TAFT TURNS DOWN CONFEREES' WORK

Payne and Aldrich Return Dissatisfied From Their Interview.

LUMBER STILL TOO HIGH

Attempt to Compromise on $1.40 Fails and House Increase Is Not Cut Enough—Mann Threatens Fight on Paper Duty.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The majority members of the conference committee on the Payne-Aldrich bill brought their labors to a sudden close at 6 o'clock tonight. Without a moment's delay they hurried away by automobile to Fort Myer to submit their report to President Taft, who had gone to see the flights of the Wright aeroplane.

All day the conferees struggled with the questions of bringing down the House rates on gloves and the rates on lumber to figures they felt would meet with executive approval, but they failed.

Slight Reduction on Lumber.

Lumber was made dutiable at rates only a little below those of the Senate bill and there was a slight shading from the House rates on gloves of good quality. Although it was not admitted by the conferees, the general impression was that Messrs. Aldrich and Payne had been authorized by their colleagues to incorporate in the report such figures as could be agreed upon with the President, insofar as they came within range of what the leaders believe will be acceptable in the House and Senate.

Don't Like Taft's Opinions.

Returning from the conference at Fort Myer, Messrs. Aldrich and Payne seemed dissatisfied with the outcome, although neither would discuss the conclusions reached.

It was announced officially that the Democratic members of the conference committee would be called into the session at 10 o'clock tomorrow. It was stated also that the conference report would be presented to the House probably at noon Friday.

It required a roll call to fix the rates on lumber, which follow:

Lumber Rates Adopted.

Lumber, rough, $1.40 a thousand feet. The House rate was $1 and the Senate rate $1.50. The Senate differentials were adopted, making lumber planed on one side dutiable at $1.90; two sides, $2.15; three sides, $2.52½, and four sides, $2.90. The Senate rates on lath and shingles, which were higher than the House rates, also were adopted.

Votes were taken on rough lumber at $1.25 and at $1.50, but no agreement could be reached except at the $1.40 rate for rough, with the Senate differentials on finished lumber.

Dingley Duties on Gloves.

Gloves were made dutiable at rates considerably in advance of the duties fixed by the Senate bill, which for the most part were the same as the Dingley rates.

The conference rates follow:

Women's and children's gloves valued at not more than $4 a dozen, $2.50 a dozen; valued at more than $4 but not more than $12 a dozen, $4 a dozen; valued at more than $12 a dozen, 35 per cent ad valorem. The schmaschen glove of sheep origin, which is the cheapest skin glove manufactured, was made dutiable at $1 a dozen. This is a heavy reduction from the House rates.

Senators Elkins and Scott of West Virginia and Clark of Wyoming vainly endeavored to get the conferees to make the rate of 45 cents a ton on coal apply to the short ton, which, it is said, would make a difference of about 5 cents a ton and operate to advance the rate to the equivalent of 50 cents.

Mann Will Fight Paper Duties.

The print paper rate was fixed at $3.75 a ton. This is only 25 cents less than the Senate rate and $1.75 more than the House rate. It is expected that this rate will arouse the ire of the special House committee which investigated the wood pulp and paper question. Chairman Mann, of that committee, has announced that he will not vote for the conference report unless the $2 rate is retained. The conference rate on paper is $2.25 a ton lower than the existing rate.

Hides were left on the free list, contingent upon the adoption of the House rule authorizing the conferees to go below the House rates in fixing the rates on leather and leather products.

If the report is laid before the House on Friday, according to present programme, it will be taken up Saturday.

Taft for Tariff Commission.

Senator La Follette talked with the President regarding the absolute necessity of establishing a commission of experts to get at the facts of the tariff and to inform Congress. The President, it was said, is strongly in favor of a commission and had hoped that the present tariff bill would carry one. As matters now stand, the bill will authorize the President to appoint a commission to assist him solely in administering the maximum and minimum provisions of the bill. No appropriation, however, is carried, even for this purpose, so that the prospect of a commission is very remote. Mr. La Follette predicted, however, that a commission would come and that the President would wield his growing influence for it.

HEYBURN GETS HIS BACK UP

Denies Taft's Right to Interfere.

Will Vote Against Tariff Bill.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 28.—President Taft has sent twice for Senator Heyburn recently to discuss with him tariff schedules affecting his state, but both times Mr. Heyburn has refused to go. He maintains that the President has no constitutional authority to take any hand in shaping tariff legislation while it is before Congress and should keep hands off until the bill finally passes both bodies and goes to him for signature. So far as he is personally concerned, Mr. Heyburn does not propose to submit to Presidential influence.

Mr. Heyburn today said he intended to vote against the tariff bill, no matter in what shape it is agreed upon by the conference committee. He wants to see the bill defeated, so that the Dingley rates will continue in effect. If this is done, he says the Republican party will have carried out its pledges, and he will say to his people that Congress has revised the tariff and found no changes necessary.

BLOODY FIGHT AT MELILLA

Government Contends Against Sedition and Moors—Spaniards Win Battle at Great Cost, Fighting All Day.

official note was issued saying that the situation was exceedingly grave and that the rebellion must be repressed with an iron hand, as the Catalonians were struggling to engulf all Spain in a revolution. The note says:

"The government has acquired proof that the agitators seek at all cost to produce a seditious movement throughout Spain or a revolution with the object of preventing the movement of troops and to block the action of the government, especially so far as it concerns the campaign at Melilla. The government has ordered the Governors of the provinces concerned to employ the most stringent measures and to maintain order at any cost."

People Hostile to War.

The hostility of the people against the Moroccan campaign, which has been followed by widespread disturbances, is based on resentment that the nation has been plunged in a foreign war and that the nation's sons are being sacrificed merely because of opposition to a private mining undertaking. The poorer classes, from which the regiments are chiefly drawn, are especially bitter, complaining that the man who can pay $300 is exempt from military service.

The greatest antagonism has been aroused by the mobilization of the reserves. Many of the men in the reserve forces have large families, without means of support other than what they themselves can earn. Touching scenes occurred when the poor workmen were called to the service. They wandered aimlessly about the streets, leading their children, whom finally they were forced to abandon. At the last moment, however, the Government decided to keep the reserves in the home garrisons, and charitable people came forward to care for the unprotected wives and children.

Tribes Flock to Melilla.

Advices from the front say holy war sentiment is spreading among the interior tribes, who as soon as their crops are gathered, are expected to flock to the coast and join the Riffians. While Spain is convinced that she has a huge task on her hands, it is claimed by the Government that a big army will soon crush the Moors.

Terrible Scenes in Barcelona.

Late telephone advices from Barcelona describe the situation as terrible, especially in the Paraleto district, where gendarmes and mounted artillerymen charged the mobs with drawn sabers.

When the military governor rode through the streets to proclaim a state of siege, the crowds advanced so menacingly that a squadron of cavalry was forced to charge. Women and children took refuge in St. Monica's Church.

Streetcars were burned and a carriage containing several correspondents was struck by bullets. A mob headed by a woman was dispersed by cavalry, many women and children being shot. Red Cross workers are giving aid to the wounded, the municipal doctors being unable to attend to all.

Barcelona's suburbs are the picture of desolation. At Pueblo Nuevo the convent is badly damaged and the church of San Pablo and the parochial schools are in ruins.

Revolutionists Well Armed.

The rioters have constructed their barricades with the wreckage from railroad bridges and the men behind the barricades are well supplied with arms and ammunition.

Every soldier on leave has been ordered to report for duty. Several regiments have already entrained for Barcelona.

Martial law accompanies the suspension of the constitutional guarantees as a measure of control in the event of the Catalonian rebellion spreading to the rest of Spain.

Honor of Spain Compromised.

The Imparcial says:

"The revolt compromises the honor of Spain. Nothing can justify this tumultuous and brutal movement, nor can any political idea excuse it."

The Liberal says:

"When Spain's sons are fighting and dying at Melilla, when Spain is in anguish, the act of the mad Catalonians is infamous."

Queen Victoria has opened a national woman's subscription in behalf of the families of the dead and wounded at Melilla.

SPANISH LOSE OVER 200 MEN

Moors Gain Decisive Victory Outside of Melilla in Two-Day Fight.

MELILLA, July 28.—An official report of yesterday's battle shows that it was one of the most sanguinary of the campaign. The engagement was fiercely contested and the Spanish forces lost more than 200 in dead and wounded, the slain including General Pintos, two lieutenant-colonels commanding naval contingents and a large number of other officers.

Word was received that the Moors had destroyed several hundred yards of railroad connected with the mines, which isolated and imperiled the extreme Spanish posts. As it was imperative to restore communication, a convoy, escorted by two strong columns was sent out in command of General Pintos. It occupied the outlying spurs of the mountains during the entire day. The Spaniards suffered a terrific fusillade from the Moors, who first fired from the fastnesses of the mountain and then boldly charged in the face of a murderous assault by the Spanish artillery.

WARFARE MAY UPSET CABINET

Conditions in Spain Thought to Spell Doom for Maura.

PARIS, July 28.—Private advices received here from Madrid say the feeling in Spain against the war on the Riff Coast is strong and widespread, and it is doubtful whether Premier Maura will be able to weather the storm. The masses are described as being hostile to the war, the purpose of which they do not comprehend, and which they suspect of being an outgrowth of mining speculation.

The position of General Marina, commander of the Spanish forces in Morocco, is described as being inherently weak. He must maintain his base at Melilla, hold Mount Atalayou, four miles distant, which protects his advance post. The intervening country is interspersed with ravines dominated by the foothills of Mount Guruga, offering splendid opportunities for surprises by the Moors.

FRESH RIOTING AT SARAGOSSA

Troops Called Out to Quell Disturbances Police Failed to Check.

SARAGOSSA, Spain, July 28.—The strike of the cotton mill operatives has been marked with various disorders. Mobs gathered in the center of the city and the police charged them repeatedly.

Troops have been called out and order has been partially restored.

South American woods were formerly used exclusively in the making of fishing rods, but the material is now being largely supplied by Queensland.

SERIES OF MURDERS

Fourth Italian Killed Who Knew About Crime.

SLAIN BY COUNTERFEITERS

Zaroone Is Latest Victim of Gang Which Killed Benditto Six Years Ago and Put Body in a Barrel.

DANBURY, Conn., July 28.—Search is being carried on by the police for the man connected with the shooting last night of Giovanni Zaroone, who was found lying on his doorstep here by his son, his head riddled with shot.

Beyond the theory that the shooting may have to do with Zaroone's alleged connection with the so-called "barrel murder" several years ago in New York, the police have as yet been unable to find a motive for the crime.

FOURTH MURDERED BY GANG

Bunch of Counterfeiters Believed to Kill Off All Who Knew.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Giovanni Zaroone, the Italian murdered yesterday near Danbury, was the fourth man connected with the mysterious "barrel murder" in this city in 1903 to meet violent death. Following the discovery of the body of Madonia Benditto in a barrel here, Zaroone was one of those arrested on a charge of causing Benditto's death. Later he was discharged.

Since then three men whose names were prominent in the barrel affair have been slain. The first one was Luccania Perino, known as "Petto the Ox," who was shot in Pennsylvania. Vite La Duca was murdered later in Sicily, and Messina Geneva was killed near Dayton, O.

The barrel murder is believed to have had its origin among a gang of counterfeiters and the police say they believe that the four who have since given up their lives were members of the gang. It is thought Benditto was aware of the counterfeiters' work and was put out of the way. Since then the real murderers of Benditto have been killing the men who knew the details of the crime, it is believed, and were in a position to make damaging revelations.

DEATH STILL MYSTERY

SON OF BRITISH SOCIETY WOMAN LAID AT REST.

Found Dead at Asylum With Broken Neck, and Coroner's Jury Cannot Explain Tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The funeral of Arthur M. Ritchie, son of Mrs. Caroline Adair, one of the wealthiest and best known society leaders of England, was held today after a Coroner's jury had decided that it did not know how he had met his tragic death at Belmont Sanitarium, where he was found dead with a broken neck last Sunday.

Ritchie had been confined for some time in the asylum, where he was supported by his mother. He had been confined in several private asylums in both England and this country and his latest incarceration followed a rambling story of robbery which he told the police July 15. At the time he was living quietly in this city, following his escape from a sanitarium in White Plains.

The dead man was the son of Captain Ritchie of the British Army, whose widow married John George Adair, an extensive landowner of England.

It is believed that Ritchie met his death by falling from a window while attempting to escape from the Belmont Sanitarium.

WAIF HELD IN DEN

Nine-Year-Old White Girl in Bay City Opium Joint.

CHILD SPEAKS NO ENGLISH

San Francisco Police Mystified by Story Told Them by Foster Parents of Girl, Who Are Deeply Affected.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A white girl, 9 years old, known as Mah Ho, who cannot speak a word of English, was taken from a basement opium den in Chinatown today by the police, where she is supposed to have been kept for some years by a Chinese couple. Although apparently not mistreated, the child has rarely seen the sunlight, and evidently was kept in close confinement in the dingy basement with only a half-starved puppy for a playmate.

She was discovered by Miss Donaldine Cameron, of the Presbyterian Chinese Rescue Home, who received her information through an anonymous letter. The child is a mystery of the Chinese quarter. Nothing is known about her history or parents.

When questioned through an interpreter she said that she had always had a "Chinese papa and mamma and uncles and aunts" and that she had lived with them before the earthquake of 1906, in Oakland and Sacramento.

Tun See and Mah Juy Lin, the Chinese couple in whose place she was found, declared that little Mah Ho's mother was a New York woman who married a Chinese, and who died when the child was young. The father, they declared, gave the little girl to them. The child has the appearance of being an Italian.

Her foster mother was heartbroken when little Mah Ho was taken away by the police and placed in the Presbyterian mission pending further investigation.

SCHEDULE TO BE FIXED

HARRIMAN TRAINS THEN WILL RUN TO SOUND.

Oregon & Washington Official Says Nothing Else Stands in Way of Proposed Service.

SEATTLE, July 28.—Union Pacific trains will not be running into Seattle until J. C. Stubbs, traffic director of the Harriman lines, has had time to prepare a schedule that will affect the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern and the Northern Pacific's Portland division.

This was the statement given out tonight by J. D. Farrell, vice-president and manager of the Oregon & Washington Railroad, after a long conference with Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines.

"There isn't a thing holding us back, except the schedules," said Mr. Farrell, "for we have made all arrangements to enter Tacoma, connect with our own tracks there and then to enter Seattle over the Columbia & Puget Sound line from Black River. When our service does start a passenger can board a train in Chicago and come direct to Seattle. It is the same with the California service. The Shasta Limited will run direct to this city."

Mr. Kruttschnitt left tonight for Portland.

Mutual Insurance Men to Meet.

FOREST GROVE, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—B. L. Barry, of Dayton, Or., secretary of the Oregon Society of Mutual Insurance, is sending out to all members in the state invitations to attend the National convention, which is to be held in Portland, August 17, 18, 19 and 20. Secretary Hollis, of the Bankers' and Merchants' Mutual Fire Relief Association, of this city, is sending invitations to all the members of his company.

"The convention will be one of great benefit to those who are interested in mutuals," said Judge Hollis. "We are expecting the best-posted in the business from all sections of the country to be in attendance at this meeting."

Heart Fails Him in Restaurant.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 28.—(Special.)—While William Van, a farmer from Manor, aged 65 years, was seated at the lunch counter in the Maple Leaf restaurant at 4:30 this afternoon, he suddenly fell to the floor unconscious. For some time he was thought to be dead, as he had apparently ceased to breathe, but Dr. Black applied restoratives and after half an hour he regained consciousness. Van is subject to attacks of heart failure.

Alleged Interloper Shot.

EVERETT, Wash., July 28.—In a dispute over right of way, Perry P. Prescott, foreman of a right-of-way railroad construction crew, was shot by A. G. Smith near Granite Falls this afternoon. The track was being built across Smith's property. The road had been laid there before, but Smith tore it up, declaring the company had no right of way over his land. Smith is under arrest.

DAVIS PROMISES SCANDAL IN NAVY

Mrs. Sutton's Attorney Says if Inquiry Court Wants Prosecution He Will Give It.

PREFERS SIMPLE INQUIRY

Lawyer Protests Change of Plan in Case, but Says if It Is Insisted Upon He Will Produce Sensational Developments.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Protesting against the action of the court of inquiry investigating the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton of the Marine Corps, H. E. Davis, attorney for Mrs. Sutton, today appealed to the Secretary of the Navy to vacate the court order by which officers with Sutton on the night of the tragedy are regarded as defendants.

Mr. Davis declared that while beginning its task in the form of an inquiry, the court suddenly has been changed into a prosecution, placing the defendants upon their guard and forcing Mrs. Sutton and himself into the position of prosecutors. The protest went directly to Assistant Secretary Winthrop, who will carefully consider the representations.

A decision probably will be rendered tomorrow.

Davis Outraged at Change.

"I am astounded, incensed and outraged at the court's ruling," said Mr. Davis. "However, if I am placed in the position of a prosecutor in this case, kid gloves will be conspicuous by their absence."

Mr. Davis made a point respecting the standing of Lieutenant Utley, to await whose arrival from Europe, the court adjourned.

"If the Navy Department allows my protest and Utley goes on the stand as a witness," he added, "he must not be allowed to communicate with any of the officers who have testified, nor to discuss the case with any one, nor have access to any testimony.

Utley Valuable Witness.

"But if declared a defendant, he can examine all the testimony and can confer with his fellow defendants. This would nullify absolutely the usefulness of the most valuable witnesses in the case."

Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. Parker and their attorney, Henry Davis, returned from Annapolis last night. Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Parker announced that they would not see any one, and would not receive newspaper callers or answer telephone messages. Attorney Davis said today that if the inquiry continues under yesterday's ruling, a bigger naval scandal will be exposed than the original smothering of the facts concerning Sutton's death.

Assistant Secretary Winthrop today said he had no special information concerning these proceedings and did not intend to ask for any. He suggested his own view of the propriety of giving all officers who have been involved, however remotely, in the charge of killing Lieutenant Sutton, an opportunity to hear the testimony that is to be taken.

NORTH COAST BUYING TIES

Work on Portland-Seattle Branch Soon to Be Started.

CENTRALIA, Wash., July 28.—(Special.)—D. D. Long, purchasing agent for the North Coast Railroad, is in Centralia making contracts for large quantities of ties and bridge material. He has established headquarters at the Hotel Centralia and is getting into communication with the various lumber industries in the vicinity. Today he left for Kelso and other mill towns between here and Portland.

Mr. Long states the North Coast will soon be engaged in construction work along the entire line between Seattle and Portland and substantiates his statements by maps and blueprints of the company's route, according to recent surveys of this region. When asked as to the identity of the road, Mr. Long failed to give much satisfaction, but stated that to his certain knowledge, one other of the transcontinental roads will pass through this city in the near future. A representative of the Lumber Manufacturers' Agency stated today that Mr. Long is acting through the agency in making a large number of his purchases.

SKEENA WHITES IN TERROR

etery. Eleven graves were within the right of way, and the railway builders offered to remove the bodies with all respect. This failed to satisfy the Indians, who, encouraged by the fortunes obtained from the sale of their reservation near Prince Rupert, demanded cash according to the rank of the departed.

Heavy Scale of Prices Asked.

For disturbing the bones of a sub-chief, buried some 20 years back, $1500 was demanded. Further compensation was required on a scale of $750 for each brave, $250 for a squaw, and $100 for each pappoose.

Failing a settlement, the Grand Trunk Pacific has referred the matter to the Minister of Indian Affairs at Ottawa, and meanwhile armed Indians are guarding their cemetery and grading on that section is suspended. Over the several graves on the right of way are posted notices signed on behalf of the dead Indians, in ungrammatical English, to the effect that the dead have rested there for many years in sight of the river and that any removal can only be atoned for by payment of cash as balm for the injured feelings of surviving relatives.

Escaped Convict Caught.

EUREKA, Cal., July 28.—(Special.)—A man giving the name of Rufus Fish, who said he had escaped from the Oregon penitentiary at Salem, was arrested here tonight at midnight. He asserts he was implicated in a bank robbery at Portland.

SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Rufus Fish escaped from the penitentiary here on April 24 last. He had been sent up from Douglas County for larceny.

Bath-Keeper Sells Liquor; Fined.

ASTORIA, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—In Police Court this afternoon George Hill, the proprietor of a Russian bathhouse on Astor street, pleaded guilty to two charges of selling liquor without a license, and was fined $25 for each offense, or a total of $50.
