DISPUTE IS STILL ON

Miners Fail to Settle Difficulty With Brewers.

ONE AGREEMENT FRAMED

Action Proves Unsatisfactory, However, Principally Through Opposition of Flynn to Meyer's Adherents.

DENVER, July 20.—An effort to rush through before adjournment for today a settlement of the controversy growing out of the brewery engineers' strike in Butte, Mont., resulted in the adoption of a motion which in retrospect does not satisfy any of the parties to the agreement. The effect probably will be another conference between the National Officers of the United Brewery Workers of America and the Western Federation of Miners.

W. Flynn, were opposed to the agreement in its entirety, and succeeded in eliminating the paragraph providing that there shall be "no discrimination practiced against the engineers or other workmen who went out on strike against the brewery employees in Silver Bow County or any part of Montana."

Agreement Not Satisfactory. By this action the settlement authorized by the convention today was rendered unsatisfactory to the administration. The resolution was introduced by Michael J. O'Connor and as amended provided:

"That there shall be a free interchange of cards between the United Brewery Workers of America and the Western Federation of Miners; the question of jurisdiction over the engineers shall continue as at present until the expiration of the present agreement between Engineers' Union No. 83 and the Western Federation of Miners have been responsible for furnishing members to take their places, those members shall be withdrawn, and the future employment of labor shall be governed by agreement between the brewery employers and the United Brewery Workers; that in case of violation of the contract the matter shall be placed with the joint executive boards of the United Brewery Workers and the Western Federation of Miners, and their decision shall be binding."

Poster Is Discussed. A feature of today's deliberations was the reading of a poster published in Butte while the strike was in progress. The poster severely criticized the Butte local union, of the Western Federation of Miners, and charged its members with attempting to disrupt the organization.

Secretary Proebatel, of the brewery workers, admitted having written the poster, and declared that he still believes the charges contained therein to be true. Condemnation of the American manner of referring to foreigners as "Dagoes," "roustabouts," "butternuts," "red-necks" and other obnoxious titles, occupied some time. The greater part of the federation membership is of foreign birth, and it objects to the titles as commonly applied.

A motion to call a committee of all classes of mining and underground work for the purpose of forming one large miners' organization was defeated on the ground that its wording was not clear and did not represent industrial unionism in its true sense.

TROUT POOL IS DYNAMITED

Seaside Fishermen Indignant at Act of Vandalism.

SEASIDE, Or., July 20.—(Special.)—The trout-fishing people of Seaside are indignant over the reported dynamiting of the pools along the Necanicum last week. If the fiend who is doing this nefarious work should be caught in the act by a couple of enthusiastic fishermen he would need skillful medical attendance immediately.

Two years ago the stream was dynamited several times and the perpetrator was caught in the act and scared almost to death. He, however, is not suspected of being guilty of last week's outrage.
