

NOBODY TO TAKE BACK RESIGNATION

No Shortage in Accounts of Colonel of Third Regiment, O. N. G.

OWES BALANCE OF $328.65

This Will Be Turned Over to Board of Officers Tonight—Books "In Awful Tangle," Says One of Investigators.

Balance January 1, 1909.....	$ 516.14
Receipts.....	6482.00
Total.....	$6998.14
Disbursements.....	6669.49
Balance due Regiment.....	$ 328.65

Charles E. McDonell, Colonel of the Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard, has decided to withdraw his verbal resignation from the service. There will be no shortage in his accounts of the state and regimental funds, the balance due on the former being reported as nominal and the amount accruing in behalf of the regiment as shown in the foregoing table being $328.65, which is scheduled to be turned over to the Board of Officers in their regular meeting tonight. These were the developments yesterday in the militia middle and, embodied in a statement to the public to be drafted by Colonel McDonell, they appear in the following Portland's sensational military chapter.

"My feelings on resignation remain the same, but I can't resign now."

This statement, made by Colonel McDonell last night, inferred he had taken counsel from friends as reported and decided to remain at the head of the Third Regiment and court investigation, which General Pincer deemed the conduct of his office warranted as far as his bookkeeping methods were concerned.

That the Colonel's books were in "an awful tangle" was a statement made by a member of the military establishment last night this declaration being followed by the assertion "The accounts are coming out all right and thus far are absolutely straight."

That Colonel McDonell's brother officers made figures lie in their statements in his behalf it seems apparent from the totals that form his report on the regimental fund.

The regimental fund seldom exceeds $1000 or $1500 a year, was a frequent statement by subalterns of Colonel McDonell. The final report shows the fund accumulated at the average rate of $1072 a month, and from January 1 this year down to date had attained a total of $6779.14.

"In the state fund the balance due will be very little," said Inspector-General Jackson yesterday, "and there is no question that Colonel McDonell will put it up and square the whole thing."

Tonight at the Board of Officers comprising the staff of the militia will take up the subject of the investigation of Colonel McDonell's accounts, which had its inception last Saturday in a hurried meeting of the captains of the regiment. At this meeting it is believed the tangle will be disposed of, and it is hinted in militia circles an official statement of the result of the investigation will not be made until then.

Although Inspector-General Jackson is already scrutinizing Colonel McDonell's accounts with the state, he is not due to report his findings until August 28, and Colonel McDonell, by the same order that directed this investigation, is instructed to turn over state funds in his keeping the evening of August 25 in the armory.

Colonel McDonell is preparing a statement for the public which may be ready this afternoon, but it is probable his explanation of the investigation surrounding his verbal resignation will be deferred until after the meeting of the Board of Officers tonight.

THREE LEGS ARE BROKEN

Trio of Accidents Occurs and Victims Are Sent to Hospital.

Three victims of accidents were removed to St. Vincent hospital late yesterday suffering from injuries to their lower limbs.

William Moss, a carpenter in the employ of Hurley & Mason contractors, fell 14 feet from a scaffolding while at work upon the new Electric building, Seventh and Alder streets. He emerged from his experience with only a fracture of the right knee and was removed to the hospital in the Red Cross ambulance. Jacob Natan, an Italian tracklayer, had his left foot caught beneath a falling rail and painfully bruised at Third-street and Hawthorne streets. He was taken to the hospital, where it was learned several small bones of his foot were shattered. A. Parrish, 45 Belmont street, another tracklayer, sustained a broken leg while at work in the same vicinity.

DESCHUTES ROAD IN COURT

Hill and Harriman Attorneys to Begin Battle Today.

In the United States Court at 10 o'clock this morning the injunction suit of the Oregon Trunk against the Deschutes Railroad will be called before Judge Bean. This suit involves a determination of the survey of the river route in the southern 60 miles of the Deschutes canyon. The Harriman people are prepared to resist the attack of the Oregon Trunk by filing numerous affidavits in opposition to the bill of complaint and its allegations.

It is not likely that argument on the merits of the controversy will be reached for several days, as the affidavits and counter-affidavits which will be filed by the Hill road probably will take up considerable time.

STEAMSHIP COMING SOON

Kansas City Will Sail August 28 From San Francisco for Portland.

The sailing time of the steamer Kansas City, which is to take the place of the antiquated State of California on the Portland-San Francisco run, has been changed again. This time it is stated positively that the Kansas City will leave San Francisco on its first trip north on August 28. On printed schedule cards issued by the Portland & San Francisco Steamship Company recently, September 11 was the date named for the change in steamers.

News of the latest revision of the schedule was received by J. Walter Ransom, agent of the company, in a telegram from San Francisco yesterday. The State of California, Captain Nopander, which arrived in port last night, is therefore probably on her last voyage here.

The Kansas City has undergone a thorough overhauling and remodeling since it reached San Francisco from Newport News in charge of Captain Kidston, who will continue to command her. Although she has accommodations for 435 passengers, a few more than the Rose City can carry, the Kansas City is practically a sister ship of the latter.

NEWS OF ASTORIA SHIPPING

Steamer Majestic, With New Captain, Picks Her Way Across Bar.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special).—The schooner Alvena, which has been lying in Youngs Bay for over a year, left today in tow of the tug Wallula for Grays Harbor to load lumber for San Francisco. Captain Nopander, which arrived in port last night, is therefore probably on her last voyage here.

The last of the Hammond piling rafts to be shipped this season left out today for San Francisco in tow of the steamer George W. Fenwick.

The steam schooner Majestic, which arrived today, had a new master on board, and for this reason she flew pilot flag when outside the bar. As the pilot schooner is laid up for repairs and the bar tug Wallula was at Grays Harbor, no pilots were available, and the Majestic was compelled to follow the steamer State of California across the bar.

G. A. R. CHIEF HONORED

VETERANS TENDER RECEPTION TO COMMANDER VAN SANT.

Affair Under Auspices of Summer Post Participated in by Many Old Soldiers.

Under the auspices of Summer Post No. 12, G. A. R., a general reception was tendered to Commander Van Sant, the commander-in-chief, and his party, who arrived yesterday from the grand encampment at Salt Lake last night in Woodmen Hall, on East Sixth street. The hall was filled with old soldiers from all the posts of the city and women from the Women's Relief Corps. The badges of the G. A. R. were conspicuous, and here and there was a bright uniform. M. L. Pratt, chairman of the committee of arrangements, called the meeting to order, and presented Commander-in-Chief Van Sant, who for half an hour greeted the old soldiers and women of the Relief Corps with a grasp of the hand. Then followed the formal program of the evening, and at the conclusion of the addresses by the Commander-in-Chief and his traveling associates, they were all unanimously elected members of the Ananias Club of Summer Post. Full of good humor and enthusiasm, there was not a dull moment during the evening.

Chairman Pratt welcomed Commander-in-Chief Van Sant in the name of the state and the Oregon G. A. R. posts, and then introduced him to the audience. It was several minutes before the National commander could speak on account of the applause that greeted him as he came forward to the edge of the platform, the embodiment of good humor. He said in part:

"Comrades, I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this affair tonight. It is the first public function I have attended since my election as commander-in-chief. I have come westward I have felt proud of my country, proud of its greatness and magnitude, and I have been greatly impressed with the development of the country as I have come westward. It is my desire during my term to visit every department of the G. A. R. My comrades, what we did for the country in the past, seen in its splendid development. In advancement, in wealth, in financial credit, in reputation abroad, this country has outstripped all the nations of the world since the war, and you, comrades, have been a great factor in that progress and development.

"The country is the most foremost and most potential on the earth, and the old soldiers helped to make it. The earth is now too good for the old soldiers. What would have been the result but for our bravery and achievement in battle? But hard conditions make a nation great as well as they do an individual. A nation that is not fighting for its life is not worth much. But with all its wealth, its power, its American manhood and American womanhood."

Mrs. Russ Chamberlain, past department president, presented the commander with a beautiful bouquet from the Women's Relief Corps of Oregon.

The same music by the Veteran Male Quartet, which was made by Judge E. L. Torrence, past commander-in-chief; Judge W. S. Collins, department commander of Minnesota; R. C. Markle, department commander of Illinois, and others.

Department Commander of Oregon J. P. Shaw was on the platform and the entire party of the commander-in-chief, Judge W. S. Collins, department commander of Minnesota; R. C. Markle, department commander of Illinois; Comrade S. H. Franklin, they spent yesterday in Portland visiting points of interest and visiting the old soldiers.

Commander Van Sant and party left this morning on the 12:15 train for Seattle, where he will attend the Fair on G. A. R. day tomorrow. From Seattle Commander Van Sant will return to Minnesota.

Commander Van Sant is ex-Governor of Minnesota. It was he who initiated the fight on the Northern Securities merger, which resulted in dissolution of that great combination.

PLANT SEEKS SITE

Foundry Company to Build $400,000 Factory.

Another vast enterprise will be housed in Portland or on a near-by site before the close of the year. This was indicated yesterday by the announcement made by Attorney G. F. Martin that the Pacific Car and Foundry Company had taken over the W. F. Holman Manufacturing Company, of San Francisco, and after enlarging the plant there would install a $400,000 branch factory here. A site has not yet been selected by the manufacturers, but several real estate firms have been consulted. A deep water and rail site on the Peninsula may be chosen.

Incorporated for $1,000,000, the Pacific Car and Foundry Company is represented by men of high standing. Mr. J. Hynes is its president, being president of the National Bank of the Pacific in San Francisco. Other officers are: J. W. Reiss, former manager of the W. L. Holman Company, who will be manager of the new concern; C. M. Greene, treasurer; W. H. Judson, vice-president; B. W. Buxton and G. F. Martin, the industry's representative in Portland.

"To employ in the neighborhood of 250 men from the outset, and in all probability to be awarded contracts by the Hill lines, the Southern Pacific and the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company in the manufacture of locomotives, freight cars and coaches, the industry about to locate here is one of the most important enterprises lured by modern Portland. Coupled with huge contracts in the giving of the Northwest railroads, the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company, the O. W. P. and other railway lines will without doubt patronize the car manufacturers. In fact, it has been hinted that assurance of this trade was given the firm before its decision to locate here was reached.

GROUND NOT YET CHOSEN

New Concern Absorbs W. F. Holman Company, of San Francisco, of Which Local Industry Will Be Branch—Work Begins Soon.

The W. F. Holman Company, absorbed by the new concern incorporated recently, is an old manufacturing plant of San Francisco and carries its stamp of origin in the four corners of the United States. Its enlargement will, it is understood, be an extensive one, but will not necessarily result in the construction of a branch factory here. Before a fortnight elapses it is believed the site for the plant will have been chosen here, and Attorney G. F. Martin is confident ground will be broken for the factory's first building before the close of the year.

SEASON IS EARLY
Krebs Bros. Will Begin Hop-picking August 26.

and this scale will probably be followed by all the other growers.

For years the big Krebs yard at Independence has been one of the show places of the valley during the hop harvesting season. It is equipped with a restaurant, grocery store, butcher shop, bakery and other necessary establishments. This season the dancing pavilion has been remodelled, with a gallery added for spectators, and an orchestra has been engaged to furnish music every night. A hot water plant has been put in for the further comfort of the campers.

Verdict Is Set Aside.

The verdict whereby George W. Light obtained a judgment of $2500 damages against the Southern Pacific Railway Company on a personal injury claim last February was set aside by Judge Wolverton this morning on the grounds of newly-discovered evidence and a new trial was allowed. Light was a section hand and was injured almost a year ago while working near Gold Hill, in Southern Oregon.

WAGES TO BE $1 PER 100
Yard Near Independence Largest in State and Many Attractions Are Arranged for Convenience and Enjoyment of Workers.

Krebs Bros. who own the largest hop yard in the state, near Independence, will secure their pickers in this city and will send them to the big yard on August 25. They will begin picking either on August 27 or 28. In previous years growers did not think of picking their hops before September 1 and some never began before September 10.

The Oregon hop crop will be about as large this year as last year and the same number of pickers will be required. Hop men who have been through the yards say it will be a profitable crop to pick—from the harvest bands' standpoint—as the foliage is light and the hops are heavier than usual, the wet season having filled them with lupulin.

The Krebs yard will furnish employment for 1000 persons. All of them will be engaged in Portland and they will be independent on a special train of 13 coaches, leaving this city on the morning of August 26. Conrad Krebs opened an office in the Worcester building yesterday for the signing-up of the pickers.

There are 440 acres in hops on the Krebs place. Eighty acres are in early hops and on these picking will begin first. The crop is the largest the farm has ever produced. About 200 acres will go a ton to the acre, and the remainder will yield from 150 to 1200 pounds to the acre. The price of picking has been fixed this year by Krebs Bros. at $1 per 100 pounds
