alaska, is in Portland en route to the Elks convention at Los Angeles.

Ridgale Ellis, of Leicester, England, has made a special trip to spend his vacation with Lowell McAllen, son of Dan McAllen. Mr. Ellis was in the same fraternity as Lowell McAllen in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Ellis was captain of the cross-country team and a member of the Senior Honor Society, and was chosen as the one from his course to read his thesis at his graduation last June.

THROUGH SLEEPER

To Yellowstone Park.

It will be gratifying news to those who contemplate a visit to the Yellowstone National Park this season to know that the O. R. & N. and Short Line have arranged a through car service from Portland and intermediate points direct to Yellowstone Station so that the through trip can be made without change or interruption. The through sleeper leaves Portland daily on O. R. & N. No. 6, at 8 P. M., and arrives at Yellowstone the second day about noon. Secure tickets and make reservations at city ticket office, Third and Washington streets.

Will Build Schoolhouse.

The Harmony school district will erect a four-room modern schoolhouse this year. Plans for the building have been drawn and approved, and the contract will be let this week. It is proposed to complete the building for the opening of school in September. Cost is estimated at $5500. Taxes have been levied for two years to provide funds.

Tortured On A Horse.

"For ten years I couldn't ride a horse without being in torture from piles," writes L. S. Napier, of Eugene, Ky., "when all doctors and other remedies failed. Buckle's Arnica cured me." PARK'S DEDICATION

North Albina People Make Exercises Part of Celebration.

GAMES PREVENTED BY RAIN

Melvin Peugh and ex-Councilman Vaughn Discuss Benefits of Public Parks—Clubhouse on Boulevard Crowded by Audience.

With some inconvenience on account of the rain, the North Albina people held their celebration and dedicated their park yesterday. As it was a portion of the programme was omitted. At 10 A. M. the procession was formed on Killingsworth avenue, headed by a squadron of policemen followed by the Peninsula Band and the floats. It marched to Vancouver avenue and thence to the ground on Portland boulevard, recently secured for a park. Chairman J. H. Nolte opened the programme in the grove where the bandstand had been erected. There was music by the band, and prayer by Rev. D. A. Watters, followed by the reading of the Declaration of Independence by W. J. Peledcor.

The storm then broke with so much force that it was necessary to adjourn to the clubhouse on Portland boulevard, where the principal portion of the exercises was held. Here the band rendered several patriotic selections, and Melvin Peugh, representing the Portland Park Commissioners, delivered the park address and dedicated the park to the public. Mr. Peugh said that it was due to J. H. Nolte and Councilman W. T. Vaughn that the people of North Albina were able to assemble on their own park for the celebration, it being the first park that had actually been secured and paid for under the recent bond issue. "I want to say," continued Mr. Peugh, "that the purchase of parks is the best investment the people of Portland can make. The people of this city have said by their votes that they want parks and no man can stop the movement for public parks. I want to live to see the time when every householder in Portland will be within half a mile of a park. Fresh air and exercise are essential to the health and moral well-being of the young people. The appeal made by the Lower Albina woman in the Oregonian this morning tells the need of parks in this city, and now is the time to get them.

"New York recently paid $5,000,000 for 800 acres for a park and more recently paid another $5,000,000 for 210 acres. Boston leads the cities of the Union in parks. I want to say to the people of this section of Portland, keep the ball ground in this tract for the boys. Near here is a great high school house under construction. Keep the ball-ground for the boys. Don't ever drive them away. Parks are needed for the moral and physical well-being of the young people, and I only regret that this park is not larger. I only permit me to dedicate this park to the boys and girls and people of this neighborhood."

After music by the band ex-Councilman Vaughn was introduced and said in opening his address that he appreciated the reference that had been made to the acquisition of the beautiful park. He declared that while Portland is one of the most beautiful cities of the United States, it needs plenty of parks, and he complimented Chairman Nolte for the part he had taken in securing the first park out of the bond issue. Mr. Vaughn reviewed the growth of the Peninsula and Portland, and said he favored the park system.

"We have come together," said Mr. Vaughn, "without regard to church, creed or politics, and I am glad to note that religious prejudices in this country are fast fading away. It makes no difference whether a man be a Baptist, a Methodist, a Catholic or whether he be long to no church at all; he can be an honest and useful citizen. We have made strides toward religious and political liberty. The flag is an emblem of peace and not of war, and I have often wondered if the millions that are being expended in building up a great navy might

CHIEF COX ACTIVE

Petty Thievery Lessens Noticeably in Three Days.

SIMON POLICY IN FORCE

Lid Down on Gambling and Undesirable Men and Women Are Husted Promptly Out of Town. Saloons Must Obey Law.

Events of the past three days, covering the incumbency of Chief Cox as head of the Portland police department, evidence a material heaving to the line of the policy announced by Mayor Simon when he took the oath of office. The slogan of Chief Cox, as shown by activities of the past three days, is "Keep petty thievery down to the minimum, drive out the cadets and vagrants, suppress all forms of gambling, cause a general exodus of operators of illegitimate business and restrict the demimonde."

Although only three days have elapsed since Chief Cox took the helm, during this time no reports of the ordinary petty thievery, which during the month prior to his induction into the office enjoyed a carnival of prosperity, have come to police headquarters. The first official announcement of the department in reference to its disposition toward the conduct of unlawful houses by women was made yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, when Captain Moore, of the first night relief, gave instructions to his force that women are not to be molested unless eliciting on the street or from windows. In the same instructions, however, he informed the members of the department that it has been reported that many women who returned to Portland within the last few days brought men with them and that whenever it is found that a man is being provided with sustenance by a woman, he is to be arrested.

Members of the detective bureau have been especially busy during the past few days and arrests on vagrancy charges are frequent.

Gambling of all forms is likewise receiving attention. Two arrests were made yesterday of persons found with lottery tickets in their possession. Sergeant Kleinman and Patrolmen Raney and Stewart arrested seven men early yesterday morning in the rear of a saloon at 49 North Second street. Four were charged with playing poker, while the remaining three were arrested on charges of being in a gambling house. All will plead guilty. They were Steve Garrick, John Prokopczek, Joe Smolowski, L. Gust, Alexander Konoche, Mike Smith and Lawrence Sarwaski.

"People who have come to Portland with the idea that the town is to be thrown open to them for illegitimate purposes are mighty badly mistaken. I have given strict orders to all patrolmen to be on the lookout for such strangers and to find out about every man found idle in the city who is not known," said Chief Cox yesterday. "The saloonmen must observe the closing law. Any infraction of the regulations will not do the offender any good," he concluded significantly.

MORE ELKS ADD NAMES

Nearly 150 Now Ready to Go to Los Angeles Thursday.

Names are still being added to the list of Portland Elks who will attend the Grand Lodge reunion at Los Angeles next week. The list is now working gradually up towards the 150 mark. VACATION TIME IN COURTS

No More Jury Trials Until Opening of September Term.

Vacation time for the five judges of the Circuit Court has begun. There will be no more jury trials until the first week in September. Divorce cases will be heard every Friday, however, and emergency matters attended to. For this purpose a session of the court will be held every day, at least one judge being in attendance. During the absence of Presiding Judge Bronaugh, Judge Gantenbein will act as presiding judge. Then Judge Gantenbein will take a vacation, and Judges Cleland, Morrow and Gatens will also take a rest, after many strenuous months on the bench.

Although numerous suits have been filed in the Circuit Court, most of the attorneys desire to spend a part at least of the next two months out of the city, during the trial of cases on a regular order almost impossible before September.

Although subject to the call of the presiding judge, the county grand jury has adjourned until next month, when it will meet to take up any business which may have accumulated in the meantime. "I want to say," continued Mr. Peugh, "that the purchase of parks is the best investment the people of Portland can make. The people of this city have said by their votes that they want parks and no man can stop the movement for public parks. I want to live to see the time when every householder in Portland will be within half a mile of a park. Fresh air and exercise are essential to the health and moral well-being of the young people. INNES' BAND NEXT WEEK

Famous Musical Organization Will Be Heard on Multnomah Field.

Innes' Orchestral Band of New York accompanied by several soloists of the East, their engagement for the dedication of the Exposition at Seattle, will appear in a festival programme at Multnomah Field, on July 12 and 14.

Innes' Band has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name Innes has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art.

The services of the band are in constant demand. In fact, its principal work is being the giving of Festival celebrations in the big cities of the country.

Innes' Band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsing, of tireless effort on the part of Innes himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the band, and every man must pass a rigid examination before he is accepted as a member.
