Hints to Ballinger That He Let Controversy With Pinchot Cool Down.

NO RENEWAL AT DENVER

But Trans-Mississippi Congress May Be Stirred Up by Any Man Who Discusses Topic — Many Projects Coming Up.

DENVER, Aug. 16.—The Ballinger-Pinchot controversy may not be carried from Spokane to Denver. It was expected that the difference between friends of the two officials, which was a feature of the National Irrigation Congress at Spokane last week, would be resumed at sessions of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which will formally open here tomorrow morning. Many delegates to the Congress are said to be opposed to a recurrence of hostilities and to be making efforts to have discussion of the controversy barred from the convention.

Tells Ballinger to Stay Away.

Mr. Ballinger was expected in Denver, but is not coming. There is a report among the delegates that President Taft hinted to his Secretary of the Interior that he would be well to absent himself and let the controversy with Mr. Pinchot cool down. Mr. Pinchot, however, will be here. Any delegate making a speech in support of the irrigation and reclamation and conservation of natural resources are among the most important of the many to be acted upon. Tomorrow morning will be taken up largely with opening addresses and it will not be until afternoon that subjects of importance will be discussed. The meeting will be delivered by Governor Shafer, United States Senator Hughes and Congressman A. W. Rucker will speak for the Congressional delegation from Colorado. Responses will be made by Governors Brooks, Wyoming; Curry, New Mexico; Sloan, Arizona; Hadley, Missouri; Hay, Washington.

Speeches on Many Topics.

In the afternoon President Thomas F. Walsh, of Denver, will deliver his address. John Barrett, Director of the Bureau of American Republics, will speak on commercial relations of the United States with the Southern countries. La Verne W. Noyes, of Chicago, president of the National Business League, will speak on the Consular Service; Truman G. Palmer, California, on the beet sugar industry and its relation to Western agricultural interests; and J. H. Pletcher, of Tacoma, on municipal control of railway terminals.

At the night session insurance will be discussed by Charles E. Easting, of Chattanooga, and by F. E. Campbell, of St. Louis. Thomas B. Love will explain the Robertson law of Texas.

Road From North to South.

Oregon and Washington, with the Columbia River project, and the Mississippi River states, are enthusiastic for waterways, while the Central Western States are working for larger appropriations for irrigation. A Denver man, Cornelius J. Gavin, has the only entirely new project. He will propose that the congress should build a public highway from El Paso, Tex., through Yellowstone Park to the Canadian border. The proposition has been well received. His plan entails the building by each state affected of the highway within its borders.

The Texas delegation is continuing to work for the establishment of a naval station at Corpus Christi. This matter has been before Congress, where a report by a committee embodying almost the exact language of the Commercial Congress was presented.

Many Interesting Topics.

All in all, the sessions promise to be interesting. Colorado delegates are opposed to Gifford Pinchot; New Mexico and Arizona always bring up the question of separate states; Kansas wants better freight rates and water; Oklahoma has many interests, one an expenditure of $4,000,000 on arid lands in Western Oklahoma; delegates from Grand Junction, Colo., ask a $25,000,000 appropriation by Congress for reclamation purposes, and Utah and Oregon are interested in better waterways. Colonel Ike T. Fryer, of San Antonio, chairman of the executive committee, is being urged for the presidency. His home city is also after the next congress.

William J. Bryan, ex-president of the congress, will not be present, although he probably will send a communication, as in the past.

PLAN RED CROSS ANNEX

British War Office to Copy Japanese Idea for Emergency Nurses.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Based on the German and Japanese models, the War Office has issued proposals for a great voluntary Red Cross scheme in connection with the territorial army plan. It will be worked in connection with the existing Red Cross Society and St. John's Ambulance Society, and in the event of an invasion would provide the entire country with a complete network of Red Cross organizations. Men and women of all classes are invited to become volunteers, to be trained in establishments in every territorial area as nurses, stretcher-bearers and other branches of the Red Cross service.

Liquor-Seller Pays Fine.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Joshua Ballard, who was fined $25 and costs last Saturday for selling liquor in violation of the local option law, succeeded in raising the money today to pay the fine and was released from custody. He had been in the County Jail since the fine was imposed Saturday morning.

Addie Roper's Slayer Dies.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 16.—The body of Harry Watts, aged 28, who died at the penitentiary Saturday night, was buried in the city cemetery this morning. Watts was sent up from Bellingham about three years ago for killing Addie Roper, a crime which he denied up until the time of his death. His death resulted from asthma.

BUILDING TO BE CHANGED

JUDGE BEAN TO HAVE OFFICES IN FEDERAL STRUCTURE.

Bids for Remodeling Called For by Postmaster Young—Many Innovations Planned.

Postmaster Young has received authorization from the United States Treasury Department to advertise for bids for remodeling the second floor of the Federal building, to make room for Judge Bean, who has been without offices up to the present. The bids will be received until September 17.

Judge Bean's new offices will comprise a part of what are now Circuit Judge Gilbert's offices and a part of District Judge Wolvenston's offices, each having contributed a part of his space to Judge Bean. In addition a lavatory will be torn out to make room for Judge Bean. The lavatory will be placed in what is now the petit jury room, the petit jury will occupy the quarters now occupied by the postoffice inspectors, while the latter will go into the room now occupied by the Life-Saving Service employees. The Life-Saving Service will either find offices elsewhere or occupy a small room to the rear of the present petit jury room.

BABY'S BODY IS FOUND

Remains of Newborn Child Fished Out at Ash Street.

The body of a new-born infant was fished from the river at the foot of Ash street shortly after 7 o'clock last night. Deputy Coroner Dunning was notified and removed the remains to the morgue. From the appearance of the badly decomposed body, which was wrapped in newspaper bearing dates of June 30 and July 22, it is evident it had been in the water several weeks. No marks of violence were found and the police think the infant was dead before being deposited in the river.
