

GIRL EXHIBITED AS NEAR MARTYR

Ella Gingles, Escorted to Pulpit, Is Subject of Pastor's Praise.

DEFENSE FUND INCREASED

Rev. R. Keene Ryan Bitterly Denounces State's Prosecutor of "Left-Handed" Laccemaker Accused of Thefts.

CHICAGO, July 11.—(Special.)—Attorney Patrick H. O'Donnell today increased the Ella Gingles defense fund $500 by exhibiting the little "left-handed" laccemaker before a meeting of Orangemen at the Boulevard Presbyterian Church, Miss Gingles, whose spectacular trial on the charge of stealing lace from her employer, Miss Agnes Barrette, was carried, was the subject of the church and proclaimed a near-martyr by the pastor, Rev. R. Keene Ryan.

The minister, using all the adjectives at his command, defended the accused girl, denounced her accusers as moral hypocrites and denounced the police and Assistant State's Attorney Benedict J. Short. Passing over events of Miss Gingles' life and ignoring the record of her trial, Mr. Ryan declared that the girl was good and innocent, and asserted that she had not been caught in one falsehood during the whole course of her ordeal on the witness stand under the "inhuman and brutal treatment" and "pitiless brutality" of Mr. Short. Dramatically laying his hand on the shoulder of Miss Gingles, the preacher referred to a similar act that was once performed by the lamented Henry Ward Beecher in behalf of a negro slave girl named Miss Gingles as a girl who had been saved from a life of "white slavery."

Eugene Y. M. C. A. Has $50,000 Building Under Construction.

EUGENE, Or., July 11.—(Special.)—The cornerstone of Eugene's $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building was laid this afternoon at 3 o'clock by President Campbell of the University of Oregon. An address was also made by Ivan B. Rhodes, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

The campaign for the funds for this building was one of the most noted in the history of the Y. M. C. A. work, the full $50,000 being raised in the short period of eight days. This came as the result of a carefully organized and systematic canvass of the entire resident and business districts of the city. The average subscription of $5 for every man, woman and child in Eugene.

The building itself is to be second to none in the entire Pacific Northwest outside of Portland and will contain every convenience known to such a building. It will be ready to open in the Fall. Professor Terrill, formerly instructor in the department of mining engineering in the University of Oregon, and for the last year in the University of Idaho, has been secured as secretary.

UPPER AIR TO BE STUDIED

Observatory to Be Erected on Mount Whitney, 14,000 Feet High.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—A meteorological and astronomical observatory at an altitude of about 14,000 feet is to be erected on Mount Whitney by the Smithsonian Institution. The work of preparing the trail up the mountain over which the material will be transported by pack-mules is already under way. It is expected the station, which will be temporary, will be completed by September 1, when Professor W. W. Campbell and Professor Allen, of the Lick Observatory will go to Mount Whitney to make spectroscopic observations.

Data will also be gathered on the atmosphere at this altitude. Professor Alexander G. McCadde, in charge of the local Weather Bureau, stated today that while the proposed station on Mount Whitney would be a very fine shelter, it is hoped it will be the beginning of an observatory which in time will contribute materially to the solution of the problems of the upper air.

Two of the men were working in a tunnel on the 45-foot level when their engine suddenly exploded, killing Edward Hoyt and Roy Barr almost instantly. A. J. Elton, who was at the top of the shaft when the accident occurred, at once ran down the ladder to help his companions, but was overcome by the gasoline fumes and died before assistance arrived.

TIMBER NOT PLENTIFUL

OBJECTIONS RAISED TO STATEMENTS OF WEYERHAEUSER.

Spokane Lumbermen Insist He Is Mistaken and Overestimates Increase of Forest Growth.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 11.—(Special.)—Lumbermen of Spokane were aroused by statements of Frederick Weyerhaeuser, president of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, of Seattle, that the timber supply of the United States is inexhaustible. They are free to express themselves that Weyerhaeuser is mistaken and overestimates the value and amount of the natural increase of timber on land.

J. A. Torney, former superintendent of the United States Forestry Service, says that the value of the stumpage regions of the Central West is $20 per thousand feet, in Michigan $15 to $13 and in Minnesota from $5 to $12. Stumpage of the same kind here sold for $1. In many parts of that country where timber was worthless a few years ago, the stump land has become valuable.

FREIGHT HITS HANDCAR

TWO DEAD, 11 OTHERS ARE SERIOUSLY HURT.

Accident Occurs in Sharp Curve in Colorado Canyon—Nineteen Tossed Into Air.

BAILEYS, Colo., July 11.—A handcar and an attached pushcar on which 19 persons were riding collided on a curve in Platte Canyon tonight with a Colorado & Southern freight train. Two persons were killed, two perhaps fatally injured and 11 seriously hurt.

The handcar was going down a steep grade at the rate of 45 miles an hour. The party was returning from a baseball game at Shawnee. There were several women in the party, most of whom were Eastern tourists spending the Summer at Baileys.

When the cars struck the engine all the 19 persons were thrown into the air, most of them striking outside the rails. The freight train was stopped and took the injured and dead back to Baileys, where a special train was ordered from Denver to take the injured to Denver hospitals.

CHAUTAUQUA GROUND, Gladstone Park, July 11.—The first real ideal day of the 16th annual session, so far as weather is concerned, brought a big Sunday crowd to Gladstone Park today, and they were amply repaid by the attractiveness of the programme.

Old Jupiter Pluvius retired, after his week's grouch, and from barometric indications he will be seen no more until after the close of Chautauqua at least. The assembly officials are tickled over the weather and the outlook for the coming week. Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning the first Sunday school took place in the auditorium, and this was followed by the forum hour. Alexis Abdullah Ben Kori, professor of modern languages in Pacific University, and a recent subject of the Sultan, talked on "The Recent Upheaval in Turkey." His audience became intensely interested in his recital of the wrongs of the subject of Abdul Hamid.

Music by the Chautauqua Chorus preceded the afternoon programme, and a vocal duet was rendered by Miss Grace Keller, of Cincinnati, O., and Thomas J. Pennell, of Seattle. Their number was "The Crucifix" (Faure), and was admirably rendered. The chorus has been drilled less than a week by Mr. Pennell, but delighted the audience with the rendition of Barnaby's "Oh, How Amiable."

Packard Gives Sermon Lecture. Alton Packard made his last appearance this afternoon, with a sermon lecture. Mr. Packard is no preacher in the theological sense, but his talk, well illustrated, was far more interesting than many sermons have been. His subject was "Ideals," and some of the best work he has ever done was given to the audience. The ideal influence in life and the importance of high and lofty ideals were portrayed by Mr. Packard in caricature. The ideal of the small boy in Jim Jeffrey, the mistaken ideal of money-getting, and the intellectual ideal, interested Mr. Packard's hearers. His plea on the ideal beauty and the ideal ugliness were features of the afternoon lecture.

The Chautauqua Chorus tonight rendered Hall's "Oh Lord, My Trust Is in Thy Mercy." Miss Georgia Cross appeared as the soloist. The lecture by Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis was along temperance lines, with the topic of "Congressional Glimpses." Mrs. Ellis, who drew a large number of people at Saturday's forum, is an entertaining speaker and is thoroughly at home with any subject. This was W. C. T. U. day at the park and hundreds of white ribbons were on the grounds.

Montaville Flowers is taking up in his class in elocution a number of poems of different types to develop in students the power of thought analysis. He is teaching the necessity of variation of voice and manner, phrasing and emphasis and technical means of doing this. Mr. Flowers will give his recital of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" tomorrow evening, and on Wednesday night he, with the Misses Grace and Luella Keller, will give a recital.

Special Music Today.

The Knickerbocker Quartet, of San Francisco, comes to Chautauqua tomorrow night for the first time. This musical organization will remain during the entire week. Its members are among the leading people in the musical world in the Bay City.

At the W. C. T. U. Round Table tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock there will be a mothers' meeting, at which Mrs. J.

along splendidly, with a regular attendance in excess of any previous assembly, the afternoon and evening programme particularly crowding the great Chautauqua Tabernacle to its capacity. The speakers are delighting the people.

Sunday as usual was given over to great religious gatherings in which all denominations united, sending up a mighty outburst of religious enthusiasm.

Tomorrow (Monday) is Patriotic day, when Dr. McClure, himself a Civil War veteran, will deliver a G. A. R. address, his subject "The March to the Sea." In the afternoon, with Dr. Smith discussing "The Hero of the Age" at the evening session, which will be followed by a "Camp Fire."

The various classes are all down to business and doing good work. There is a Boys' Club under competent instruction, a Bible study class, literature class, Girls' Club, adult chorus, American history Tabernacle to its capacity. The speakers are delighting the people.

Marie Doro at Bungalow Tonight. The attraction at the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets, tonight at 8:15 o'clock and continuing tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday nights, will be the brilliant and charming American actress, Marie Doro, and her exceptionally good supporting company, in the delightful comedy, "The Mervels of Marcus." The favorite and talented star is presented by the well-known theatrical manager, Charles Frohman.

"The Blue Mouse" Tonight. Clyde Fitch's latest comedy success, "The Blue Mouse," opens at the Lyric tonight for a run of one week, with a special matinee Saturday. Messrs. Schubert, in sending out this company from New York, placed at its head dainty Miss Eisa Ryan, the charming actress, whose tour across the continent has been one of triumph. "The Blue Mouse" is a comedy to make you young again, a scream from cartoon to cartoon, and is excellent and the production a far simile of the one now used in the New York Lyric Theater.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

All-Star Bill at Orpheum. Beginning with the usual matinee this afternoon and continuing throughout the week, the Orpheum will offer another of those all-star bills for which this popular playhouse is so justly famous. The headliner this week is Watson's Farmyard Circus, a quaint novelty act, introducing animals and fowls and is one of the most intensely interesting acts on any stage.

Grand Has Many Hits. With the matinee this afternoon the Grand will offer a new programme of vaudeville, with every act a feature. Miss Eva Mudge will headline the bill with her famous quick-change specialty. Miss Mudge can change costumes faster than any other woman. "Mrs. Potter's First" is a sketch which is a continuous chuckle.

Two Headlines at Pantages. Again there will be two headliner acts at the Pantages this week. They are the French troupe of five wonderful acrobats and Huntress, the great character impersonator and drapery dancer. This is the most beautiful act in vaudeville. Follow the crowds—Fourth and Stark.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Three Weeks" Next Week. Beginning next Sunday, July 18, and continuing the entire week, with a special matinee Saturday, the attraction at the Bungalow Theater will be the clever actress, Beryl Hope, and a competent company, in the sensational drama, "Three Weeks." This widely discussed book has been one of the season's greatest surprises from a dramatic standpoint.

LIFE IN NAVY SHOWN AT STAR.

Educational Film Is Headline Feature of This Week's Bill. Big and well-pleased crowds attended yesterday's continuous performances at the Star Theater, where the headline feature was a striking animated picture of "Life in the National Navy." This series of pictures told in an interesting and instructive manner of the experiences and adventures of a lad who enlisted in this branch of the Government service and rose from the ranks to become an officer, winning a wife as a fitting conclusion to a splendid story. "Life at Last" is a dramatic story well told and graphically acted. "Trained Falcons" shows how hunting in France is conducted with the use of the speedy falcon. To vary and blend the programme proper the management has put on a rattling farce telling all about a very funny tramp, trials and tribulations until his sorrow and by a visit to hobo hotel where he finds comfort. The entire series of pictures is far above the average and the musical and special features were fully up to standard. The management furnishes something new in the way of splendid character songs. The matinee today will be special for the presentation of a number of Biblical subjects and tomorrow's matinee will be given over to offering request subjects such as the public may call for.
