New Move for Independence.

Offering an amendment declaring the intention on the part of the United States eventually to grant indepen-dence to the Filipinos, Johnston, of Alabama, insisted upon the importance of such a declaration at this time. In this he was upheld by Newlands, who said he would insist upon the presence of a quorum.

"This amendment is offered," said Johnston, "because the Philippine dele-gates in the House fear free trade be-tween these islands and the United States will make permanent our possession of the Islands. God Almighty has put the Filipinos as far as he could from the United States and the Filipinos now wish he had put them still further away."

Determined to speak, Newlands called for a quorum and, offering a new declara-tion for Philippine independence, proceeded to address the empty chairs and abandoned desks of the chamber, the quorum having disappeared even before it was announced. Newlands finally with-drew his amendment and the Philippine tariff bill was passed.

Following the disposal of the Philippine bill, the bill to provide revenues for Porto Rico was taken up and passed. A number of bills were introduced, one by Filint providing for the admission of Arizona as a state.

Passes Budget After Depew Explains Island Politics.

WASHINGTON, July 9 .- Providing WASHINGTON, July 9.—Providing funds for the Porto Rican government, which had been left without an appropriation as the result of dissensions among the island leaders, the Senate today passed without amendment the House bill automaticily continuing the Porto Rican budget. In the debate Mr. Denew said that there was no doubt Depew said that there was no doubt the Porto Rican House of Delegates had confined its attention to the budget, and had not meddled with revolution-ary legislation.

"The whole trouble," said Mr. Depew, "grows out of anxiety on the part of a few who are in control of the political parties.

"The Union party desires for the government of the island an autonomy something like that of Canada, while the Republican party has for its platform the creation of Porto Rico into a state and its admission to the Union. Authorities, official and general, who have visited the island and studied conditions there are united in the opinion that the people are not ready for such that the people are not ready for such a government as is desired by the one party, or for admission to statehood.

Mr. Culberson offered an amendment terminating the application of the bill to the Porto Rican government on July 1, 1810. Mr. Culberson's amendment was yoted down.

The bill as it came from the Senate was condemned by Townsend of Michigan. As it left the House, he said, it complied for the most part with the Republican pledges, but now, he deciared, "you would hardly recognize it Republican pledges, but now, he de-clared, "you would hardly recognize it if you met it in the road."

Townsend created a stir when he de-clared that in the course of the debates in the Senate the House and the ways and means committee had been in-suited. He insisted that the bill ought to be controlled by the House, subject to such recommendations as the Senate rightfully could metal.

to such recommendations as the Senate rightfully could make, and not by a conference committee.

The bill, in the opinion of Fitzgerald, was about as bad a piece of legislation as it would be possible to make in any legislative body. He hopes there would be aroused throughout the country a resentment such as would make it impossible to put some of the Senate amendments into effect.

Mann of Illinois protested vehemently against the amendments fixing the duties on wood pulp and print paper. There were but two states which would benefit by such a protection, declared Mann.

The ice having been thus broken, Davidson of Wisconsin and Douglas of Ohio

DENIES POLYGAMY

Man Held in Bay City as Madson, Professional Bridegroom, Admits Bigamy.

POLICE SEEK CONFESSION

Officials Are Sure "Christian C. Johnson" Is Man Who Defrauded Over Score of Women in America.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.-Christian C. Johnson, the man arrested here two days ago on charges of having defrauded Mrs. H. Leopold out of $600 following his mar riage to her, and who, the police declare, is John Madson, the husband of a score or more of wives scattered throughout this country and Canada, stoutly maintained today his denial that he was Mad-

He admitted his marriage to Mrs. S. P. Bennett, of this city, however, and the police declare that they are certain that he will admit that he is Madson before the day is over. The detective bureau has been flooded today with inquiries concerning Johnson, or Madson, and a steady stream of accusations of bigamy was laid before the prisoner.

Prisoner Stays Cheerful.

Johnson appeared cheerful under the gathering data on his alleged extensive matrimonial career, and his face at times idicated that he found a little amuse-ient in the general disturbance his arrest has caused. No new names of eithe places or alleged wives were brought to light during the day, inquiries received all being in regard to cases mentioned yesterday.

'I am not Madson," the prisoner shouted at the detectives. "Whoever says I am deliberately lies. I never even heard of Madson. I de-cided that the best policy was to tell the truth when I was arrested, and I am telling it when I say that I am not Madson and am married to only two women.

List of Victims.

The women whom Madson married are: Mrs. Elizabeth N. El Jackson, of Iola, Kas., from whom he is said to have se-cured $1400; Mrs. Minnie Allen, 1418 Madi-son street, St. Louis, from whom he seured $450 and a diamond ring; Mrs. Richardson, St. Louis, who lost $290 before Madson disappeared; Mrs. Katherine Bauman, St. Louis, who lost $1000; Mrs. Maggie E. Bloom, Hannibal, Mo, who sold her home for Madson; Mrs. F. A. Farran, Rocheport, Mo., from whom he secured $2000. Mrs. State Delay. secured $2000; Mrs. Silvia Pollard de Bonnett, San Francisco, who lost her home as a result of the wedding; Mrs. Henriette Leopoid, San Francisco, who lost $620; Mrs. Jessie Tretheway, Stockton, Cal., who threw him out of her house when he attempted to becrow. attempted to borrow Mary Wiggins Brown, Springfield, Mass.,

Besides the women to whom the records show he was married, he was either engaged or married to women in the following cities: San Francisco, 3: Oakland, Cal., 2; Memphis, Tenn.; Lawrence, Kan.; Juneshore, Ark, Sartina, Lawrence, Kan.; Jonesboro, Ark.; Santa Rosa, Cal.; Get-tysburg, O.; New Orleans, La.; St. Joe, Mich.; Hamilton, Ont., and Germany. The strange history of Madson, who is an aged man, extends over only a few months, but in that time he married or luped 24 women, whose names are known to the police. Almost without exception, his victims have been widows or divorced women of middle age. Madson may be taken for trial to Stockton, where one of his wives resides, but in the meantime
