W. I. Ellis Shoots Down Nathaniel Willis in Circuit Courtroom.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS DIVORCE

Senator Davis in Direct Line of Fire, but Escapes Shot That Hums Over His Head-Murder Was Deliberate.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 27.—Shooting over the head of United States Senator Jeff Davis, W. 1. Ellis, a resident of Pine Bluff, instantly killed Nathaniel P. Willis, of Indianapolis, in the Circuit Courtroom here today.

The shooting was the tragic ending of a lawsuit brought by Willis against his divorced wife, who had subsequently married Ellis. The suit was for possession of Willis child.

Willis had secured an order to take possession of the child today, when the parties to the suit met in the courtroom to decide whether the child was to be delivered. Ellis appeared for his wife and Senator Davis represented Willis. Ellis suddenly drew a revolver and fired at Willis, who was scaled a fable.

Willis ran around the table with Ellis close at his heefs. The latter rested his pistol against the door jamb just as Willis ran out, and fired again, this time with fatal effect.

Ellis is a nephew of John F. Butherford, a millionaire lumberman. That Senator Davis had a close call is declared by those in the courtroom at the time.

Mrs. Ellis and her child had been hur rying over the country as far as Seattle to escape court proceedings in her for-mer husband's suit, her friends said to-

Great Northern Will Connect Boundary With Brewster.

SEATTLE, July 27.—The Post-Intellisencer tomorrow will say:

Within a few days the Great Northern will let the contract for the construction of its 70-mile line to connect Brewster and Oroville, near the Canadian boundary, which road later on will be connected with the main line at Wenatchee.
The Great Northern has practically completted the purchase of the right-of-way from Oroville south to McLaughlin's canyou, a distance of 25 miles.

The road follows the Okanogan River all the way and, save for a few miles in a canyon, is easy to construct.

Track-laying on the Waterville line is today finished to Abstown, 25 miles above Columbia. It will be only a few days until the steel is down to Douglas, six miles further on, and the remaining four miles to Waterville is but a small task.
The line to Waterville will become an CLIFFS Wash. July 27-(Special.)-The new wagon road that Cliffs has been clamoring for for nearly four years been claimoring for for nearly four years is to be a reality. John H. Seller, who has the roadway in charge, states that rully 39 per cent of the work has been completed, and that it will be but a short time until teams can traverse the

SALMON RUN NOT STEADY

Catches at Mouth of Columbia Show Falling Off.

ASTORIA, Or., July 27. (Special.)— There was quite a falling off in the catch of salmon last night, especially in the lower harbor and about the mouth of the river, but fairly good hauls were made above Tongue Point and in the vicinity of Brockfield. Ways contend the run of shove Tongue Point and in the vicinity of Brookfield. Many contend the run of Saturday afternoon and Sunday night was merely a "spurt." but others believe the will be followed by a genuine run later in the week.

The largest individual catch reported on Monday afternoon was made by a gilinetter on the north shore, who delivered two tons, while one gilinetter made a delivery of 2100 pounds at a local cold storage plant last evening. As the fish were all large, being over 25 pounds each, the ruling price was $150 per ton, so those catches brought excellent returns for the day's labor.

SPOKANE, Wash, July 27.—(Special.)—Ike Beams jumped into the Spokane Eiver in the rear of the fire station on Howard street at 4 o'clock this morning to save himself from being stabled to death with a dagger in the hands of Ell Smelleh, an Austrian.

Beams would have drowned had it not been for the prompt action of Officer Mc-Cloud, who rushed to the man's assistance. The assailant, Ell Smellch, was captured an hour later in a shack on perty street, near the Sacred Heart Hospital, a rendezvous for Austrians.

The entire might force of the police department was put on the trail of the ent returns for the day's labor.

CAVALRY SHOOTS

American Tells of Political Rioting in Guadalajara, Mexico, on Sunday.

NEAR THOUSAND ARRESTED

Ten Dead and Many Wounded as Result of Many Conflicts Throughout City Between Troopers and Angered Citizens.

EL PASO, Tex., July 27 .- One thousand ten were killed and many were wounded in charges made by Mexican cavalry, according to W. J. Bissell, of Philipsburg, Kan., who arrived here tonight from Guadalajara, Mexico, the scene of the riots Saturday and Sunday.

Bissell was in the Garcia Hotel, which was wrecked by a mob when the two Americans were wounded. He left Guadalajara on the same train that carried away the Corral-Diaz speakers who caused the riots. His story of the uprising follows:

rising follows:

"Saturday morning 16 Corral and Diaz speakers came to Guadalajara to hold a meeting. They went to the Plaza Saturday night, but the Reyestas drove them to the Garcia Hotel and broke out the windows in the south side of the hotel with rocks." with rocks, Barricade Is Built.

"Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Cor ral-Diaz speakers planned to hold a meet-ing in the Dellado Theater. The Reyes-tas went down there and erected a small harricade between the Plaza de Arma and the theater. They tore up cobble-stones and piled furniture across the gap.

"In a little while two squadrons of cavalry came charging up. I hid behind a tone pillar.

The cavalry swept over the barricade, shooting into the crowd of about 500 or 600 persons behind it, and after they had shot a path to the other side, made a return charge with drawn sabers slash-ing all who came in their way. The Reyes-tas returned the fire, but with little effect, "I believe seven were killed at this place, about 40 seriously wounded and about 200 arrested. "No meeting was held in the Dellado Theater.

Mob Raids Hotel.

"Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when I was at the Hotel Garcia, a mob of be-tween 2500 and 2000 came upon the place from three sides. They were all shout-ing 'Death to Diaz; death to Corral; viva Reyes.' Some of them were armed. They sacked the barber shop and started in the nain entrance of the hotel.

"Two Americans in an upper balcony opened fire and another joined them from a room. A little English girl, about 15 years old, got a six-shooter somewhere and began to fire into the crowd. I saw and began to fire into the crowd. I saw three men killed near the hotel entrance.

Two Americans were injured. There were about 25 foreigners in the hotel.
"Finally the cavalry arrived and dispersed the mob. Practically every winpersed the mob. Fractically every win-dow in the hotel was broken. Detach-ments of cavalry hunted down flying groups of Reyestas and there were sev-eral hundred herded up near the hotel. I believe they must have arrested 1000 men. The Corrai-Diaz men were then es-corted to the train under guard of a deachment of eavalry, and infantrymen were put on the train to protect them rom violence. "I left on the same train. The speakers, in a special car, went to Mexico City.

"I saw several bodies in the streets, and many were wounded in the cavalry charge.

FACTS ARE BEING CONCEALED

Total Killed in Mexican Rioting May Never Become Known.

MEXICO CITY, July 27.-Reports the number of dead and wounded in Sun-day riots at Guadalajara vary, and the officials seem reficent about giving out the real figures. A conservative esti-mate today placed the number of dead at 12 and the seriously injured at 35. Many of the rioters carried their dead and wounded to private homes, and have concealed them, fearing imprisonment. Extraordinary efforts were made to keep the affair secret.

Those who had been admitted into the confidence of the bridal couple were pledged to secrecy and Mr. Wanamaker tried to throw off inquiries at his hotel to Scotiand. The church was closed to everyone save a few invited guests and the officials informed would-be sightseers that the building was closed for cleaning purposes until tomorrow. Harris, of Kelso. THE WOLF NOT SO BAD

He Does Not Do Many Things That Are Credited to Him.

W. J. Long in New York Independent. Three times within a week I have neard evil men compared with wolves, to the great scandal of the latter. For years I have spent my Winter vacations in studying the wolf packs of the far north and I find nothing to warrant our comparing them with men who oppress their fellows. On the contrary, wolves do not steal from one another, they never kill one another, either quickly, like Turks, or by slow starvation, like the food speculators; neither do they kill weaker creatures indiscriminately, like our mighty hunters. And they ever, even when hungry, attempt to orner the food supply for themselves.

If a wolf, having killed a deer, which was more than he could eat, should atwas more than he could cat, should attempt to claim the whole carcass for himself, or to prevent other hungry wolves from feeding freely, there would be never a word or a growl uttered in protest; but his selfish claim for more than he needed would last just long enough for the nearest wolf to reach his throat—a short shrift, since the spring of a wolf is like a glint of light in its speed and certainty. In a word, wolves do not compete—they co-operate with one another; and their sociol-ory, such as it is, is in many respects better than our own, since it rests upon natural and wholesome instincts.

The wolf, like all other purely natural animals, hunts only for food, takes the first thing which satisfies its hun-ger, and then lets all other animals severely alone. One day latt March I followed the trail of eight wolves for had gone through swamps, where rab-bits, their natural food, were plentiful; they had passed through three deer yards, one of which contained a dozen animals, and had jumped two deer so close that they must have heard or smelled them; but they had not chased or hunted a single animal. And the explanation lay at the other end of the trail. They had killed a buck that morning, had eaten what they wanted and were now minding their own busi-ness, as all other wild animals do.
