Best Marksmen of National Guard in Competition at Camp Perry.

OREGON AMONG LEADERS

Local Guardsmen in Class A. In Which Only 15 Teams Belong. Cup Appropriated by Congress Is Trophy Sought in Match.

TEAM OF OREGON NATIONAL GUARD IN 24TH PLACE IN TEAM SHOOT. CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Bullets potted tonight show the Oregon National Guard team ahead of 28 of the 48 competing teams. Today's firing was at 200 and 300 yards the difficult ranges remaining for tomorrow. Oregon men are confident of passing at least ten teams more today. Sergeant Stevens, of Portland, made perfect score of 30 today. Corporal Romaine and sergeant Charlie White each scored 45. The team average was 45. At the end of the second (600-yard) stage of the National Team match, the United States Navy is ahead with 1681, but Massachusetts is crowding hard with 1073 and New York with 1070. On the 200-yard shoot which opened the match, the Navy led, closely pushed by the Annapolis cadets at 600 yards the New York team, which came here with only about a week's practice at Sea Girt, tied the Navy for high score and pulled up from ninth to third place.

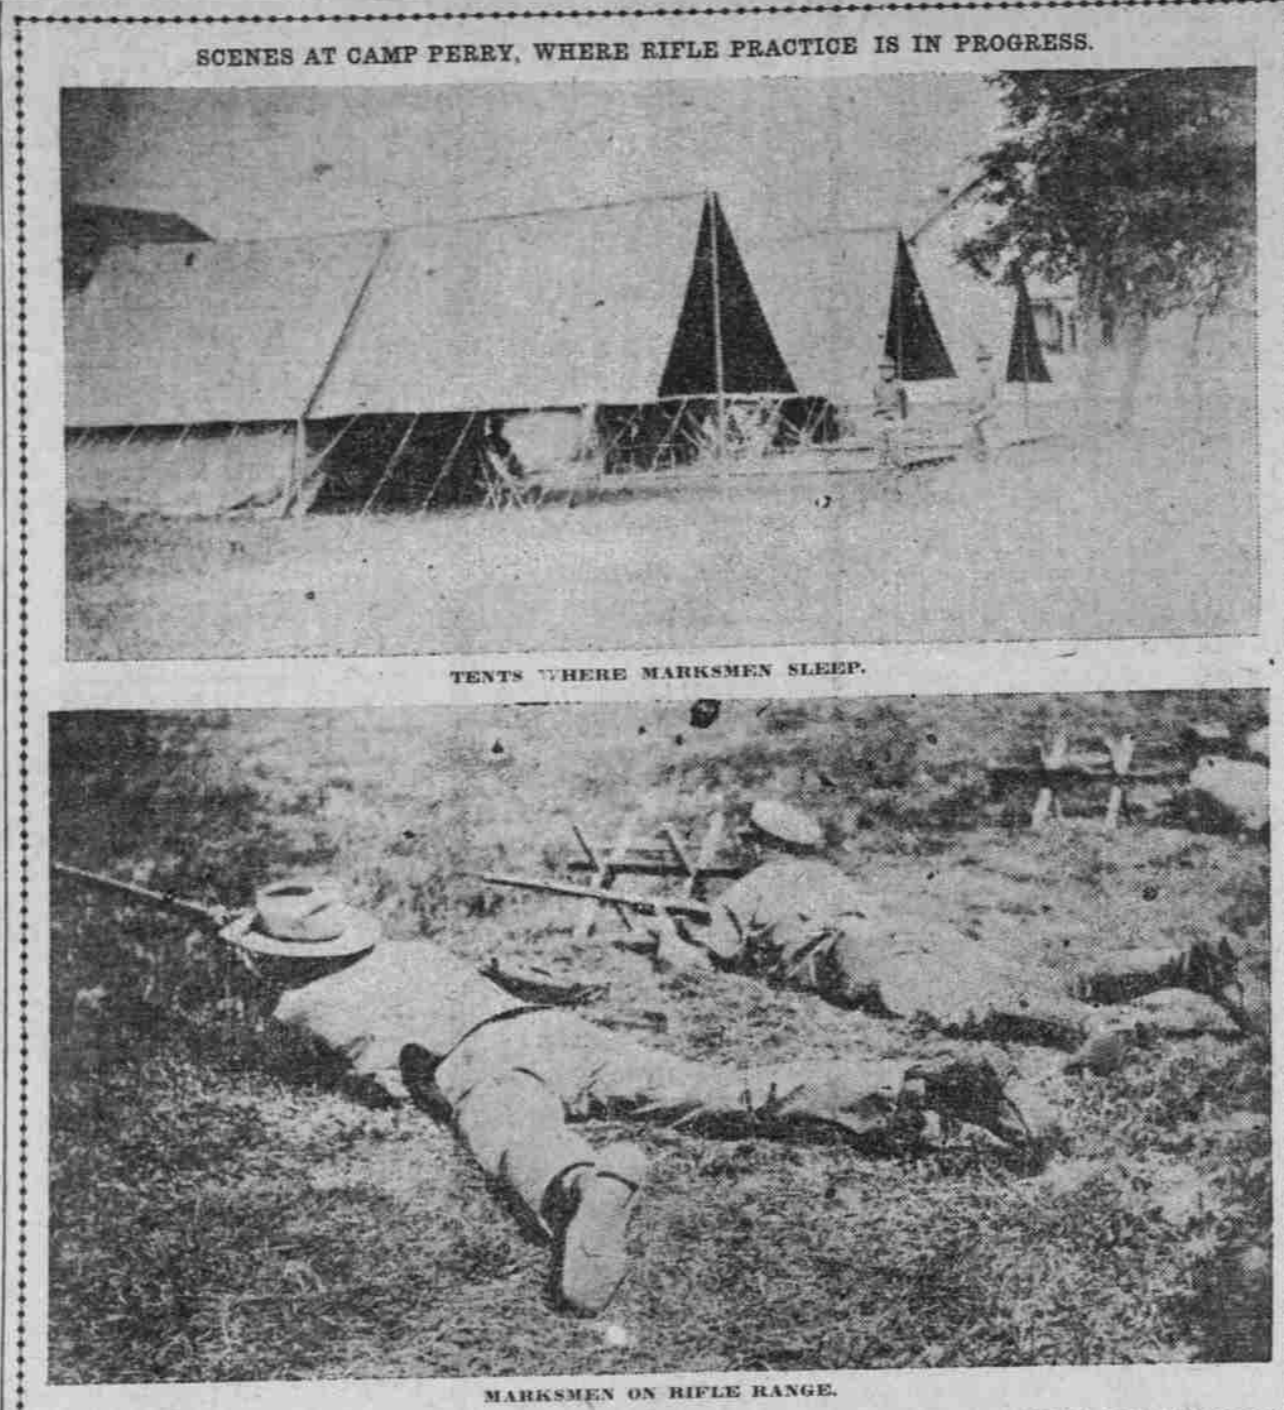

BY GEORGE A. WHITE.—(Staff Correspondence.)—One thousand riflemen, the pick of the Regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps and National Guard of the entire United States, are engaged here today in what is probably the greatest contest in marksmanship in all history. Scores are being secured as never before have been developed in a rifle competition, and it is clear that important results will be shattered best of the United States. The National team match, which will decide the ownership of the National trophy provided by Congress, as well as several other important trophies and large cash awards, has developed into a sharp struggle in which National Guard riflemen are attempting to wrest the victory from the United States service teams. At this time it seems certain that the trophy will go to the United States Infantry, United States Cavalry, United States Army, United States Marine Corps or the National Guard teams from Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Three Classes Made. The 50 competing teams are divided into three classes, according to shooting ability as determined by previous National matches. In the first division, or Class A, are the 15 leading teams of the country, including the Oregon Infantry team. It is in this class that the fight for the National trophy occurs, and consequently the contest is the one to excite the greatest interest. Pitted against the best in the United States, the Oregon riflemen have a hard row to hoe. But in the preliminary practice Friday and Saturday, the Oregon team appeared in its customary good form, shooting well above center.

NUMBERS ARE DWINDLING

Only 36 of Faithful Can Be Mustered at Meeting and Attitude of Assuming Leadership Looked at Askance by Organizations.

BY LLOYD F. LONERGAN. NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—The committee of 100, which, at the start looked as if it would be a power in the coming municipal campaign, is beginning to strike the political bumps. The "One Hundred" was a novelty in local politics, and for some time had the regular politicians on the anxious seat. It aimed to be regarded as a refined vigilance committee and had it been a vigilance committee it might have got away with the bluff.

ROOSEVELT'S FRIEND STARS SCHEME. James B. Reynolds, a great friend of Theodore Roosevelt and an active independent, is credited with the idea that resulted in the formation of the "One Hundred." Mr. Reynolds had been prominent in the affairs of the Citizens' Union and while he recognized that the "One Hundred" could no longer be made effective, he thought it might be possible to form a body which would compel the Republican machine to "be good."

ONE HUNDRED STIRRED UP. In fact, one "leader" arose to remark, "If the committee of 100 will not move, we will start the anti-Tammany campaign ourselves," and he was cheered to the echo when he said, "I drifted along accomplishing nothing and seemingly without leadership. By this time it might be added, the really useful Mr. Reynolds had been lost in the discard of the anti-Tammany organizations, scores of them, were in running order by this time, and the mastery inaction that existed made them peevish. So the other day a number of them held a "fusion conference." In that meeting the committee of 100 was criticized for delaying positive action, and the opinion was expressed that it had itself decidedly lacking in qualities of leadership.
