

STRIKERS RESIST HAWAIIAN OFFICERS

Eighteen Taken Prisoners After Mob of 200 Surrounds Sheriff and Police.

HURRY CALL FOR AID SENT

Fresh Outbreak of Labor Trouble Nearly Causes Riot 20 Miles From Honolulu, and Armed Guards Now Keep Watch.

HONOLULU, July 12.—Eighteen Japanese prisoners were brought in from the Waimanalo plantation, 20 miles from here, tonight and lodged in the city jail, where they will probably be charged with resisting an officer as a result of a riot which occurred at the plantation today.

County Sheriff Jarrett, with a strong force of police from Honolulu, summoned to his assistance to disperse the mob of strikers, remained on guard at the plantation for the night. Two hundred strikers were holding a meeting when the police left with their prisoners, but a telephone message from Jarrett late tonight said that everything was quiet, and he did not expect further trouble.

Strikers Engage in Riot. The Japanese laborers at the plantation went out on strike early today, Jarrett hastened to the scene at once, anticipating trouble. He found that the strikers had assaulted several of their fellow countrymen who persisted in working. Jarrett arrested five of the men he believed to be ringleaders in the attack and started to take them to Honolulu by automobile.

The other strikers gathered around him in a threatening manner and he abandoned his plan, taking his prisoners to the office building of the plantation mill, surrounded the building, Jarrett ordered Honolulu for assistance and prepared to fight it out.

As soon as the message was received here a squad of mounted deputies under command of High Sheriff Chester Doyle started for the plantation, and four autos followed with police armed with rifles. On their arrival they found a mob of nearly 500 Japanese about the mill office but no attack had been made on Jarrett. The deputies and the police plunged through the crowd which offered no resistance and joined Jarrett.

Doyle and Jarrett summoned several of the known leaders of the strikers and after a short conference with them men the crowd about the building dispersed. Jarrett's prisoners and 12 others taken by the force that came to his aid were placed in the automobiles with enough men to guard them and were taken to Honolulu.

Officers Keep Guard. Doyle, Jarrett and most of the deputies of the police remained to guard the plantation and prevent any violence. Doyle addressed the strikers in Japanese, telling them that it was a serious offense to resist an officer in the discharge of his duty. His words caused many of the Japanese to withdraw.

It is charged that there has been no lessening of the picket system since Judge Robinson last issued his injunction restraining the strikers from interfering with any laborers last week. The system established by the former strike managers at Oahu, Waipahu and other plantations is still maintained, according to the officers, and there has been no alteration in the conduct of the private police of the strikers.

Citations for contempt of court growing out of the utter disregard of the restraining order are now being prepared by the attorneys.

MADSON SENT TO PRISON

POLYGAMIST PLEADS GUILTY AND GETS SEVEN YEARS.

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 12.—Christian Johnson, believed to be the notorious bigamist, "Madson," was today sentenced by Judge Welch in the Superior Court here to serve seven years in the state prison at San Quentin.

When Johnson was arraigned this afternoon, he gave as his true name Christian C. Johnson, and immediately pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy.

His attorney, Jacob S. Meyer, made a plea for leniency after the sentence had been pronounced. Mrs. Trethewey's attorney obtained an order from the court enjoining Johnson from disposing of his diamond ring and other personal effects pending her suit against him.

In addition to the criminal charges against Johnson, Mrs. Trethewey has brought suit against him for $10,000. She alleges that she went to considerable expense preparing for her marriage and that she mortgaged her house and land to raise money for the wedding. She asks for attorney's fees in the sum of $1000. An attempt is being made by Mrs. Trethewey's attorneys to locate Johnson's trunks and any other property he may possess.

Johnson insists that he was married to but three women—Mrs. Henrietta Leopold, Mrs. Sylvia de Bonnet and Mrs. Trethewey.

Baker Theater, July 22 and 23, under the auspices of Multnomah Branch No. 22 of the National Association of Letter-Carriers, representing the carriers in the local postoffice. The entertainment is to be given for the purpose of raising a fund to enable the Portland delegation to attend the National convention, which meets in St. Paul, Minn., August 26 to September 6, inclusive.

Six delegates will represent Portland at the coming meeting, which is to consider several questions of importance to its members. Chief of these is the proposition to bring before Congress the advisability of granting pensions to superannuated carriers. The establishment of an open-air sanatorium near Denver will also be discussed. Portland's delegation is as follows: H. E. Coleman, John G. Francis, W. J. Dougherty, W. F. Brown, A. D. Kraus and C. H. Dunagan. S. Roark, of the local branch, is chairman of the committee on constitutional laws of the National Association and will also attend the St. Paul meeting. It is the intention of members of the delegation to take with them a large amount of Oregon advertising literature for distribution among the delegates from other sections.

The musical comedy to be given by the local branch is the same as was given at Seattle by members of the American Institute of Banking during their recent convention at the A-Y-P Fair. The arrangements are in the hands of T. P. Getz.

FREE 10 YEARS, CAUGHT

W. A. KING, OREGON CONVICT, RETURNING TO PRISON.

Changing His Name, Man Had Wooded and Wed and Became Father of Child.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 12.—(Special.)—Escaped from the Oregon penitentiary for ten years, married and prospered and the father of an 18-month-old child, William A. King, alias William Yost, is being brought to the Spokane County Jail, tonight, after having been tracked for a week and caught by Sheriff A. O. Fallang, of Big Timber, Mont., Saturday.

His capture reveals for the first time his true identity and life story to the girl he wooed and won in the wilds of Montana. She followed her husband here and will make her home in Portland while he is in prison.

King was convicted of wronging a girl in Baker County, was made a trustee in prison and after half a year of near-liberty, escaped. To further foil detectives he sent for his brother, Edward King, and installed him in his home under the name Edward Yost. When intoxicated in a Montana saloon he let drop a clew to personal enemies regarding his story. King confessed when captured. James knew King as a boy and was in business in Baker County when King was but a strapping teen.

Rosebrook's band will render the following program at the Chapman Square tonight at 8 o'clock:

March, "The Banner," Von Blon; Overture, "Orenbach," "Hearts and Flowers," Tobani; waltz, "Go! Go! Sunset," Hall; "Scenes From 'Carmen,'" Bizet; intermission; two popular two-step, (a) "Society Swan," Fredstone; (b) "Rainbow," Wenrich; cornet solo by Rosebrook; "Rose's Honeymoon," Whitney; (c) Mexican dance "Palmetto," (d) "Patrol of the Blue Coats," Merritt; airs from the musical play, "Time, Love and Girl," Howard; Star-Spangled Banner.

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE. GOOD morning, pretty little Miss Marie Doro. You have captured this town and with our best bow we capitulate.

One of the newest of feminine stars made her first local appearance at the Bungalow last night in a charming comedy, "The Morals of Marcus," and completely won a representative audience by her infinite winsomeness and undeniable cleverness as a comedienne of the sprituelle type. Her performance had the effect of opening a window and letting a breath of fresh air into a superheated atmosphere that has long since become a newcomer to the stage has been so well known. Another Maude Adams she would seem, for her personality and methods suggest Miss Adams strongly, without a suspicion of imitation.

Through acts of temperate enjoyment, the course of "The Morals of Marcus" runs to a pleasant denouement. It is a dramatization of an English novel which had a great vogue abroad, but has been little read here. It concerns the dilemma, sometimes amusing and sometimes serious, of a middle-aged London baronet, who finds his bachelor home invaded by a quaint little sprite of a girl, who has been kidnapped from Asia Minor and left to her own resources in England. She makes her entrance by crawling through a hedge and into the garden of Sir Marcus, the most woe-begone little tatterdemalion you'd meet in a long journey. The bewildered Marcus, who has scandalizing his designing female relatives, gives the girl a home. Eventually he adopts her, much against his will, and after a process of veneering, many sprightly experiences and an adventure which almost becomes tragedy, she inactivates her pretty self into the case-hardened heart of the pedantic baronet and the echo of wedding bells is heard afar. It is a clean, capital play of contemporary life.

Miss Doro is fortunate in having for her leading man Edwin Arden, a thoroughly finished actor, who plays Marcus with certainty. His representation and subtlety in one of his best performances. Also in the cast, playing the role of Mrs. Ordeyne, a pompous, title-hunting dowager, is Marie Wainwright, whose fame as an actress of highest ability is a matter of common knowledge. With an exception or two the rest of the cast is quite sufficient.

The play runs until Thursday night.

PERSIAN REBELS ENTER TEHRAN

Vigorous Fighting Follows in City Streets and Shah Is Near-Fugitive.

HOLY WAR PROCLAIMED

After Last Effort to Negotiate, Nationalists Declare Shah Is Non-Moslem and Call Faithful to Fight.

TEHRAN, July 12.—One thousand Nationalists entered Teheran at 6 o'clock this morning by three gates. The Cossacks occupied the Central Square and surrounding streets. Fighting started at once and is vigorously proceeding.

The Shah is momentarily expected to take refuge in a foreign legation.

NEGOTIATIONS BROKEN OFF. Nationalists Cause Priests to Proclaim Holy War Against Shah.

TEHRAN, July 12.—Further efforts by Said Ed. Dowleh, the Persian Foreign Minister, on behalf of the government, to reach a friendly settlement with the Nationalists, have failed and serious fighting is now looked for. The British and Russian legations have informed Sipahdar, the leader of the Nationalists, that they would support any reasonable demands, and they received the reply that the Nationalists would remain strictly on the defensive until evening, to give the government an opportunity to send envoys to open negotiations.

The news of the arrival of the Russians at Karvin having produced little effect upon the rival forces, the Shiite sacred college of Maftehd has at last decided to bring its influence to bear on the situation and mollahs already have crossed the Turkish frontier with orders to proclaim a holy war.

A holy war against Moslems is unprecedented, but to legalize it the Shah and his supporters have been declared non-Moslems. Already the country adjoining the frontier is in arms.

THREE CROOKS CAUGHT

Nabbed as They Were Leaving City and Are Held in Jail.

Three crooks with National reputations fell into the clutches of the local police last night. Tommy King alias the "Hair-lipped Kid" and one of the smoothest "stalls" in the country, with "Bud" Taylor and Johnny O'Keefe, are now detained at police headquarters on the specific charge of vagrancy.

The catch was made by Detectives Snow and Day just as the three had boarded a train for Spokane early last evening. When "banged" at the headquarters each of the trio contributed a varied assortment of plunder and paraphernalia attendant to their vocation. Several

"The Blue Mouse." A capacity audience screamed with laughter at the Lyric last night when Clyde Fitch's latest and greatest comedy success, "The Blue Mouse," was introduced to Portland with dainty Elia Ryan in the title role.

Marle Doro at Bungalow Tonight. Portland theatergoers are having one of the most entertaining offerings of the season at the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets, tonight, tomorrow and Thursday nights in the engagement of the charming American actress, Marle Doro, and her splendid supporting company in the delightful comedy, "The Morals of Marcus." This brilliant young star is presented by Charles Frohman.

Celebration at Oaks July 17. The grand Independence day exhibition of Pain's fireworks, which were postponed from the Fourth of July, will be seen at the Oaks next Saturday night. This display will include a very great number of the newly invented Electro-radium rockets which were the favorites at the former exhibitions at this popular amusement park.
