Three Men Killed, Several Hurt, in Battle, and Police Impotent. Peace Negotiations Will Be Resumed.

KENOSHA, Wis., July 22.—Three strikers were shot and a score of others were injured during a riot at the stroke-bound tannery plant of N. R. Allen Sons Company here today.

State troops were prepared tonight to proceed on a moment's notice to take charge of the situation. A large force of Deputy Sheriffs, armed with rifles, in charge of the state troops, declared the tannery. General Otto Falk, in charge of the state troops, declared

The shooting stopped negotiations for a settlement of the strike, but another conference will be held tomorrow.

When the riot started, a committee representing the strikers was in the general offices of the company seeking to make a settlement of the difficulties, but the management at once called off all negoflations and the committee was escorted out of the office. While the officials and deputies who had been in attendance at the meeting imme-diately armed themselves for protection, crowds of strikers were parading the streets, many of them armed. Thus far the property of the company has not been badly damaged, but windows of the building were shattered.

What was to have been a move by the strikers to rescue their comrades from jall was thwarted by Sheriff Gunther.

SUCCESS DUE TO WOMAN

FAIRVIEW TO SECURE WAGON ROAD TO COLUMBIA.

County Court Expected to Take Favorable Action on Movement Begun by Mrs. Ashcraft.

GRESHAM, Or., July 22.—(Special.)— After nearly a dozen years and after many fruitless attempts to get a county road across the lowlands of the Columbia Slough from Pairview to the Columbia River, the final effort is about to suc-ceed. And success will be due to a per-sistent woman and the local Grange,

Last Spring Mrs. Julia Asheraft introduced a resolution in the Fairview Grange, with all the necessary whys and wherefores, demanding that the County of Multnomah build a road so as to connect the City of Fairview with La Camas on the Washington side of the Columbia River, or as near thereto as the lordly river would permit. Her resolution "took." The proposed road will run along the dividing lines of the Sun Dial Ranch and that of the Portland Dairy Association, the owners of which were pleased to assure Mrs. Asheraft that they would give a right of way if the county would give a right of way if the county would open the roun; besides the Dairy Association promised to throw in two small bridges across two branches of the slough.

The donations were favorably looked upon by the County Court and a survey was ordered. Viewers were appointed and their report was filed with the court and their report was filed with the court and all preliminaries have been completed. Only final action is now to be taken before the actual work of road building will begin. Two more bridges will be necessary and some grading, but for most of the way there will not be much to do, and Eastern Mulmomah may soon expect a means of close communication with the Washington side of the Columbia. Only a ferry will be needed and that will be forthowning as soon ed and that will be forthcoming as soon

Camas is as far away from Fairview as Chicago, because of the lack of facilities for travel between the two places, as there is no other road across the Colum-bia Slough from the Vancouver ferry landing to Troutdale, its entire length, Can't Remember Everything.

In renewing the cross-examination of Eleutenant E. S. Willing, a relative of the Astors, Mr. Davis read from the records of the former inquiry, bringing out some discrepancies in Lieutenant Willing's testimony. The witness said his present testimony was correct.

"The former testimony was given on the same day of the shooting, and some of it was reckless," was the Lieutenant's explanation. Willing was sometimes defiant and at other times answered the lawyer's questions in an indifferent tone. "I can't remember what everybody said and did on that night," he declared. "No one could."

one could.

Mr. Davis handed a rusty 38-caliber revolver to the witness and asked him if he could identify it as the one he picked up on the edge of the parade grounds the night Sutton was shot, as he testified.

Willing broke the revolver, looked it over carefully and said it might be the same one, as the calibre and a piece of the weapor were the same. The members of the board also examined the revolver. Mr. Birney, Lieutenant Adams counsel, questioned Lieutenant Willing at the conclusion of Mr. Davis' cross-examination. Commander Hood showed the witness the rules in the navy blue-book which pertained to Willing's duties as ofwhich pertained to Willing's duties as of-ficer of the day at the time of the shoot-ing and asked him if he did not know be should have arrested anyone unruly, Lieutenant Willing said he did not recall whether or not he knew the rule at that fime.

Surgeon Pickerell said that he treated Lieutenants Adams, Osterman, Roelker and Potts at the hospital shortly after the shooting. They all had insignificant injuries, he said.
