

TAFI TURNS FROM GOLF TO PROBLEMS

President, Refreshed by Game on Links, Talks to Wickersham About Laws.

GETTING MESSAGE READY

Executive Also Receives Mexican Ambassador to Arrange Details of Meeting with President Diaz.

REVERLY, Mass., Aug. 20.—After wrestling with "Colonel Bogey" all morning on the golf links of the Myopia Club, President Taft this afternoon tackled the more serious work of discussing with Attorney-General Wickersham the problem of a more centralized control of interstate corporations.

The changes in the Sherman anti-trust law and in the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission will form the bulk of President Taft's first message to a regular session of Congress in December next.

The president today received Senator de la Barra, the Mexican Ambassador to Washington. The object of the diplomat's visit, it is said, was to take up the details of President Taft's meeting with President Diaz of Mexico, at El Paso, October 16 next.

SUBMARINES HAVE RACE

Secret Test of Government Boats Is Made Over Two-Mile Course.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 20.—It was learned today that the first race of submarine boats under the surface of the water was held in Narragansett Bay a few days ago. The Navy Department is guarding the details. It is learned, however, that the boats made a speed of between eight and nine knots an hour and showed strength and power of endurance.

The courses were plotted with care, so that the boats would be sure to keep apart, and the race was for two miles. As fast as the boats crossed the finish line they made it known by coming to the surface. They were lost to view for the entire course.

The Cuttlefish won, the Viper was second, and the Tarantula third. The Octopus, which is in a larger class, did not race.

OLD CASE BACK IN COURT

Hammersley Suit Brought Up Again After 25 Years.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Litigation has been renewed over the Hammersley estate, said to amount to $5,000,000, after a lapse of 25 years. The present action is an application by counsel for William Hammersley, 14 year old, only son of J. Hooker Hammersley, that the New York Trust & Life Insurance Company render an account of the estate of Louis Hammersley, who died in 1883.

The application was also adopted on behalf of 30 other relatives who are to share in the estate. Justice Crane reserved his decision on the motions. The original contest was over the will of Louis C. Hammersley between the widow and other heirs. The widow subsequently became the Duchess of Marlborough, and after the death of the Duke, married Lord Bessford.

HOLE PUNCHED IN BILL

ington members were insulted. On the entrance of one Tacoma Senator, we were turned down cold. This bill you are now considering is the one presented under the instructions of the Honorable Executive to one Senator from the Second Congressional District. We, who live in the district, believe we are the most vitally interested and that we should have had the right to be consulted and put our views on record."

Threats Made to Get Even.

For the purpose, he said, of "showing how the fathers of this movement are handing out the dope to those who oppose it," Mr. Beach read a letter from Christopher W. Horr, president of the Direct Primary League, addressed to a member who opposed the Judge's primary bill in which letter Mr. Horr threatened the member with defeat if he ever came up for office again. Beach closed by calling Horr a "political mountebank."

DEBATE REVOLVES AROUND PINCHOT

Denver Congress Commends Forest Policy, but Asks Some Changes.

WANTS LAND SEGREGATED
Critics and Supporters of Pinchot Get Together—Income Tax Supported—Hadley Speaks on Railroad Rates.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 20.—The agitation over the Colorado forest reserves and the activities of Gifford Pinchot broke into open fire before the House-Minutes of Congress this afternoon, and after a hot debate a resolution calling upon Congress for a law declaring for a division of the agricultural, mineral and forest lands was passed.

The resolution was the one presented by ex-Senator Patterson, of Colorado. The feeling was abroad that it was an overt attack on Mr. Pinchot, and this assertion was made on the floor by Frank Gowdy, of Denver.

Both Factions of One Mind.
Mr. Patterson said he had no intention of attacking Mr. Pinchot, and wanted merely a settlement, one for all, of the charge that Mr. Pinchot had overlooked technicalities in reserving forest land.

The floor was alive with prospective speakers until Mr. Gowdy offered an amendment, commending the forestry policies of the Administration. This was accepted by Mr. Patterson, and in turn Mr. Gowdy accepted the Patterson resolution.

Many Resolutions Adopted.
Resolutions to the following effect were adopted:
That the income tax measure become a law.

That the tariff commission of experts be placed in service.
That Congress pass a law regulating the use of grazing lands.

That Alaska be given a Territorial Legislature.
That Congress pass a law preventing the collecting of Federal liquor license in prohibition territory.

That aid be extended American shipping.
Hadley Speaks on Rates.
The principal speaker of the afternoon was Governor Hadley, of Missouri, who dealt with the rate question in his State.

He declared that the railway rebate and not the tariff was the mother of trusts. He said that one man was responsible for placing the blame where it belongs, and for putting a quietus on the rate evil with such force that it has not shown its head since, and that man was Roosevelt.

He said he was not in favor of the Government ownership of railroads any more than the Government owned by the railroads.

He closed his address by declaring that he believed the answer to the rate question was in making the great inland waters navigable.

Unkind Words on "Uncle Joe."
Uncle Joe Cannon and his political household came in for a scoring when Judge J. B. Belford, of Colorado, sought to show that the Commercial Congress is dominated by "special interests."

Judge Belford charged that delegates each year are made to "listen to essays" carefully prepared for the "infantile mind," and then to be explained by a few leaders.

"What's the use of millions of people west of the Mississippi being represented here if they have to sit still and be injected with a few spoonfuls of rhetoric?" he asked.

"If this is going to continue, we may as well quit. If we are going to pattern this congress after the fashion of our illustrious National House and its political czar, let somebody say so and lay down the rules in black and white."

BALLINGER NOT CONCERNED

Has Had Nothing to Do With Alaska Coal Land Cases.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Acting Secretary Pierce, of the Interior Department, today broke the silence hitherto maintained regarding the part taken by Secretary Ballinger in the case of the Cunningham coal entries in Alaska. Mr. Pierce said:

"Soon after Secretary Ballinger assumed office some phases of those cases came up officially before the Treasury Department. The secretary called me and stated that he had been called into consultation about the cases before his appointment, and that he would have nothing whatever to do with them, and directed that all matters relating to them should be handled entirely by myself and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Since the secretary assumed office he has had nothing whatever to do with these cases, and all matters relating to them have been handled either directly by myself or through the General Land Office."

INVADERS RETURN HOME

War Game Near Boston All Over and Armies Disband.

HANOVER, Mass., Aug. 20.—The mimic warfare in which an invading force composed of militiamen from three states, assisted by the Tenth United States Cavalry, attempted to capture the city of Boston against the resistance of the Massachusetts militia having ended yesterday the two armies rested today.

The red army of invasion was encamped here, while General William A. Paw and his Bay State militiamen were at South Boston.

Orders for disbanding the armies of invasion were given, and noon-time saw the troops from New York and New Jersey on their homeward way. The New York infantry and the troops from New Jersey were to go to Fall River to embark. The District of Columbia troops started for Hingham camp grounds by invitation from the First Corps of cadets of Boston and will go into camp there for a day before taking ship for New York.

Liquor Advertisements Banned.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 20.—The Fuller prohibition bill today passed the Senate. There was not a vote against that section which prohibits newspapers and magazines from advertising liquors for sale.
