Durable Dane Is Mercilessly Beaten by Wolgast in Ten-Round Match.

LAW PREVENTS DECISION

Champion Unable to Stop His Opponent, and Is Beaten to Pulp, While Wolgast Is Practically Unmarked.

NAUD JUNCTION ARENA, Los Angeles, Cal., July 13.—Ad Wolgast, of Mil-waukee, despite the fact that he weighed warkee, despite the fact that he weighed five pounds less than Battling Nelson, gave the durable Dane a thorough whipping in a teu-round bout before the Pacific Athletic Club tonight. After an even first round, Wolgast waded in and had the advantage in six of the remaining nine rounds.

The champion did not have a single round in his favor, an even break being the very best he could get. Welgast fought the champion at his own game and heat him decisively. Nelson's face was badly swollen and blood streamed from his nose and mouth at the close of Wolgast was practically unmarked. It was a terrific fight from start to finish, and it was not until the ninth and tenth rounds that Wolgast succeeded in stop-ping Nelson's steady rushes. Nelson was a badly worried man in several stages of the fight.

Nelson met Wolgast in his corner and followed his usual tactics of advancing steadily to his opponent. Wolgast put a right to Nelson's face and took a right and left to the face in return. A ripping left reached Nelson's jaw. They exchanged body blows in a clinch, and Nelson reached the face with a straight left. Wolgast sent a right cross to the jaw in return. Even round.

Round 2.

Wolgast sent two right uppercuts to the mouth as the round closed. Wolgast's round, by good margin.

They went at it hammer and tongs, Wolgast landing right and left to head and body. Wolgast then sent a light left to the face, and followed with a hard right to the jaw. Wolgast sent a right swing to the ear, landed right and left to the head, and put another left to the body and a right to the face in rapid succession. Wolgast showered Nelson with rights and lefts to the head, and Nelson fought back for the stomach, Wolgast landed repeatedly to the face and body. In close quarters Wolgast had all the better of the fighting, and had a big lead at the end of the round.

Both missed right swings, Wolgast being first to land, getting a left to the stomach. In close quarters Wolgast sent two swift rights to the face Nelson's left eye began to swell in this round. They exchanged body punches and Wolgast reached Nelson's head with a left. Nelson was missing and falling short. Wolgast shot a terrific right to Nelson's stomach and then landed half a dozen right and then landed half a dozen right and then landed half a dozen right. Round 5.

Wolgast continued to back away at the start of the round. They went at it head to head, Nelson landing several ef-fective rights to the body. Wolgast land-ed a right on Nelson's sore nose, but the Dane continued to force matters. In a neutral corner Wolgast stopped Nelson with a right and left to the body, Wolgast slowed up in this round.

Round 6. Nelson continued to force him, taking many a hard punch. They exchanged lefts to the face and Wolgast put in two rights to the head. Nelson swung left to the head and reached Wolgast's face with a right uppercut. Nelson forced Wolgast to the rope, but did not land effectively. Wolgast swung left to the head and sent Nelson back, but he came on fighting hard. Even round.

Round 7. Wolgast put a left to Nelson's eye. With head down Nelson bored in, but Wolgast continued to land the greater number of blows. They clinched against the ropes. In close quarters Wolgast landed on the head, and Nelson on the body. Nelson's face showed the effects of Wolgast's punches, his nose and lips being badly swollen. It was Wolgast's round.

Round 8.

They clinched and fought about the ring in close quarters. Wolgast having having the better of the argument. Nelson landed hard right and left to the face. Wolgast came back with a whiriwind of rights and lefts to the body. Nelson put right and left to the head, and Wolgast reached the ear with a right. The occupation of the Persian capital by the Nationalists today is a direct result of the insistence of the Persian people that the Shah govern the country under the constitution of January 1, 1907. The Shah signed this constitution when he ascended the throne, but from the first he showed an inclination to disregard it, and finally withdrew it. While the Shah was trying to cope with unrest in the north, the Bakhtiari tribesmen, the fighting race of Persia, arose in the south, and early this year captured Isphian, 219 miles south of Teheran. The tribesmen then began the long march to the capital, and their advance guard arrived in front of Teheran last Monday. front of Teheran last Monday.

Boys Tell Story to Police Which Proves Groundless.

Either out of mischief or through childish imagination, two small boys created quite a furor in the Portland Police Department yesterday morning, as well as in the Sheriff's and Coroner's offices. Harold Wright and Willie Evans, living with their parents on Willamette Heights, are the boys. They went to pick hlackberries one mile west of their homes and returned with a story of a dead man in the woods.

Investigation developed that there was no dead man, although the boys accompanied the Coroner to the supposed scene.

"We are now constructing a trail in the Siskiyou Mountain range that is the most expensive forest trail the Govern-ment ever undertook to build," says M. J. Anderson, of the United States Forest Service, located at Grants Pass and in charge of that reserve, who is at the Cornelius.

"This trail will give Curry County a water grade outlet to the Southern Pacific at Grants Pass. The present mail trail from West Fork to Gold Beach attains an altitude of 5000 feet. The new trail, which is about 25 miles in length, connects with the old mail trail at Mule Creek by following the Rogue River and Creek by following the Rogue River and avoids the mountain. Some of this trail is costing $1000 per mile and about $5000 has already been expended. We have built one bridge that has a span of 180 feet between piers."

Mr. Anderson says an injustice has recently ended in Federal Court by Page pleading gullty to a charge of setting fire to Government timber in the Siski-you reserve. Page represented the Government witnesses were trying to run him out of the country in order to get possession of his mining claim. Mr. Anderson declares the witnesses, although they had had trouble with Page, are as square men as ever lived. He says the Government agents initiated proceedings against Page after an investigation into the causes of the numerous fires that originated near Page's claims and that the witnesses were induced to come forward with difficulty.
