DECLARE THAW IS FIT FOR LIBERT

Allenists Testify in Support of Paranoiac's Release From Asylum.

Creator of Brain Storms Denles That Thaw Is Paranoiac-Thaw Meets Jerome and Has Friendly Chat With Prosecutor.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 26.-Altenists today began their slow march across the stage in the Thaw case. The efforts of Stanford White's slayer to obtain his release from the Matteawan Asylum are culminating in the testimony of the experts called to prove him same and when they are through, the prisoner will take the stand himself

In two respects the bearing was a reminder of Thaw's two trials for killing White, District Attorney Jerome, of New York, at the request of the Attorney-General's office, took entire charge of the state's case. Mr. Jerome and Thaw sat so close together that their chairs touched -but, if the prisoner had any fear of the man who had prosecuted him, his face did not show it. All but one of the witnesses were Thaw's today, and his equawas undisturbed. At times he and Mr. Jerome chatted and smiled like old friends reunited.

"Brain Storm" Evans Defends Thaw

The other familiar feature was Dr. Britton D. Evans, of the New Jersey State Insane Asylum at White Plains, State Insane Asylum at White Plains, famous for his introduction at the trials of the term "brain storm." Dr. Evans was on the stand when court adjourned. He testified that Thaw has not now and never has had the particular kind of insanity known as "paranoia." which the state and county authorities centent still afflicts him.

Dr. Henry Ernst Schmidt, aged 80, qual-ified as an alienist, and Dr. William J. Meyer testified in his capacity of White Plains juli physician, which gave him numerous opportunities of seeing and talking with the prisoner. Both said Thaw Denies Evelyn's Charges.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw did not come to White Phains today, Mr. Jerome said that she was still under subpoens and might be called for cross-examination after he called for cross-examination after. Thaw testilies Dr. Evans said today that during a recent talk with Thaw in the jail, Thaw declared his wife's assertion on the stand that Thaw had threatened to kill her, was faise. Thaw is expected to repeat this on the stand and the state may call his wife to make the charge once more.

Schmidt's conclusion, after numer-examinations of Thaw in White as, was that his condition, both mentally and physically, was normal, ex-cepting his heart, which beat a triffe too fast. Paranois, the kind of insanity with which the authorities allege Thaw is afflicted, was discussed by the witness, who said there were varieties of this disease from which the patient might recover.

Thaw Fit to Be at Large.

On cross-examination, District Attorney Jerome plunged at once into the scientific aspects of paranola. He questioned Dr. garding Stanford White's private life. The witness said Thaw had discussed this subject with him, but he did not consider the law against him. ject with him, but he did not consider its bearing important on the question of Thaw's mental condition. During this cross-examination, Mr. Jerome asked Dr.

"You say now that this man is fit, in your opinion, to be turned loose in this community without any restraint how-

"I do," replied Dr. Schmidt.

In the afternoon session, various records of Thaw's second trial were presented by Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's ex-counsel. Mr. Morschauser objected to this proceeding on the ground that the witness' relations with Thaw were confidential and of the proceeding of the statement the statement of the fidential, and after some argument, the papers were received but not read at this time. They included a report by Dr.

officers in Los Angeles, was placed on trial today in Judge Davis' division of the Superior Court on a charge of bribery in connection with the alleged protection of vice in the reddight district during the late city administration of Ex-Mayor A. C. Harper.

Broadhead, who resigned from the police department following his indictment, is accussed of having accepted various payments of money, totaling about $700 a month, and covering a considerable period of time, from Nick Oswald, for permission to run a redlight district free from police interference. Oswald was known as the "tenderioin king." It was his evidence before the grand fury which resulted in the overthrow of the Harper administration and the indictment of Broadhead. Broadhead.

Broadhead.

The confession of Oswald was complete in detail, and revealed an alleged sensational scheme of systematic extertion of money from the uniawful district by city officials, involving several prominent men, including Mayor Harper. Broadhead was the only one Indicted, although the grand jury findings against the others were a sweeping condemnation which carried them all from office. More than 200 witnesses have been subpensed.

HAWAIIAN PLANTERS TO TRY EXPERIMENT.

HONOLULU, July 28.—Hawalian sugar planters are contemplating the importation of Russian immigrants to solve the labor problem in the Islands. A Russian capitalist now visiting here has offered the planters his assistance in bringing some of his countrymen to the Islands, many of whom, he stated, would like to come as plantation laborers.

At least one plantation has been asked to make the trial, and application has been made to the Federal board of immigration for the importation of 40 Russian families. If these are found to be desirable as immigrants, and satisfactory as plantation laborers, it is understood that many more will be sent for.

The Hawalian planters have experimented with Japanese, Spanish, Portuguese and Porto Rican laborers, none of whom have proved satisfactory. The Japanese went on strike for higher wages, saying that after a very anxious and careful examination into the shipbullding conditions of foreign countries, the gov-ernment had come to the conclusion that it was desirable to take all necessary steps to insure the laying down of fou additional Dreadnoughts in April, to be Italy and Austria Build Also.

Mr. McKenna said that foreign ship-building had developed apace, Italy and Austro-Hungary, according to the ample evidence collected by the Government, each having definitely committed itself to the construction of four battleships of the largest size and the latest type. Mr. McKenna mentioned that two of ar, accrema mentoned that two of the battleships on this year's programme would be launched during the present year, and that, of the two big ships to be laid down in November, the govern-ment had decided that one should be an improved cruiser, as the Admiralty had plans of cruisers more powerful and faster than the Invincible and Indomitable types.

He pointed out that, much as he personally regretted the necessity, it was incumbent on Great Britain to build still faster cruisers with which to be better able to capture any hostile vessels threatening English commerce.

German Naval Expansion. Asked if Germany had anticipated the British programme, or had kept to the understanding as given out by the British Foreign Office, Mr. McKenna deprecated the comparison, but said that during the three years the British government had been doing its best to restrict the growth of armaments Germany had laid down it large armored shim to Great laid down II large armored ships to Great Britain's eight. After these three years of experience, he considered it would not be safe to continue on these lines, and the time had arrived to take steps to secure British predominance on the seas, not only now but in the future.

For Safety, Not Aggression.

Radical and Labor members protested against the increase in expenditure and Premier Asquith begged them to believe that the programme was not introduced in the spirit of aggression or with a desire to be provocative toward foreign nations, but because a month's anxious deliberation had forced the Cabinet to the refuctant conclusion that this enlarged programme was the only one which with proper regard for the safety of the empire they could honestly sak Parliament to accept.

The Premier added that the door was still open for an agreement between this country and the other powers regarding naval expenditures.
