PACIFIC MEETING ON BATTLEGROUND

America, France and Britain Pledge Peace at Ticonderoga.

TAFT RECALLS BATTLES

President Says Deeds of Great Conquerors Should Reduce Size of Modern Heads—Champlain Valley Our Belgium.

BLUF POINT, N. Y., July 6.—With the arrival of President Taft, of Ambassador Jusserand of France, of Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, of Secretary of War Dickinson and of Admiral Uriu of Japan, the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain, which had been confined during the past two days to the States of New York and Vermont, today took on an international scope and a world-wide interest.

Ambassadors Jusserand and Bryce and President Taft all committed their respective countries to policies of peace and, in the shadow of an old fortress that had witnessed some of the bloodiest battles in history, they expressed the hope that never again would the peace among the great nations of the world be interrupted by a war.

Reminders of Bloody Fights.

The President and Ambassadors were shown through the historic ruins of "Old Ti," as the natives call Fort Ticonderoga, which is now in course of restoration. Some of the old cannon were in place today and hundreds of rustic relics were on view. Some of these were reminders of the days of Indian conflicts; others were links of history leading back to the bloody fights of Montcalm, Abercrombie and Amherst, to the famous taking of the place by 83 American colonists under Ethan Allen and the naval battles that helped make famous the waters of the lake. Below the fort on the placid waters of the lake, and set among a flotilla of modern naval vessels of the smaller classes, was a replica of the Don de Dieu, the little craft of Samuel Champlain, the discoverer of the lake.

Never Again Will Fight.

The President tonight was the guest at dinner of Walter Witherbee on the latter's houseboat, which is anchored in the lake off this point. Tomorrow the scene of the celebration shifts to Plattsburg, where the President again will make a brief address and where Senator Root will deliver an historical oration.

M. Jusserand in his speech this afternoon was most felicitous in his expression of peace and good will toward America, toward Great Britain and toward all the world. Mr. Bryce said:

"Not until I visited the old fort yonder did I realize how many memories cluster about its ruins. But I cannot but believe that its creator meant this beautiful spot for something else than fighting and I trust it will never see fighting again."

Taft's Tribute to Discoverers.

Mr. Taft, speaking next, also took up the theme of peace. He said:

As I sat here listening to the interesting remarks of the Ambassador from France and the Ambassador from England I could not but congratulate the United States on the implied compliment that these two countries had paid her by sending here as the personal representatives of their respective chief executives men so distinguished in literature, in history, in statesmanship and in diplomacy.

Champlain was a man whom all nations honor, and his character brings out in the strongest way those wonderful qualities shown in the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries by Spaniards, Englishmen, Frenchmen and Portuguese, who braved the terrors of the sea and carried the standard of civilization into the farthest forests and into the dangers of the most distant tropics.

Reduce Swelling of Heads.

I think it is well for us to go back through this history of all nations in order that our heads, a little swelled with modern progress, may be diminished by the proper appreciation of what was done by nations before us, under conditions that seemed to limit the possibility of human achievement.

There were Montcalm and Wolfe, two great Christians, back to whom you trace the whole history of lower Canada. It is true that Wolfe conquered Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham, but there is still in all the region of lower Canada a population purely French, a population industrious, God-fearing and loyal to the flag under which they live. That fact is a compliment, not only to the far-seeing statesmanship of the colonial governors, but it is a compliment to the present industrial and democratic virtues of the French nation.

Battle Ground of Nations.

This valley, in the 300 years since it was discovered by Champlain, has furnished almost as much of a battle-ground for the three nations and the Indians, who were on all sides, as Belgium in Europe, and one does not have to look far for the reason. The truth is that it was the only passage-way and here were fought the battles for 200 years, which we now say are never to recur. I echo and emphasize the statements of the ambassadors and repeat their prayer that never again may this great valley be given a name in history by reason of its being the seat of bloody war.

The literary programme included brief addresses by Governor Hughes and Governor Prouty, an historical address, "The Story of Lake Champlain," by Dr. Hamilton W. Mable, of New York, and an original ballad entitled "Ticonderoga," by Percy MacKaye, of Cornish, N. H.

The Indian pageants were given during the afternoon and evening.

PIECE OF COAL STRIKES TRAIN

Window in Car Next to Taft's Is Broken.

NEW YORK, July 6.—President Taft arrived here at 3 o'clock this morning on a special train from Norwich, Conn., and went on to Albany, N. Y., to take part in the Lake Champlain tercentenary celebration.

A chunk of coal crashing through a window of the car immediately ahead of the car occupied by President Taft caused considerable excitement while the train was going through Stamford. A trainman attached to the special train was seated at the window and was slightly cut by the glass. Railroad men explained that the coal must have fallen from a heavily-laden train which the special was passing at the time.

Today 600 men were engaged in clearing the Colorado & Southern track in Clear Creek Canyon between Denver and Idaho Springs.

Scenes of pioneer day were re-enacted at Golden, Colo., when a score of freighting outfits were loaded with provisions and started across the hills for Idaho Springs and other mountain towns.

Tonight four blocks in the densely populated residence section of South Denver are flooded to a depth of two feet.

FLATHEADS' LAST DANCE

TRIBE HOLDS CELEBRATION OF PASSING INTO HISTORY.

Great Sun Dance to Be Given by Gaudily-Decked Braves on Rich Reservation.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 6.—(Special.)—About 1000 people witnessed the beginning of the three days' celebration by the Flathead Indians at the Saint Ignatius Mission today and hundreds of spectators will arrive at the reservation to witness the great sun dance, which will be given tomorrow for the last time in the history of the tribe.

About 700 members of the tribe participated in old-time pony races, contests of strength and skill and the first dance of thanksgiving at the mission today. The braves were decked out in their gaudiest war paint and costliest garments and, although the rain interfered with the enjoyment of spectators, it did not seem to mar the ardor of the red men.

This is the last big tribal gathering of the Flathead Indians in history. With the opening of the Flathead reseravation this Summer to the pale face settlers, the Flatheads will retire to the verdant ranch lands awarded them by the Government and the chiefs of the tribe declare today that for the first time in history this Independent tribe will be without tribal government. The celebration will continue Wednesday.

VESSEL IS LOST?

Missionary Schooner Abler Last Seen During Gale.

CARRIED SCORE OF PEOPLE

Was Bound From Seattle to Arctic Waters, and Is Reported Missing by Vessel Returning From Northern Regions.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The schooner Monterey, Captain Anderson, arriving here today from Kuskokwim, Alaska, reports the possible loss of the missionary schooner J. F. Abler and a score of lives. The Abler sailed from Seattle, June 9, with a crew of eight men and nine passengers, among them being James Nutter, of Alameda.

When the Monterey arrived at Bethel, to which place the Abler was bound, Captain Anderson was informed by Indian trappers that the missionary vessel had last been seen struggling in a heavy storm, some distance out at sea. The Monterey, with another small craft from the station, started out to search for the missing schooner, sailing for some distance up and down the coast, but saw no sign of the Abler. Captain Anderson says it is possible that the missing vessel has taken refuge at Bristol Bay.

SHIPPING MEN DOUBT REPORT

Say Abler Is Stout Craft and Has Passed Through Many Storms.

SEATTLE, July 6.—The schooner P. J. Abler sailed from Seattle June 9, with nine passengers and a crew of eight men under Captain Edward A. Born, of this city. When Mrs. Born was told this afternoon of the report of the Abler's peril she said she felt no alarm, for the ship was stout and her husband was a skilful navigator and knew the northern waters well.

Shipping men do not think the Abler is lost. She was on her way north to act as a tender to the ship Elwell, which was sent by the United States Government with 3000 tons of supplies for the scattered Government schools along the Alaska Coast. The Elwell cannot deliver the supplies on account of there being no deep water landings and the Abler is to take the goods from the Elwell to shore. The passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and three men named Wyman, Hosmer and Graham, all bound for the Kusquim River gold diggings.

The Abler was under charter to the United States-Alaska School Bureau, which refuses to believe she is lost.

Among the passengers was Mrs. Anna C. Rehmel, of Washington, Ia., a Government teacher. The Abler was built for the rough seas of the North, was noted as a good sailer, and on one occasion when a Russian cruiser dared not venture to cross Behring Sea on account of bad weather, the Abler took the warship's mail and passengers and made the voyage.

WILL NOT AID IMMIGRANTS

Glassworkers Oppose Government's Sending Them West.

NEW YORK, July 6.—At the annual convention of the Flint Glassworkers' Union of North America in Brooklyn today a communication was received from the National Liberal Immigration League, urging the convention to persuade the National Government to furnish free transportation westward for in-coming aliens, thereby relieving the congestion of labor in Eastern cities.

Delegates from the West opposed the plan, on the ground that Western cities are already sufficiently occupied with the problem of caring for their unemployed and do not desire to be official dumping grounds for unskilled alien labor.

DEATH LIST GROWS SLIGHTLY LARGER

Complete Returns of 'Fourth' Casualties Bring Total to Nearly Hundred.

PHILADELPHIA LEADS ALL

In Spite of Increase, However, Record for Three Days Does Not Reach 50 Per Cent of Former Total Killed.

CHICAGO, July 6.—(Special.)—Revised reports of the harvest of death and injuries due to the three-days' celebration of the National birthday show the toll is heavy, but is still less than one-half the number killed last year. Reports to date show 76 dead and 2774 injured, and returns from picnics and other small celebrations in remote places will likely be accompanied with casualty lists.

The number of injured is still less than one-half the number last year, and the fire loss shows marked improvement over preceding years. The figures prove that the "sane and safe" idea is taking hold of the entire country.

By cities the revised list of deaths reported to date is:

400 INJURED AT PITTSBURG

Smoky City Pays Heavy Toll to So-Called Patriotism.

PITTSBURG, July 6.—The total fire loss, according to the underwriters of Pittsburg, due to the Independence day celebration, is estimated today at $50,000. This does not include losses less than $100.

The death list from accidents by exploding fireworks remains at one. An infant was killed while the mother was watching a pyrotechnical display at Schenley Park. A skyrocket struck the baby on the head, fracturing its skull. The baby died 10 minutes later.

The list of injured in and about Pittsburg will total close to 400. Of this number there may be several deaths. All previous records in the number of passengers hauled by the street railway companies were broken yesterday.

The hair-raising impromptu feat of an ironworker who climbed out on the narrow thread cable that swung 200 feet high between the Frick building and the Courthouse tower, when the largest flag in the world refused to unfurl, caused a small panic among the hundreds of watchers below. As the ironworker slid and swung out over the street in his effort to break the flag to the wind, several women fainted.

MATCH IS EVEN BREAK

BERG AND YOUSIFF MEET ON EQUAL TERMS.

Records Show There Is Little to Choose From Between Principals in Friday Bout.

Jack Curley, the Seattle promoter, who is sponsoring the big wrestling match in Exposition rink next Friday night, telephoned last night that John Berg, the European light heavyweight champion, had left for Portland and would be here today to train for his match with Big Yousiff, the Terrible Turk. Yousiff will leave Seattle some time today, desiring to get on the ground early in order to get a few whiffs of Willamette Valley ozone before he goes on the canvas with the Swede.

A comparison of the records of Berg and Yousiff is the ground for much interesting figuring. It took Roller an hour and a half on each occasion to throw the Ottoman in their two bouts last month. Friday night, when Charley Olson failed to arrive in Seattle for his bout with Roller, Berg was induced to go on against the big Seattle medico. Roller had a hard time in throwing Berg, indicating that the latter is a far different man when working with a pair of sound ankles beneath him. It took Roller an hour and a half to pin Berg's shoulders down. A strange thing about the match was that the second bout lasted just twice as long as the first. Ordinarily the second fall does not take longer than 20 minutes, and sometimes not over five. Berg lasted one minute over an hour with Roller the second time, which is going some, inasmuch as Roller outweighed Berg about 30 pounds.

It will be seen, therefore, that Berg and the Ottoman are so evenly matched that a grand battle may be expected. Berg is every inch a fighter, and it will take some fast going on the part of the Turk to throw him. Berg will be outweighed about ten pounds, but he expects to overcome that with his speed. It has long been conceded that Berg is one of the fastest wrestlers in the business. His speed has enabled him to beat a lot of good men.

While it is generally acknowledged that the Turkish grapler is the stronger and has a large knowledge of wrestling science, friends of Berg figure that he has a good chance to beat the dark-skinned bonebreaker.

Curley, who has never before visited Portland during his long career in the sporting world, will come down Friday to watch the match and meet the local sport-loving population.

WOLF SECOND WINS RACE

PORTLAND MOTOR-BOAT FASTEST ON PACIFIC COAST.

Leads Pacer, of Seattle, in Thirty-Mile Course, by 4 Minutes, 37 2-5 Seconds.

Seattle, Wash., July 6.—(Special.)—The Wolff II, Captain Spencer, and Captain J. W. Wolff, today proved itself the fastest motorboat on the Pacific Coast, by defeating the Pacer in the second day's racing held under the Seattle Motorboat Association over a 30-mile course on Lake Washington.

As the result of today's races the Wolff II wins undisputed championship and praise on every hand is heard for the speedy Portland boat. In spite of bad weather, the Wolff II and the Pacer put up a game contest.

The Wolff made the 30 miles in 1:01:07 4-5, which was 4 minutes 37 2-5 seconds faster than the time of the Pacer, of Seattle. The Portland boat won Saturday's race and by coming out ahead again today made a third race unnecessary.

Wolff and Spencer had no trouble with their boat, and are jubilant over their victory.

TAKES SHOT AT PRIEST

Female Fanatic Shows Dislike, but Aims Badly.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 6.—An attempt to assassinate the Rev. Joseph F. Gillis, a priest connected with St. Mary's Cathedral, was made today as the priest was on his way to celebrate mass at St. Mary's Academy. The police arrested Miss Beatrice Thompson, an artist, aged 40 years, charging her with assault with intent to kill. The woman, according to Rev. Father Gillis, came out of her house as he was passing through the street and fired a revolver at him, the bullet passing through an umbrella which he was carrying.

A year ago she wrote a letter to the mayor making charges against priests and nuns which were found to be unwarranted.

THE COLUMBIA RIVER VALLEY

The Fruit Basket of the World

A poor man has a small chance of ever becoming wealthy in the Far Eastern States. Even in the Middle West the openings are becoming scarce and many energetic men see that they can better themselves by coming to the Northwest. Some who have come West find they have not sufficient knowledge of the country to be able to locate at once in a business which will pay them well. If you are of this number, why not investigate the district which has more openings and opportunities for men of small or large capital than any other section of the Northwest?

The Columbia River Valley cannot be surpassed as a desirable place to live when you consider the many lines of business that are still needed, the large population which will surely settle here, and the vast increase which will follow any small investment made at this time.

It will pay you to look into the conditions in this land of opportunity. Kennewick and Pasco are already the important commercial centers of this district. For information concerning openings in all lines of business address
