Wright Averages 42 1/2 Miles an Hour.

REQUIREMENT IS EXCEEDED

Second Test Imposed by Army Triumphantly Met.

TAFT WITNESSES FINISH

Machine Behaves Perfectly During Entire Flight and Army Officer Who Made Trip Is Much Pleased.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Orville Wright this evening attained the zenith of hard-earned success. In a ten-mile cross-country flight in the famous aeroplane built by himself and his elder brother, Wilbur, and accompanied by Lieutenant Benjamin D. Fouquier, of the Army Signal Corps, he not only surpassed the speed requirements of his contract with the Government, but accomplished the most difficult and daring flight ever planned for a heavier-than-air flying machine.

Incidentally he broke all speed records over a measured course. His speed was more than 42 miles an hour. He made the ten-mile flight in 14 minutes and 42 seconds. He went up nearly 500 feet in his crossing of the Valley of Four-Mile Run, and his average altitude was 200 feet.

Taft Grets Aviators.

President Taft arrived upon the parade ground at Fort Myer just in time to see the aeroplane land, and to participate in the wild demonstration which welcomed the triumphant aviators.

A great crowd watched while Orville Wright had the machine placed on the starting rail and gave the motor a final test.

The engine worked perfectly, and the people seemed to realize that an epoch-making moment was at hand. They pressed forward against the lines which held them back breathless, intense, eagerly watching every movement of the aviator and his machine.

Fine Start Made.

Lieutenant Fouquier climbed into the passenger seat beside the motor. Wilbur took his place at the right tip of the plane, and Orville clambered into his seat beside Fouquier. He gripped the levers and slipped the cable which released the starting weight. The aeroplane shot down the track, rose before it reached the end, and skimmed over the ground for 100 feet or more.

As it drew by invisible powers, it rose higher and higher, reached the end of the field, turned at a slight angle and came about, facing the madly cheering multitude.

Hats and handkerchiefs were waving, automobile horns were tooting, the overwrought spectators became swept as the great white creature turned again southward at the starting tower. Then with a short turn Orville swept about almost over the heads of the closely banked spectators and started straight southward over the center of the drill field.

"They are off," shouted a thousand voices.

Like a giant bird the aeroplane swept unswervingly down its course. It kept straight to the south and seemed to be rising ever higher as it passed over the diverse and heavily wooded country in the distance.

Those who had glasses saw the aeroplane turn, first to the left, then to the right, above Shuter Hill. Then it was lost to view, and as the seconds passed a silence grew upon the crowd.

As the delay in the aeroplane again rising above the skyline became perceptibly alarming, great heads of perspiration stood upon Wilbur Wright's brow and his agitation was evident.

Suddenly the speck came in sight over the distant hill.

"There it is," everybody said, and the sigh of relief was plainly audible.

Even more dramatic than his departure from Fort Myer was the advent of the aeroplane and its passengers at the southerly turning point on Shuter hill, just outside of Alexandria. There the usual crowd was gazing eagerly into the sky. The cavalry men on duty to keep back the people forgot the purpose of their presence and sat rapt upon their horses, watching the blurred apparition.

Wright Shows Airmanship.

It was quickly seen that through some miscalculation of steering the aeroplane, if it kept a straight course, must turn the stake balloon from the east to the right instead of from the west to the left, as had been expected. Suddenly the aviator "put his helm over" and the craft with a sharp hit to starboard, so to speak, cut across the course and turned the aerial buoy from the west. Undoubtedly he lost precious seconds by the maneuver, but it afforded a splendid exhibition of the aeroplane's responsiveness and perfect dirigibility.

Ascends to Dodge Trees.

Behind the high promontory of Shuter Hill the aeroplane was easily 300 feet above ground, but the trees and buildings on the hill called for a still greater altitude to clear them. The watching crowd

MEXICAN TROUBLE BETWEEN CLASSES

RICH SUPPORT DIAZ, BUT POOR FAVOR CHANGE TO REYES.

Visitor From Guadalajara Says Rioting Was Started First by Dismissed Students.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 30.—(Special.)—Dr. W. J. Erlenbeck, of Guadalajara, Mexico, is at the Hollenbeck Hotel with an interesting account of the riots last Saturday in that city, where, he says the populace are jalled by the demons for even daring to yell "Hurrah for Reyes!"

He said: "Corral, the present Vice-President, has the support for re-election of Diaz and the upper classes, who compose the party called the Corralistas, and General Reyes is warmly championed by the peons and the soldiers, who are known as Reyesistas."

"Well, the riots in Guadalajara started when Diaz sent a private car with 28 or 30 Corral supporters to Guadalajara to inspire sentiment for their candidate. The Reyesistas broke up their meeting and drove the Corralites out of the city. "After that the Reyesistas went through the city destroying property in general, and of Americans—who are known as foreigners there and who really are hated by the peons—in particular. These riotous students who support Reyes. They were expelled from school some time ago for political activity in behalf of Reyes, and have been jailed to the number of 150 at a time for hurrahing for their candidate."

Statter was once an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. It is understood that his principal function in his new office will be to keep his chief and Postmaster-General Hitchcock informed regarding the political situation on the Pacific Coast.

BULLET ONLY STUNS HINDU

Negress Fires Pointblank, but Does Not Break Bone.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., July 30.—Recenting the accusation that she had stolen $10 from him, a colored woman shot a Hindu laborer this afternoon, near Gridley. The Hindu's head was not more than a yard from the muzzle of the woman's En-calibre rifle as she fired point blank into his face.

The bullet struck the Hindu squarely between the eyes. The ball was found flattened against the frontal bone and as large as a silver quarter. Dr. Thompson removed the disc of lead and the Hindu soon regained consciousness. The bullet, apparently, merely stunned him.

The greatest excitement prevails in that locality and the finding of gold has resurrected the days of the early '90s.

JUDGE POINTS OUT THAW'S WEAKNESS

'Exaggerated Ego' May Block Freedom.

Jerome Fails to Accomplish Much in Long Quizzing.

GETS MANY SHARP REPLIES

After Ending Third Day of Triumphant Parrying, Thaw Meets His Match in Queries of Justice Mills.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 30.—It was the judge, not the prosecutor, who ruffled the assurance of Harry K. Thaw on the witness stand today.

"Exaggerated ego." "The insane delusion that the possessor is a person of supreme ability and importance," may prove the bar that will keep the doors of Matteawan closed upon him. When District Attorney Jerome had finished his cross-examination, Justice Mills asked Thaw a series of questions, considered by many as more pertinent than any of those asked during the 12 hours that Thaw has been on the stand.

"They are going to argue with me," said the justice, "that all the way through you have shown an 'exaggerated ego.' You have had the assistance of your own leading attorneys of this country, but I have observed you constantly interrupt him and make suggestions. In your former litigations you have constantly changed your counsel. Why don't you trust Mr. Morschauer?"

Thaw Much Put Out.

Thaw was clearly nonplussed. This was a feature of his conduct upon which Mr. Jerome had not touched.

"But I do trust Mr. Morschauer," he hastened to assure the justice.

"Haven't you felt all the way through that you were better able to conduct this case?" asked the court.

"No," answered Thaw, "except perhaps in the case of Mr. Hartridge."

Thaw admitted that he might have interrupted Mr. Morschauer, but pleaded that it was only because he wanted to make suggestions regarding the evidence and not because he felt qualified to take the case out of his attorney's hands.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw conferred with the state's attorney during the day. Nothing tangible has developed in the report that she will sue for divorce.

Jerome Keeps Busy.

Although District Attorney Jerome announced at the close of yesterday's session of court hearing that he was through with Thaw, he recalled him to the stand this morning. The "two or three" more questions which Jerome asked yesterday

COURT SUSTAINED IN SUTTON CASE

DEPARTMENT SAYS MRS. SUTTON MUST BE ACCUSER.

Winthrop Declares All Facts Will Be Brought Out and Guilty Persons Punished.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—That the rulings of the Court of Inquiry Investigating the Sutton case will not be interfered with by the Navy Department was clearly indicated today. In a letter addressed to Henry E. Davis, counsel for Mrs. Sutton, mother of the dead officer, Bookman Winthrop, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, stated that the department, in view of the facts, must decline to accede to his request to vacate the ruling of the court by which Mrs. Sutton was declared to be regarded as a "complainant or accuser," while all persons present at the time of the death of Lieutenant Sutton were regarded in the position of "defendants."

"It appears to the Department," said the letter, "that you have misconceived the effect of the ruling of the Court relative to the status of the officers who were present on the occasion in question. This ruling does not change the nature of the Court in the slightest degree. It is still a Court of Inquiry seeking after facts and not a judicial tribunal with power to try or to punish. Its function is to determine all the facts incident to the death of Lieutenant Sutton and to recommend whether further proceedings should be taken against any person."

"If the court finds that Lieutenant Sutton's death was not the result of his own act, but was caused by another person or persons, such other person or persons so accused will undoubtedly be brought to trial for the offense."

The letter ended by a refusal to vacate the court's ruling.

Paris Receives Confirmation of Worst Reports From Capital of Alfonso's Kingdom and of New Outbreaks.

PARIS, July 30.—Mail advices from Madrid confirm the report of the hostile demonstration which greeted the King on his arrival from San Sebastian, and the rioting which followed. The troops are constantly marching through the streets, with the evident intention of overawing the populace.

Frantic mothers vainly beseege the War Office for news of their sons fighting in Africa. The only reply to each is: "You will be notified if he is killed."

A dispatch to the Matin from Gerona gives an interview with a refugee who fled from Barcelona Wednesday.

Terror at Barcelona.

"There is terror and awful tragedy at Barcelona," he said. "On Monday I saw barricades thrown up by rioters, working like mad. I saw a charge by gendarmes, their heading rush on the barbed wire stretched before the barricades, the fall of their horses, the death of the riders, almost all of whom were poligarned by the revolutionists."

"From Monday to Wednesday as many as 15 convents were set on fire, and the glare of the flames lighted up the sea and terrorized the population. The civil guard and police were hissed and jeered everywhere, but food and cigars were offered to the soldiers, who repeatedly refused to fire."

Dozens of priests and nuns were slaughtered, some at the altar, while holding the crucifix in their hands; others while bravely defending their institutions against the revolutionists and flames, the populace preventing the Red Cross workers from giving aid.

FAMOUS TRACK IS CONVERTED INTO 'SAUCER' FOR RACE.

Races From One to 100 Miles Are Run, and Fast Time Is Made, but No Records Broken.

NEW YORK, July 30.—At the new auto race course on the old Brighton Beach track today, the Chalmers-Detroit easily won the 100-mile race from a small field, having six miles to spare. Only three cars finished the race, the others breaking down.

This event was the leader of a day of racing, in which contests varying from a mile up were run on the circular track.

The racing began with one-mile record trials free for all. Three cars competed for the single prize of $50. The Fiat Cyclone car, driven by Ralph De Palma, finished first in :24 3-5 seconds.

In the ten-mile handicap motor race Edward Scory and Fred Voelker, each of whom was riding a 1-horsepower machine, dashed into a fence. Scory escaped with a shaking up. Voelker sustained several bad cuts about the head, but was not seriously injured.

The ten-mile open handicap motor cycle race, won by Harold Ovington, 35-horsepower (scratch) 19:16.25; J. F. McLaughlin, 6-horsepower (60 seconds) record; F. B. Decker (90 seconds) third.

Fifty mile event, was a runaway race for the Buick car, which finished alone in 29:09.3-6.

The free for all prize, $100 was won by the Fiat-Cyclone, driver Ralph De Palma in 5:53.3-5; Red Dragon, driver Charles Bowers, second; time, 5:54.3-5. Only two starters.

The 24-hour automobile race started at 9 o'clock, with nine entrants, all but one of which were American cars.

The first accident occurred shortly before midnight, when the Stearns skidded and turned turtle on a bend half way around the course. Marquis, the driver, and Mechanician Lang were thrown out and slightly injured. The car lost its front wheels and was temporarily out of the race. During the third hour the Simplex gained another lap.

Sit for Reading and Find Clairvoyants Guilty of Fortune-Telling.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—The Police Court room rippled with laughter as the hall's mallet thumped and thumped before quiet resigned again when Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Donovan today asked Jacob Crupp where he or the spirits got the dollar for his fortune readings. Crupp had just stated that he was under control of spirits and spoke with spirit voices in giving readings when led into a trap by detectives.

Fines of $25 and costs were levied by Judge Mann on Jacob Crupp, Mrs. J. A. Merman and V. F. Nitzel for fortune-telling, under the vagrancy law, this morning. Each of the cases have been appealed to the Superior Court under bonds of $500.

Mazatlan Laid Waste While Recovering From Fire—Ships Sunk in Acapulco Harbor, Causing Great Loss of Life.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, July 30.—(Special.)—Hundreds of lives were lost, innumerable persons were injured and great property loss resulted from earthquakes which shook the entire southern part of Mexico, extending from Oaxaca on the southeast to Acapulco on the Pacific Coast, which was partially devastated at 4 o'clock this morning. Eleven dead are reported in this city, and 52 bodies have been recovered at Chilpancingo.

Tidal Wave Engulfs Hundreds.

Adding to the horror of the quake, a tidal wave swept the City of Acapulco, carrying down the bamboo houses which line the shore, with hundreds of occupants, who were unable to escape. Most of these, it is said, were women and children. Acapulco is off the railroad a short distance, and more substantial houses are built back on the cliff, but the smaller houses extended to the waterfront.

Driven panic-stricken from their homes by the quake, it was some time before the inhabitants realized the predicament of the families in the poorer quarters. Fires which started gained a good headway, and these only added to the death list.

The total number of dead in Acapulco is not known, it being difficult to get details from there tonight over federal wires.

Many Other Towns Devastated.

About 100 miles inland from Acapulco the towns of Taluca, Puebla, Horles and Chilpancingo, the capital of the state of Guerrero, also suffered. A runner reached Chilpancingo with a report that the town of Masatlan, a near neighbor, which was only recently swept by fire, was again devastated. The people there had only commenced to rebuild, and the damage, therefore, was not as great as it otherwise would have been.

Reports have also been received from Reopan, Zapala, Providencia, Atoyac.
