50 STEEDS HIS ENTRY

A. C. RUBY TO SHOW PRIZE-WINNERS IN MEET.

Stable Is Reserved on Country Club Ground for Star Exhibit. All Blooded.

A. C. Ruby, of A. C. Ruby & Co., the leading breeders, importers and exporters of their particular line of heavy horses in the Northwest, yesterday afternoon filed entries of the largest list of prize-winners that have ever appeared in a show ring west of Chicago under a single management. Ruby's list consisted of 59 head of horses, all importations from Europe, and covered five breeds, which are being developed more rapidly, extensively and successfully than any others in this state.

This array of contenders for ribbons, championships and grand championships includes the Royal Belgians, Percherons, English Shires, German Coachers and Hackneys. The exhibitor's data filed with the entries declare that every animal in the lot has won one or more prizes in some livestock exposition heretofore.

Some of them carried off their honors on the other side before Mr. Ruby made his last trip through the horse-breeding countries of Europe and gathered up his shipments, while others have been in on the winnings in former shows on the Pacific Coast.

WIFEBEATER GETS JAIL

JUDGE BENNETT FLAYS HIM FROM BENCH, TOO.

Tells Him Conduct Such as His May Be Expected From Brute, but Not From Human Being.

To Charles Heisig, wife beater, yesterday morning Judge Bennett gave a sentence of 90 days on the rockpile and a scathing rebuke. Heisig lived with his wife at East Twenty-third and Bidwell streets, Sellwood. The woman has been employed in a laundry supporting herself, her three children and her husband. The testimony brought out that Heisig had been drunk and idle for months. His treatment of his wife was so bad that she recently secured a divorce from him for cruel and inhuman conduct.

Five weeks ago Heisig pleaded to be taken back and promised to lead a good life for the future. Mrs. Heisig consented and paid the $2 necessary for a marriage license. All she had left was $6, and he was penniless. They were remarried, and before the knot had been retied 24 hours Heisig had taken part of his wife's savings, bought a dozen bottles of beer and began a carouse which lasted until a few days ago. Then he came home and ordered their little son out of the house. The mother defended the boy, and as a result received a beating.

"Heisig," said Judge Bennett, "we

MERCURY TO RISE AGAIN

Forecaster Predicts Warmer Weather for Today.

District Forecast Official Beals has predicted fair weather and warmer for today. Westerly winds will prevail, which will help out the sweltering multitudes. The cooler weather promised for yesterday arrived by a margin of 3 degrees. The thermometer succeeded in getting up to 32 degrees at 4 o'clock. The forenoon was comparatively cool, the reading, at noon being 69 degrees.

The high pressure area is moving eastward. A thunder storm was reported at Baker City and slight precipitation at various points in Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho. Hourly temperatures at Portland yesterday follow:
