Aviation and Motoring.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15-Sporting inter-ests will soon establish two fields, one on the old Guttenburg racetrack, across the Hudson River from New York City, for motor car racing, and the other in for motor car racing, and the other in the Saratoga racetrack for alrahip con-tests and experiments. The old track at Guttenburg is being banked high at the ends in a hurried preparation for races during the second week in September.

Wealthy men interested in aviation have secured the use of the Saratoga field and track, and will experiment with the building and operation of aeroplanes. Later they expect to offer prizes for contests between various machines and operators.
