Dr. Where Addresses Club.—Dr. S. E. Webb, of the Northwestern University of Chicago, addressed the Men's Club of Centenary Methodist Church last night on "Business Building and Men Buildon "Business Building and Men Building," setting forth his conception of success. Dr. Webb said that there is no such thing as luck, and that the way to spell the word luck is w-o-r-k. On this little word, he said, real success depends in the business world. The man, he said, who has his eye on the clock for fear he should be working overtime will never make a success and may never expect promotion, for he never will deserve it. Dr. Webb said that the successful man must have ability, relianever expect promotion, for he never win deserve it. Dr. Webb said that the suc-cessful man must have ability, relia-bility, initiative and action. The speaker drew sketches to illustrate his lecture. Many young men and women attended, all of whom appreciated the address, the speaker receiving a vote of thanks.

FIRE WARNING ISSUED.—Chief of Police Cox turned his attention yesterday to householders who are laying in their asphalt or bitulithic streets in compliance with a recent ordinance. The order, violation of which, will mean arrest and prosecution follows: "Captains of Police-Call the attention of all officers to the fact that section 2 of Ordinance 9689 pro-hibits the kindling of a fire on asphalt or bituhithic streets, and notify them to keep a charp lookout and prevent violations of this character, as the season is now on when residents are having wood sawed leaving a quantity of sawdust on the streets."

Landlady Freed When She Pays for Stolen Apparel She Wore.

Miss Alice Tafford, who conducts a rooming-house at 453 Alder street, was ar-rested yesterday afternoon by Constable Lou Wagner and charged with the theft of the contents of a trunk left in her care by a roomer. Miss Tafford concare by a roomer. Miss Tafford confessed, and after/tearful pleading with Mrs. Amelia Costello, the complainant, she was released after paying Mrs. Costello $150 in cash for the clothing she had appropriated.

Mrs. Costello formerly lived at Miss Tafford's house. She and her husband separated and Mrs. Costello then left for Seattle, where she had secured employ-ment. She had to borrow money for her expenses to Seattle and left the trunk in Miss Tafford's keeping as security. It was understood that when she sent for the trunk it would be dispatched to her by express with the amount of the loan, C. O. D. When the trunk was sent to her she found that everything she owned her she found that everything she owned had been removed. She complained to the police and took the first train for Portland, arriving here yesterday morning. The clothing was found in Miss Taf-ford's possession, but had been worn on the street for several weeks and was no

HER WOOER

MRS. EMILY BROWN, OF BUTTE ACCUSES SALOONMAN.

She States E. P. Knepper, Married Man, Borrowed $800 and Promised Falsely.

Alleging that Edward P. Knepper, a saloonkeeper at 142 Second street, a mar ried man, after wooing her, had induced her to come to Portland under promise of marriage and had borrowed the great-er part of her life's savings, about $500, Mrs. Emily Brown, recently from Butte, Mrs. Emily Brown, recently from Butts, Mont., secured Knepper's arrest vesterday morning. The man is charged with using abusive language to her and threatening to kill her. He will be brought before the court today.

"I would have not have had him arrested, save that he deceived me so cruelly," said Mrs. Brown. "I thought he would marry me, and since I have spent all my money on him I have thad to go to work in a restaurant for a daily pay. When L.spoke to him about his promises When I spoke to him about his promises he tried to drive me out of the city and threatened me if I did not go. MATHISONS IN SUIT

T. S. Complains Oliver Exaggerated Bill for Repairs.

T. S. Mathison has brought suit in the Circuit Court to recover $1350 from Oliver Mathison. The plaintiff says they had an accounting last May, and that he conveyed property which Oliver Mathison has since sold for $3500 to the defendant on account of repairs, which the latter represented to have cost $3000. The repairs were made on cost $2000. The repairs were made on T. S. Mathison's house. T. S. Mathison says he has since discovered that Oliver paid only $1640 for the repairs. The $3500 is deposited in the Scandanavian-American bank. The plaintiff asks that the bank be restrained from paying the money until the suit is decided.

STORY OF ACCIDENT TOLD

Mrs. G. O. Hesse Blames Versteer Party for Collision.

PORTLAND, Aug. 31 .- (To the Editor.)—I wish to correct some of the statements concerning the collision on the Mount Hood road between the au-tomobile occupied by the Versteeg party and a buggy, in which two young ladies and my young son and I were passengers. When we were within a short dis-tance of the Government Camp the au-temobile bere down on us without the slightest warning or use of the horn who were in the buggy miraculously escaped injury, but one of the horses was seriously hurt.

If the automobile party remained at as the driver asserts, it was not to attend to our comfort, but simply to look after the machine. They hurried away without offering us any assistance what-ever. We were compelled to remain all night at no end of inconvenience, and as the borses could not be used the next morning, we women had to tramp ten miles before we could obtain a conveyance to take us back to Salmon.

The people at Government Camp say the automobile started off at a terrific rate of speed, and the members of the party acknowledged to us that their brakes were completely out of order and that they had not expected them to

COMPANY HEAD ARRESTED

Rancher Accuses J. R. Keep, Lumberman, of Passing Bad Check.

Joseph R. Keep, president of the Clear Lake Navigation & Lumber Company, with offices in the Corbett building, was arrested by Constable Wagner, and Deputy Constable Klernan yesterday noon on the charge of passing a bad check. The complaint was filed by Casper Junkers, a rancher near the Sandy postoffice, who alleges that two weeks ago Keep gave him a check for $40 signed by himself in payment of a small sum due Junkers, and that Junkers accepted the check, giving money in change for the difference. The check, he alleges, came back marked "no funds." The lumberman was released on $1000 bonds furnished by W. T. Housener. A preliminary hearing of the case will be held in the Justice Court today.
