Children's Playground May Be Moved Few Blocks South.

MAKE PLACE FOR NEW JAIL

Opinion Prevails That Purchase of Site for Municipal Building at Park and Everett Streets Will Be Authorized by Council.

Mayor Simon has offered to have the children's playground at Park and Everett streets moved south one or two blocks and installed in even better condition with added facilities, if needed, and it is believed, therefore, that all opposition to the site selected for a new municipal building is thus eliminated.

That the city building, in which are to be located police headquarters, Municipal Court, emergency hospital and City Jail, will be established at Park and Everett streets, seems certain, as the required number of votes in the Council have been pledged to Councilman Lombard, and the administration will therefore proceed to build at that corner.

This is the site selected by the Council committee on health and police, after careful study of the situation, and although the committee on ways and means yesterday afternoon recommended that the appropriation ordinance "do not pass." It is generally believed that it will pass, and that the new structure will be pushed rapidly to completion.

A number of locations for the proposed building were offered, and great rivalry existed between the agents concerned. The price for the quarter block at Park and Everett streets is $42,000, which every one admits is reasonable. However, there is a division of opinion among the members of the Council as to the proper place to build, and it is such difference of opinion as this that has caused the delay of years in this and other very important public problems, such as the crematory.

NEW PLANT PLANNED

Original River Site at Oregon City Is Selected.

ENGINEERS GET ORDERS

Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. to Add 45,000 Horsepower, High-Water Service to Present System.

Engineers in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company have been instructed to begin preliminary work immediately on a new high-water power plant on the east side of the Willamette River at Oregon City.

When completed the plant will have a capacity of 45,000-horse power. It will be possible to utilize this property nine months a year. The probable cost of installing the plant will not be announced by the company until the plans have been completed.

The new power plant will be constructed on the same site that was occupied by the original power station in this section of the Pacific Northwest. It will probably be three years before the plant is completely installed, but it may be possible to derive some power from that source, if desired, within the next 12 months.

The plant will provide a source of power supply in addition to the company's established plant on the opposite side of the Willamette at Oregon City, and which generates 15,000-horse power.

In the meantime work is progressing on the company's new power plant on the Upper Clackamas, about two and one-half miles above its Casadero station. The survey for the extension of the Oregon & Water Power electric railway line from Casadero to the new power station is nearly completed and estimates are being prepared showing the cost of making the extension. Actual construction work on this extension of the electric railroad will begin within the next few weeks.

Another attempt to drive the hawkers from the downtown streets is to be made, Councilman Ellis having introduced an ordinance defining a district wherein they will not be allowed to operate. This includes every thoroughfare from the river to Park, and from Burnside to Taylor streets, and it is believed the ordinance will pass. There is said to be a growing sentiment against the presence of the peddlars, largely because they create no end of nuisance by the oral from their rigs.

Several attempts have been made to displace the hawkers, but always without success. The Council at one time passed a restricting ordinance, but ex-Mayor Lane vetoed it and there were not enough votes in the Council to carry it over his objection. The police are greatly interested in the matter, and are hoping the ordinance will pass. It is certain, however, that it will meet with a vigorous fight on the floor of the Council.
