

GINGLES CASE GO TO JURY TODAY

Orangemen Pledge Funds for Appeal if Girl Is Convicted.

SEND HER HOME IF FREED

Rev. Ryan, of Presbyterian Church, Taking Active Interest in Giving Help to Accused Woman. State Expects to Convict.

CHICAGO, July 18.—(Special.)—The Ella Gingles larceny case will be given to the jury tomorrow. The closing argument for the state was made by Assistant State's Attorney Short. Attorney John P. O'Shaughnessy, of counsel for the defense, said today that he was confident that the girl would be acquitted. Mr. Short was equally confident that she would be convicted.

Orangemen Offer Aid.

The trial of Ella Gingles has cost the state more than $6000. Under ordinary circumstances the trial would have cost more than $20,000, but a number of witnesses and court officers volunteered their services free of charge. The attorneys for the defense do not expect to be paid for their services.

Orangemen of Illinois have raised a fund of $1500, which will be used to defray the expense of carrying the case to the higher courts if a verdict of guilty is returned by the jury. If Ella Gingles is acquitted the money will be used to return her to her home in Larnie, Ireland.

Pastor Ryan Is Warm Friend.

"You may say that in case of a verdict of guilty this fund of $1500 will be double," said Rev. R. Keene Ryan, pastor of the Garfield Park Presbyterian Church and chaplain of Freedom Orange Lodge No. 14, of this city. "When I make this statement, I am speaking for the lodge and the statement is authorized."

"I also speak for the lodge when I say that, regardless of the verdict, guilty or not guilty, the Orangemen of our local lodge, and I believe, every other lodge of Orangemen in the world, will defend and protect this poor, lonely girl. We will do everything in our power, and I will say that it means real help. We will give her money, but that is the smallest part of the gift she will receive from the Orangemen. She will receive our true love and sympathy in case she is found guilty, and we will receive her just as gladly and warmly as we will if she is found not guilty."

EDITORS WILL HAVE FUN

National Editorial Association in Seattle This Week.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—The National Editorial Association will meet here tomorrow and continue in session until Saturday. The 30 delegates and their wives will be guests of the Seattle Press Club. The Eastern delegates arrived today on a special train which was met at North Yakima, Wash., by a committee from the club.

CHILD CRUSHED UNDER CAR

Mother Seriously Hurt in Effort to Save Little One's Life.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 18.—Within sight of a crowd of men and women standing on the station platform, Vera Nelson, aged three and one-half years, was crushed to death under the wheels of an incoming electric train of the Northwestern Pacific line today, and her mother, who dashed in front of the moving car in an effort to save the child, was seriously injured.

TURNER EXPECTS SUCCESS

Hopes to Get Favorable Decision on Newfoundland Fisheries Issue.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Entirely satisfactory progress it was said today is being made by counsel for the United States for the great legal battle next May before the Hague tribunal to determine the status of American fishermen in Newfoundland waters. The Government is confident of a favorable decision.

SUTTON WAS ATTACKED

(Continued from First Page.) don't want any trouble." Then one of the officers told me to "beat it." As I turned the car around I saw Adams starting for Sutton and heard Sutton say: "Well, if he wants to fight I will fight him." Then I went across the bridge and met Griffith, another chauffeur, coming back with his automobile.

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED

Passenger Engine Jumps Track While Rounding Curve.

CHICAGO, July 18.—While rounding a curve south of Manchester, Ind., today, a Monon passenger train jumped the track. Two trainmen were killed and six passengers were injured. The killed: N. Byrn, engineer; L. Austin, fireman.

EILERS ADV. REPUBLISHED

Unfortunately in making up the forms the announcement of Eilers Piano House in yesterday's Oregonian, became very much disarranged and is therefore republished in this issue on the fifth page.

they say, show how Lieutenant Sutton incurred the enmity of his comrades. He is said to have played in with the instructors against the students, with the students against the instructors, and with one comrade against another. First he was friendly with "Ned" Roelker, then with Lieutenant Adams, then with another officer, always quarreling after a short time with each.

Instructors were astonished on several occasions it is said by having Lieutenant Sutton come to them with tales about his comrades, which meant serious punishment.

"But he is your very best friend," they would say to Lieutenant Sutton. "Why do you tell these things about him?" And Lieutenant Sutton would explain that he believed it his duty to the authorities to have the facts known.

The line of investigation demanded by the Navy and Marine Corps adherents who believed Lieutenant Sutton had reflected on the service, will depend largely on the witnesses called by Mrs. Sutton's attorneys.

If the question of Lieutenant Sutton's character is not gone into fully it is probable that the Navy adherents will not unduly urge this point, but let the issue rest on the actual happenings on the morning of October 12. If, on the other hand, civilian witnesses are called to testify as to bringing up incidents connected with Lieutenant Sutton's career during the last few years of his life, many of his classmates will be called.

It is the testimony concerning Lieutenant Sutton's life at the Naval Academy and at the barracks that officers say will prove the greatest surprise. There will be numerous shocks for the persons present at the second investigation.

tion if the testimony follows the line of the first court of inquiry.

When Mrs. Parker, sister of Lieutenant Sutton, was given the first testimony to read, one of the officers' wives was astounded. "You mean to say you are going to let her read all that?" she said. This is an indication of the shocking nature of the testimony.

HENEY IS NOT NAMED

CANDIDATES FILE PETITIONS AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Confusion Exists Among Politicians Regarding Provisions of Primary Law of State.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(Special.)—At midnight, last night, when the time closed for filing petitions by candidates for municipal nominations at the August primary election, 34 candidates had filed papers for city offices. Nine of these aspirants are comparatively unknown and have no chance of getting the nominations. Others are too well known to secure any endorsement by the people. Many of these petitions will probably be thrown out as defective.

If the petitions of all the candidates for Mayor stand the test of examination as to their legal status, the Republican electors will have an opportunity to vote for their choice of five candidates—William Crocker, David J. Grauman, R. H. Countryman, Byron Maury and Edward A. Kell.

The Democrats have three candidates for Mayor: Thomas R. W. Leland, Ralph McLeran and Edward R. Rock. The labor unionists may choose between P. H. McCarthy and Frank J. Sullivan.

For Treasurer, John McDougall, the incumbent, is the only candidate other than H. M. Alexander, of the union labor ticket.

Charles M. Fickett will make the primary fight for District Attorney against Nathan Coghlan.

The regular Democratic organization left blanks for the offices of City Attorney, District Attorney and County Clerk. They presented the names of 32 candidates for Supervisors, from which they will select 12.

There are many points in the direct primary law which are not clear to politicians and the courts will be kept busy deciding differences of opinion in regard to interpretation of the law.

Four New Manufacturing Plants Are Established.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 18.—(Special.)—Four new factories have been guaranteed for Aberdeen. The Bonfield pail and tub plant will be built at a cost of $300,000. Work on the foundation has been started. An asphalt factory to cost $18,000 is in course of construction by Andrew Peterson, of Seattle. A furniture

BALLINGER STIRS UP MR. PINCHOT

Chief Forester Hurries to Washington to Defend His Pet Schemes.

WILSON WILL NOT ASSIST

Man Who Stood Near to Roosevelt Finds His Policies Are Rudely Shocked Under Administration of President Taft.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(Special.)—Prospects of a modus vivendi between Secretary of the Interior Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forestry

Bureau, are not bright. From out of the West, Secretary Ballinger has hurled the shaft that Pinchot, a subordinate in the Department of Agriculture, "shall not run the department of the Interior."

The emphasis on the "not" reverberated among the tall-timber out Seattle-way. Pinchot, who is in Ohio or Indiana, is expected to return to Washington the latter part of this week. When he does, it is promised by his friends he will be prepared to assume the aggressive. The Forester is authoritatively said to be ready to charge that Secretary Ballinger has been waging war on every policy as regards the Forestry Service that was established by ex-President Roosevelt, and likewise that the Secretary is, to say the least, lukewarm in support of the conservation policies of the Roosevelt Administration.

Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department has disclaimed any difficulty with Secretary Ballinger so far as he is concerned, and it looks very much as if Pinchot must bear the brunt of the struggle himself.

Mr. Pinchot's friends claim that a most vigorous warfare has been directed against the Chief Forester by certain water power companies, the most active representative in Washington—the man whom Pinchot himself has declared to be his most dangerous antagonist—is said to be an attorney from the Pacific Coast, who has spent the last two winters in Washington, carrying on a persistent crusade among Congressmen and wherever an opportunity was afforded him, harassing the Forestry Service.

The fight between Ballinger and Pinchot takes on a very strong political aspect in the West.

PRINCE LOSES HIS TITLE

KING ALFONSO DISAPPROVES OF LOVE MATCH.

Prince Alfonso Incurs Displeasure of Monarch Because Wife Will Not Change Her Faith.

MADRID, July 18.—The marriage of the infant Alfonso of Bourbon-Orleans and Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg, for which the Prince has been deprived of his title, Infant of Spain, was the sequel of a romance.

Prince Alfonso recently was brevetted a Lieutenant and was anxious to proceed to Melilla, whither Spain is sending large detachments of troops.

While the mobilization of his brigade was in progress, the Prince hurried to Paris to visit his mother, the Princess Euclalie, and from there went to Coburg to say goodbye to Princess Beatrice, to whom he was betrothed.

Instead of farewells, there was a marriage ceremony, both civil and religious, the latter according to the Catholic and Protestant rites. It is understood the King opposed the union because the Princess declined to change her religious faith.
