TORRENTIAL RAINS DO GREAT DAMAGE

Wisconsin and Colorado Suffer Thousands of Dollars' Loss From Cloudbursts.

MANY MILLS DESTROYED

Streams Changed Into Roaring Rivers in Few Minutes, and Floods Sweep Away Dams and Dwellings.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 21.—Reports from Northern Wisconsin, particularly in the neighborhood of Ashland, tell of serious losses as a result of a cloudburst. The estimates of the loss range from $450,000 to $700,000.

Innumerable bridges and dams are reported as carried away, and the situation on the Odanah Indian reservation is serious. In the Summer resort country enormous damage has been done to small houses.

Mills on the Odanah reservation are wrecked, and in the neighborhood of Mellen every house in the valley on one of the small streams is said to have been carried away.

CLOUDBURST WRECKS OURAY

Colorado Town Suffers $30,000 Damage in Terrific Storm.

OURAY, Colo., July 21.—Fifty families are homeless, seven business and residence squares are inundated and property has been damaged to the extent of $30,000, as the result of a cloudburst that came upon this city this afternoon.

Cascade and Portland Creeks overflowed their banks and became raging torrents through a portion of the town. An avalanche of boulders and loose dirt followed in the wake of the flood, battering down houses and blocking the streets.

Several persons were rescued from the windows of floating houses by men on horseback. It is believed two weeks will be required to clear away the debris.

DULUTH DAMAGED $1,000,000

Flooded Twice in Day—Water Stops Performance in Theater.

DULUTH, Minn., July 21.—Duluth was flooded again tonight, the second time within 24 hours. The damage may reach $1,000,000. Nearly three inches of rain fell in an hour and a half.

The water poured into the Bijou Theater, where a performance was in progress, and a panic was narrowly averted.

TAFT MAKES NO PEACE

er plated with nickel or other metal at 2 cents. The House rate at 1 cent for old and worn-out zinc fit only to be remanufactured was adopted. Tungsten ore, which is used in the manufacture of ferro alloys, one of the chief component parts in the manufacture of low steel and steel parts of automobiles, was made dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem instead of 15 per cent, as fixed by the Senate.

The Senate and House rates on lead ore were identical, the duty being 1½ cents a pound. The House made pig lead dutiable at the same rate and the Senate provided specifically for lead dross, lead bullion and pig lead at 2½ cents a pound. This rate was reduced by the conferees to 2 cents, and as a result ¼ of a cent was removed from the Senate rates on all the paint derivatives.

Lemons will pay a duty of 1½ cents a pound, the Senate rate. This is an increase of ¼ cent over the House rate, and half a cent over the Dingley rates.

Borah Works for Free Hides.

Senator Borah tried to effect an agreement by which hides may be put on the free list. He said the plan he had to suggest had originated with President Taft. This plan contemplates the adoption of a joint resolution giving the conferees jurisdiction to reopen the question of placing hides on the free list, to make sole leather dutiable to 5 per cent ad valorem, boots and shoes and calfskins 10 per cent; and to reduce the rates on harness in the same proportion. In view of the opposition in the Senate to free hides, the indications are that a combination will be effected with the Democrats to defeat the Borah plan.

Progressive Republican Senators decided to issue a statement outlining their position on downward revision. Senator Cummins has been invited to take breakfast with the President tomorrow, to discuss the attitude of the insurgents and therefore the statement will be withheld until tomorrow.

There was a meeting today of about 20 anti-free raw material members of the House, at which Representative Gains, of West Virginia, a member of the ways and means committee, presided.

The drawback provision was taken up today with treasury officials. Charles P. Montgomery, chief of the customs division, declared that the French substitution system, after which the House drawback feature is patterned, opened the way to fraud. Under it an article might be imported on the west coast and a certificate received by the importer. The article might be manufactured and enter into domestic trade, but the certificate could be used on the east coast and a drawback obtained upon exported articles manufactured wholly from domestic materials. Treasury Department officials take the position, however, that the risk of being defrauded is too great for the Government to assume. No action was taken on the drawback feature.

Senator Aldrich today attempted to convince Senator Piles that the Senate rates on lumber must be decreased.

Compromise on Gloves and Hose.

The disposition of the Senate conferees is to yield somewhat on the lower duties which the Senate put on the cheaper values in window glass.

The compromise on hosiery which increased the Dingley rates on cheap stockings and leaves the existing rates on higher grades, was proposed by the manufacturers, and it is understood requires only the approval of Representative Payne to be adopted.

The glove compromise also has been offered by the domestic manufacturers. It provides for entry free of duty of the "Schmaschen" gloves, which are the cheapest, but proposes to prevent fraud by providing that the gloves to be admitted free shall be made of the skins of "still-born" lambs. It is understood that other increased House rates will prevail.

Senator Carter, of Montana, is especially active against placing hides on the free list and is doing a great deal to enlist the aid of other Senators. The situation as he sees it is not only a menace to the cattle industry, but involves a principle which the West cannot afford to concede.

Taking the position that hides are as much entitled to protection as most of the manufactured articles, Mr. Carter says that if they are to be put on the free list other articles of the same character, such as wool, are liable to be next attacked in the same way.

SAY WOOL TRUST RAISES PRICE

Clothing Manufacturers Appeal to Taft for Tariff Reduction.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Stung by the criticism heaped on them for announcing a 25 per cent increase in the price of woolen clothes, although the new tariff does not increase the Dingley rates on wool in any particular, a delegation representing 95 per cent of the ready-made clothing manufacturers of the country called on President Taft today to explain their position.

They declared the wool dealers had been forming a combination during the last few years and were now ready to advance the price on the quality of wool used in the cheaper grades of clothes, "the poor man's raiment," as they expressed it.

The delegation told the President that, unless a change could be made in the woolen schedule a storm of protest would sweep the country as the result of the increased prices.

BORAH MAY VOTE WITH TAFT

Favors Free Hides if Duty on Leather Goods Reduced.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 21.—The President today sent for Senator Borah and asked him upon what conditions he would vote for the tariff bill if it contained a provision for free hides, free coal and free iron ore. Mr. Borah said he had voted for free iron ore and free coal and would vote for free hides if the President would induce the New England Senators to vote for a corresponding reduction in the duty on shoes, harness and leather goods generally.

The President assured Mr. Borah he was in favor of that corresponding reduction and would do everything he could to secure it.

WOMAN CHASES THIEF

PURSE-SNATCHER WINS RACE FOR TWO BLOCKS.

Mrs. L. E. Miles Is Followed by Thug—Robber Drops Hat in Flight.

Attacked by a footpad and robbed of her purse shortly before midnight last night, Mrs. L. E. Miles, of 61 Ninth street North chased the robber and shouted for assistance at the top of her voice. The purse contained about $3. The robbery occurred at Ninth and Couch streets, within one block of the woman's home.

The man evidently had followed Mrs. Miles from Washington street. She had heard footsteps behind her all the way, but paid no attention to them. The man rushed up from behind her and grabbing the purse, which she carried loosely, darted across the street, running east on Couch street, and Mrs. Miles gave chase.

After running as far as Park street, two blocks, the woman began to tire and the purse-snatcher dodged into an alleyway. At this corner, however, his hat came off, but he kept on going as fast as he could. The hat was picked up by Mrs. Miles, who turned it over to the police with a description of the fugitive.

Foreigner Adjudged Insane.

ASTORIA, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—Herman Ruonala, a fisherman employed by the Warren Packing Company, was committed to the insane asylum at Salem by the County Examining Board today. Ruonala is a native of Finland, 35 years old, and says he has been in this country for five years, but admits he has never sought admission to citizenship. He came to Astoria from Portland and was committed to the asylum from Multnomah County about a year ago, but was released a month later. Ruonala is afflicted with a suicidal mania and has made several attempts to kill himself.

Vancouver Resident Dies.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. Hannah Larney died tonight in St. Joseph's Hospital as the result of an operation, aged 65. She was the widow of Patrick Larney, who died just nine months ago, and was born in Ireland. When about 16 years old she came to this country. She leaves one daughter, Miss Margaret Larney, and two sons, E. M. and J. H. Larney. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Snake-Hunter on Search.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., July 21.—(Special.) — Adolph Heinwitz, who catches snakes for commercial purposes at the rate of 6 cents per pound, live weight, left here this morning with his party of three helpers and a camp cook to thresh through the sagebrush country between here and the Columbia River in search of "rattlers." Heinwitz sells his snakes to circuses, zoos and museums.

Captain's Wedding Delayed.

ASTORIA, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—Captain N. B. Stantdwiz, master of the Norwegian steamship Henrik Ibsen, which arrived today from the Orient, expected to be met here by his future bride, who is en route from Norway, and they were to have been married immediately. He received a message, however, stating she had been delayed and will reach Portland next Sunday.

Saloonman Quits Business.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 21.—(Special.)—Michael Boylan, familiarly known as "Barney," after having been a saloonkeeper for 26 years, has closed out his liquor business and opened up a soft drink parlor, ice-cream stand and cigar store.

Barney has been a wealthy man, but just before the panic of 1895 he signed a number of notes, and lost every cent he had.

State Veterinarians Named.

SALEM, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—Governor Benson today appointed the following members of the Oregon State Veterinary Medical Board to serve for four years: Dr. Alexander Reid, Morrow County, reappointed Dr. F. T. Mots, Baker County, to succeed Dr. D. C. McNab, Umatilla County.

French women have caused to be introduced in the Chamber of Deputies a bill abrogating the clause in the civil code declaring that the wife owes obedience to her husband. Some of the most distinguished women in the country are said to be behind the movement.

GALVESTON SWEPT BY FIERCE STORM

Gulf Resorts Are Devastated, but Summer Visitors Escape to Higher Land.

RELIEF TRAINS SENT OUT

Destitute Survivors of Hurricane Are Picked Up by Launches and Small Boats After Hard Storm.

GREETINGS FROM GALVESTON.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 21.—(Special.)—The City of Galveston sends greetings to her sister cities, the people of the United States and of the world, in that at this hour it has just passed through a most formidable storm, manifesting in its course some of the most violent incidents of cyclonic disturbances, and its great seawall has completely vindicated its efficiency and protected the city against dangers from the sea, leaving such insignificant damages as are incident to all storms.

The city, its great business interests and its people have safely passed through a most severe hurricane. The seawall proved a complete success. The city's great wharves and shipping interests suffered no damage and not a life was lost.

with the mainland. The impact of the blow at once severed the telephone and telegraph wires, and for a time fears were felt on the mainland that a repetition of the disaster of nine years ago had occurred.

The true cause of this interruption of communication was later discovered, but not until tugs crossed the channel with the news, as the dredge, in its pounding against the bridge, carried away a span and ruined two others, making traffic impossible.

It is reported that there has been considerable loss of life at Palacos and Blessing. It is also said Bay City suffered greatly from the hurricane.

Tonight the storm reached Austin, 350 miles in the interior, but little damage was done.

Sweeping westward, the tropical storm, which had been central over the Gulf for 24 hours or more, struck Galveston shortly after 11 o'clock. The wind attained a velocity of 68 miles an hour, and heaved the waters of Galveston Bay up against the island and flooded the section that had not been raised. The water backed up into the main streets. The principal damage, however, was confined to the beach front, where bath houses and pleasure piers were swept away, but shipping was not disturbed.

A hurricane for East Texas was forecasted early in the day, and when the storm broke, Galveston was prepared. The inhabitants of the few scattered houses sought safety, as did the vessels riding at anchor in the bay. The fury of the storm soon abated and the anxiety of those who entertained fears of another tidal wave were thus early relieved. So short was the duration of the storm, that a Mallory line steamer, booked to start for New York shortly after noon, left on time.

The storm covered a wide area along the Gulf coast. One fishing pier seven miles from the city was demolished. Thirty or forty people rescued by the Thirty or 40 people were rescued by the veston.

BOSCHKE BUILT GREAT WALL

Harriman Engineer Man Who Made Galveston Storm-Proof.

George W. Boschke, of this city, chief engineer for the Harriman lines in the Pacific Northwest, was the engineer in charge of the construction of the Galveston seawall. The wall, which is four miles long, was built in 1902 and 1903, at a cost of $2,300,000 to the County of Galveston.

The top of the wall, which was built on a piling foundation, is 17 feet above mean low water. It is 17 feet wide at its base with a concave face, fronting on the bay and tapers to a width of five feet at the top.

VESSELS FEAR TO ENTER PORT

Few Arriving Report Others Fighting Gale on Gulf.

MOBILE, Ala., July 21.—The Norwegian fruit steamer Karen, which arrived here today, reported that last night the weather was so heavy on the bar and seas running so high that they had to put back to sea for several hours. Officers say the gale was the worst in years over the Gulf. The steamer Royal Exchange is delayed outside the bar.

Captain Knudson, of the freighter Fort Gaines, arriving from Bocas, reports exceedingly bad weather. He reports sighting several vessels fighting the storm, unable to make port.

Two More Edison Combination Offers

Genuine Edison Machines, the very latest, with special horn equipments and 12 of the choicest records. $28.85

Here is an exact photograph of the outfit:

COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF ABOVE

Consists of the very latest Combination Edison Fireside Phonograph; plays both Standard and Amberol Records. Equipment as follows:

New Combination K Reproducer having two sapphires assembled in separate arms mounted on a swivel plate. Attached to this swivel plate is a pointer or lever, thereby enabling the user to readily change the positions of the sapphire for playing either the Standard or Amberol (four-minute) records.

Horn especially finished maroon color, gold striped. Sectional horn making it very desirable for carrying, and which very materially adds to the attractiveness of the outfit, giving excellent results phonographically. Nineteen inches long, bell 11 inches wide.

The Crane sectional assembler fits in a socket in the body of the machine instead of on the cabinet, as other types.

To this equipment the National Phonograph Company also furnish a curved spout nickel-plated oil can.

Our present offer also includes six Standard two-minute and six Amberol four-minute records, the latest selections or buyers' choice.

One Mega or Fiber hand-decorated flower horn. This horn is 24 inches long, with 17-inch bell. Especially desirable for its tone quality of tone-reproducing ability. An Automatic brush which, when attached to the reproducer or Speaker Arm, automatically brushes the record. A bottle of Three in One oil is also included.. This oil is used by the Edison Phonograph Company on all of their machines. They have found it to be free from injurious substances. It will not gum the delicate mechanism of the machine.

Price is $28.85, cash or $1 a week.

This Beautiful Outfit, the greatest ever offered for the money, $35.70

DESCRIPTION OF ABOVE

The machine and equipment, same as above, but it has:

TWELVE each of the two-minute and four-minute records (not six as picture shows), and also one bottle of oil and one automatic brush. With this offer is included a large, very beautiful metal horn, hand decorated, and finished in any color. Length 29 inches, bell 24 inches. One large nickel-plated adjustable crane. This may be regulated to any angle or adjusted to fit any horn, and is instantly attached to a machine.
