MOORS TO ATTACK ISLAND FORTRESS

Reinforced at Melilla After Wearing Out Spaniards in Battle.

SPANISH LOSS ENORMOUS

Deeds of Valor Performed When Gurugu Is Stormed - General Killed as He Gains Summit, Leading His Men.

MELILIA, Morocco, July 29.-The battieship Numaneia has been hastily dis-patched to Alhucemas, around which the tribesmen are concentrating for an attack.

The Moors outside of this place have been reinforced by 5000 men. The Spanish forces are well-nigh exhausted, but are hoping that ald soon will reach them. Thesday's battle was a shambles, and as a result the Moore abandoned their positions on the Spanish right flank and retreated to the other side of Mount Gurugu. The greatest herolam was shown by the officers who led the troops up the hillside. They were the first to fall from the Moorish bullets.

General Pintos was slain at the moment

General Pintos was slain at the moment he attained the summit, and a Lieutenant-Colonel fell, pierced by a bullet, while in the act of offering his water gourd to a dying soldier. The Spanish dead were buried in the mining excavations leading to Mount Gurugu.

Albucemas is a small island fortress and prison settlement belonging to Spain. It is situated in the Mediterranean, seven miles southeast of Cape Morro.

SPAIN SUFFERS GREAT LOSS

Troops Driven Back With 3000

MADRID, July 29.—Official dispatches received here today admit that the battle between Moorish tribesmen and the Spanish forces outside of Meilila July 27 was a disastrous defeat. The Moora cut off communication with the Spanish outposts, and the main force of the Spaniards was driven back under the walls of the city, where fighting continued desperately in the city.

The Spanish killed and wounded number almost 2000, which takes no account of the men at the advance posts, who evidently were cut off and abandoned to their fate.

Killed and Wounded.

says:
"On July 27 the Moors cut the railroad, severing communication with our outposts. Our batteries shelled the Moors but were endangered and the advance posts were endangered and they had to be abandoned. The situation at Mellila is grave, despite the desperate bravery of the troops who are now right-ing under the walls of the city.

"Our losses in the engagement were General Pintos, a Colonel, two Lieutenant. Colonels, five Captains and many officers and subalterns and about 1000 men. The wounded number at least 1500, including many officers. The hippodrome is full of wounded soldiers. Two Generals were mortally wounded."

That a great battle had been fought between the Spanish troops and the Moors is now officially admitted from Madrid for the first time. The extent of the engagement was at first minimized in Spain in an effort to pacify public opinion and dispatches concerning the battle were rigorously censored. Early reports gave the losses at a few hundred. The official admission today that the killed and wounded reaches 2000 gives the battle the importance of real warfare, the casualties being far greater than in any engagement dur-ing the Spanish-American War and ex-ceeding some of the most stubborn fighting of the Russo-Japanese War.

The Spanish left probably was cut off without communication, while the main body went on fighting the battle under the walls of the city.

Public Confidence Gone.

Spain tonight is rent by two fears-the fate of the army in Morocco and the ait-ation in Catalonia.

At the outskirts of Melilia the Spanish At the outskirts of Mellin the spanish arms have suffered a serious check. Three thousand soldiers have either been slain or wounded, and the Moorish hordes are fighting at the very walls of the city itself. News from Barcelona, the center of the revolutionary outbreaks, is exceedingly meager and unsatisfactory.

From Lisbon comes the report that the

From Lisbon comes the report that the revolutionists are using bombs and that 100 persons were killed and 200 wounded during the earlier stages of the conflicts. Premier Maura's announcement that the situation in Barcelona showed improvement and word from Melilla that the Moors were retreating from Mount Gurulichtle anneased, the general disgo only slightly appeased the general dis-

Still More Troops Needed.

The Moorish forces, however, have been strengthened by the arrival of several thousand additional tribesmen and the official judgment that 75,000 Spanish troops are needed at the front, indicates that the Meilila army of Spain is in sore straits. A Moorish army is marching on Alhucemas, and a warship has been hurrledly dispatched from Melilia to aid the garrison. Insurrectionary outbreaks are reported from many points in Spain. At Granollera two convents have been burned, while at Cassa Delaselva the civif guard was disarmed and imprisoned in the barracks. The revolutionists are active in Lianda and Figueras, where the railroads have been torn up. Financial institutions are sending their funds across the frontier. The report that a provisional government has been established at Barcelona and that the Governor has been assassinated is unconfirmed, but rumors are persistent that Premier Maura will resign, and that a military dictatorship will be set up in Madrid.

Situation Is Desperate.

The military Governor of Barcelona to-day published a decree ordering the in-habitants of the city to return to their homes. After 24 hours any one found in the streets is liable to be shot on eight. In view of the grave situation at Bar-celona, which is steadily growing more erious, the naval infantry has been or-garrisons have been drawn upon for service in Morocco until the total number of troops in this province, always the hotbed of revolutionary propaganda, number but 8000 men, divided into small detachments located far apart.

To prevent reinforcement of the military, the revolutionists, who have succeeded in effecting co-operation with the workingmen's organizations, have torn up miles of railroad tracks between Madrid and Barcelona, cut trenches across the railway embankments in the country districts, and destroyed many bridges and vinducts.

Fierce engagements are in progress in Barcelona. The artillery has been used against the barricades, but the troops have made little progress in quelling the revolt. The government forces, failing to make headway, have been obliged to be on the defensive, attacking only when absolutely compelled by the menacing position of the revolutionists. The law-abiding element is under orders to remain indoors.

The terror-stricken people are fleeing from the larger towns to the open country and the small villages where there is less exposure to danger.

The situation is complicated by the spread of the general strike ordered by the labor organizations of Barcelona two days ago. The indications are that the strike will spread to the Provinces of Lerida, Gerona and Tarragona, but no definite news has been received from these points.

A special dispatch from Gibraltar says all Spanish batteries stationed in that vicinity have received hurry orders to embark for Meilila.

The ombarkation of the troops is now proceeding.

More than 100 wounded Spaniards were landed this morning and taken to hospitals.

Collins, who was shot and killed at Portland last week by his jealous bride, appears to have fallen up ous bride, appears to have fallen upon a remarkable piece of good fortune as the result of his father's unitimely death. The boy is the son of Dr. Collins and his first wife, divorced in 1997 and now the wife of Count von Rathton, a Danish nobleman, said to be a member of one of the most ancient and wealthy families in Denmark. The Count and Countess were here yesterday, and when they returned to Portland they took with them little Billy, who will go with, them shortly to

Mrs. Miles, mother of Dr. Collins, who Mrs. Miles, mother of Dr. Collina, who has had charge of the little boy since her son and his first wife were divorced, over a year ago, was loath to give up the little fellow, who has become the pet of the household and the neighborhood, but recognized the mother's prior right to the child and turned the little one over.

Count von Rathlou and the child's mother have planned a brilliant future for the lad. During the coming Fall they say he will be placed in a select private school in Copenhagen and given every educational advantage that money can buy.

Attorney J. A. Devit, of Oskaloosa, lowa, whose wife is a niece of Mrs. Miles, and who, with his wife, has been visiting at the Miles home in this city, has acted for the Miles family in settlement of the questions that have come up in connection with the murder of Dr. Collins. He states that there is no contest for the custody of the child, as the grandmother does not wish to dis-pute the claim of the child's mother, be-lieving that the little fellow is in worthy hands and that his future will be a bright one in his European home.

B. J. ASTORIA, Or., July 23.—(Special.)—
Polmanonda Lorgosette, a Columbia River fisherman, was accidentally shot and so badly injured at his home in Clifton last evening that there is little hope of his life being saved.

According to reports received from there, Chris Raglaris, who is a brother-in-law of the injured man, and who resides a short distance from him, returned from a fishing trip on the river late in the afternoon, and stepping to the door of his residence, proceeded to pump the cartridges from his Winchester rifle. One of the cartridges was accidentally discharged, the bullet passchester rifie. One of the cartridges was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through the two walls of the adjoining house and striking Lorgosette, who was standing in the door of his residence, just beyond, in the left hip. The bullet went almost through the man's leg, inflicting an ugly wound. Lorgosette was brought to the hospital here and the attending physicians say the injury is not only a serious one, but may prove fatal.
