MAZAMAS EXPLORE PEAK

Secretary John A. Lee Says Vapor
Could Be Seen 50 Miles Distant on Clear Day—Snow Conditions on Mountain.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Stories of smoke seen arising from Mount Baker's snow-crowned dome following the earthquake in this territory last winter do not appear so far-fetched following the investigations made by the Mazamas of vents in the crater of the huge extinct volcano, Secretary John A. Lee, who returned to this city today, declares that at a favorable hour in the early morning he has no doubt but that the vapor could easily be seen from this city, 50 miles away, with a good pair of field glasses. The "vents" in the crater appeared especially active this year to some of the Mazamas. Secretary Lee, however, who ascended the mountain in 1906 and again in 1906, concludes that on the whole there is not any increase in the activity of sulphurous gases blowing out of the so-called "vents."

The actual crater of the mountain, said Mr. Lee, is that portion lying between the secondary peak and the main peak. It is easy to see that the peaks originally constituted the north and south sides of the main peak. The westerly and westerly sides have been broken and crumbled away by the action of weather, thus leaving the valley or so-called "saddle" in between.

Vapor Comes Out in Puffs.
One of the active vents is situated at the easterly end of this depression, and the other at the westerly end. The east vent is apparently by far the most active, the westerly one consisting at this time merely of cracks and fissures in the snow and ice through which the vapors escape. The west vent, however, consists of a hole extending down into the snow to the porous rocks beneath. It is perhaps 20 to 30 feet in diameter. The vapor puffs out intermittently, rising up in dense clouds, and the snow is crusted with sulphur deposits. I am inclined to believe that in the snow and ice through which the vapors escape, there is merely steam arising from the overheated rocks, though the gases sometimes are almost overpowering.

Snow Conditions Vary.
Snow conditions on the mountain vary greatly. When I, with five others, attained the summit in 1906, we were greatly surprised at the absence of snow to any great extent. The "saddle" between the peaks was almost bare, whereas now it is covered from 15 to 20 feet deep. On the other hand, when I ascended the peak in 1906, snow conditions were very similar to what they are now.

Mr. Lee said that on his trip of 1906, arising early one morning, they could see a vast volume of vapor ascending from one of the "vents" perhaps 2000 feet into the air.

Under the present conditions," he said, "I have no doubt that at an early hour on a favorable morning a similar vapor column would be visible from Bellingham through a good pair of field glasses."

Mazamas Start Home.
The Mazamas broke camp yesterday and by daylight all were on their way homeward bound. Mr. Lee remained behind to care for the baggage and will go up to Deming again in the morning to finish his work.

CAREFUL CENSUS URGED

OREGON MAY SECURE THIRD
CONGRESSMAN NEXT TERM.

Hawley Returns From Washington and Prepares to Visit Different Sections of District.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—That Oregon will have three and possibly four members of the lower house of Congress after the next census is the prediction of Congressman Hawley, who has just returned from Washington, where he has been attending the eight months' session. Mr. Hawley said:

"So far as I know there is anything to do with the census, I want to see it very thorough and complete in every town and county in the district. On the result of the census depends Oregon's representation in the lower house for the next 10 years. We will have three and I hope four members after the census is completed. It is no small task for two men to look after the needs of a great state like this in Congress, and the larger our representation the better it will be for all concerned."

"I regard the tariff bill as a very good measure. I think the country will find that it makes a genuine revision downward and that the consumer will get the benefit of lower prices."

"That portion of Oregon's Civil War claim which has been passed on by the Court of Claims, amounting to about $20,000, I hope will be paid within another year. I have a bill pending for that purpose."

"During the summer I am going to try to get over a good part of the district. I desire especially to visit those sections of the state where there are forest reserves and irrigation and water-power projects. I am heartily in favor of throwing open to settlement all the available agricultural land in the reserves. The department has found the settlers the best and most vigilant help it can get in protecting timber from fire, and for this and other reasons I want to see all the land in the reserves fit for farming in the hands of actual settlers. There is some controversy in Southern Oregon between the holders of mining claims and timber claims, and I am going to try to visit that part of the state and also the Siletz country this summer."

"I have a bill pending to acquire the locks at Oregon City, and in view of the fact that Oregon has shown a disposition to do its full share in this transportation, I am very confident that the Federal Government will be willing to take hold of the matter."

This is the first of a thorough system of street improvement outside of the business streets, and will no doubt be followed up next year by the adoption of this plan of work for a number of additional streets in the residence portion of the city and the carrying out of a complete system of street drainage.

CASEY SHOTS AND STABS

Cripple Kills Woman, Wounds Man and Woman at Goldfield.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Aug. 16.—Patrick C. Casey, formerly a railroad man of San Francisco, tonight shot and instantly killed Mrs. Thomas Healy, wife of a well-known mining engineer; seriously wounded Mrs. Alice Mann and stabbed Frank Dunn, an undertaker. Casey, who came here four months ago, was drinking tonight, when he shot Mrs. Healy and Mrs. Mann sitting on the doorstep of the former's home. After shooting Mrs. Healy he shot Mrs. Mann twice in the leg. Dunn interfered and was stabbed in the shoulder. Mrs. Mann may not recover.

Casey came here from Cripple Creek, Colo. Casey, who has but one leg, made no effort to escape. After his arrest there were threats of lynching.

Baptists Invade Cottage Grove.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The elders of the Baptist Church have purchased two lots in the Long Addition to Cottage Grove, near the City Park, and by next Sunday will have a temporary building erected which will serve as a church until arrangements can be made to build a church. Recognition services are to be held the first of September. The Baptist state missionary, Rev. Mr. Parker, pastors from Roseburg, Oakland, Pleasant Hill, Eugene and other places will be here to participate in the services.

Smelter to Resume Operations.

SPOKANE, Aug. 16.—The Panhandle Smelting & Refining Company's smelter at Ponderay, Idaho, now in a receiver's hands, is to resume work within 60 days, under new ownership. The capacity of the plant is to be doubled. It is announced that the Spokane & International Railway is surveying a line to the smelter and will soon begin grading.

Rainier Dock Falls.

RAINIER, Or., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—While sand was being loaded onto the Rainier dock the load became too heavy and a large portion of the dock crashed in. The sand was being loaded with a derrick from a barge for use in the street work now going on here. Several tons of sand went into the river.

FOUR PORTLAND MEN DRAW
No. 23, of Spokane Lottery, Goes to Local Applicant.

Among the chances for the 100 homesteads in the Spokane Indian reservation, which drawings were held yesterday, four Portlanders were successful in having their names listed among the 250 drawn of the 80 odd thousand applicants. One of these, William H. Daugherty, of 100 1/2 First street, who lives at 1195 Vancouver avenue, is the president of the Portland Portlanders. He visited the Spokane country three weeks ago and filed on all three reservations. He left for Pendleton yesterday morning and is not expected to return for several days. The other winners are Stark Ingraham, a carpenter residing at 1918 Portsmouth avenue. Mr. Ingraham drew No. 149 and with anything like the ordinary amount of shrinkage will come within the 100. He is entitled to file upon claims. D. E. Bales, who drew No. 8, and James M. Reipass, who drew No. 54, are the Spokane drawing. The names of neither appear in the local directory.

Among the names of those drawing numbers between 300 and 600 on the Flathead reservation appears that of Dr. George M. Rubenstein. Dr. Rubenstein is an optician at 189 Third street and resides at 208 Hall street. He is an ex-soldier, having served three years as a pharmacist in the United States Army Medical Corps during the war with Spain and as such was entitled to file on the reservations by attorney. He states that he will file on a homestead, regardless of the character of the land, if he is advanced within the required 3000 mark, as he will not be required to live on the land under his rights as an ex-soldier.

PRISON CONGRESS GETS INTO HEATED DEBATE.

Women Delegates Obtain Floor and
One Earnestly Suggests Chlorotomizing Idiots.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16.—The American Prison Association spent most of today's session in a heated debate on a paper written by Dr. H. C. Sharp, formerly surgeon in the Indianapolis Reformatory, on the "Indiana plan" of performing surgical operations on hopeless idiots and confirmed criminals.

The president, Dr. J. T. Gilmour, of Toronto, Can., spoke in favor of the paper, saying there had been too much maudlin sentimentality on the subject. The speakers who followed the president wanted the paper suppressed said the Indiana plan was contrary to the Bible. One delegate objected to the debate being continued before women, who composed at least one-third of the audience. Thereupon the women delegates arose and took a hard line. The principal speaker in opposition was Warden F. O. Helstrom, of North Dakota.

During the debate it was announced that Connecticut and California had followed Indiana. The motion to suppress a prominent part in the proceedings of the congress.
