

PEARY TRIUMPHS AND ATTAINS POLE

Flashes News on Voyage Homeward.

AMERICAN FLAG NAILED ON

Found No Trace of Cook on Arctic Journey.

WORLD AWAITS ARRIVAL

Brief Messages From Labrador Coast Announce Success After Lifetime of Effort—Seventh Expedition Wins.

PEARY'S PREVIOUS EXPEDITIONS
1898—Reconnaissance of Greenland island ice cape east of Disco Bay, 70 degrees North latitude.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Peary has reached the North Pole. It has been doubly discovered. From the bleak coast of Labrador Commander Peary today flashed the news that he had attained his goal in the Far North, while at the same moment in Denmark Dr. Frederick A. Cook was being dined and lionized by royalty for the same achievement.

Yankee grit has conquered the frozen North and there has been created a confidence such as the world will never see again. Two Americans have planted the flag of their country in the land of ice, which man has sought to penetrate for four centuries; and each, ignorant of the other's conquest, has sent within a period of five days a laconic message of success.

Messages of Victory.

Here are the various messages received today announcing Peary's victory:
"Indian Harbor, via Cape Ray, Sept. 6.—To Associated Press, New York: Stars and Stripes nailed to North Pole. (Signed) "PEARY."

Found No Trace of Cook.

A dispatch from St. Johns, N. F., says that Peary found no trace of Dr. Cook. This news reached here tonight through Captain Robert Bartlett, of the Roosevelt, Peary's ship.

While Peary does not expressly repudiate Dr. Cook's contention in so many words, his statement may have an important bearing upon determining the extent of Dr. Cook's explorations.

The Roosevelt was in good condition and the crew all right, Captain Bartlett wired, and he reported that the schooner Jeannie, carrying supplies for the expedition, had met them off the coast of Greenland.

Found No Trace of Cook.

Coming south, the Roosevelt passed Etah and Upernivik, where Dr. Cook had preceded Peary. The Roosevelt tonight is bound for Chateau Bay, Labrador, with Peary and party on board, where she is due tomorrow. Chateau Bay lies northwest of Castle and Henley Islands on the northern shore of Belle Isle Straits and due east of Belle Isle.

Nails Flag to Pole.

Cook in his first message was brief, but non-committal. Peary was even briefer, but specific. "Stars and Stripes nailed to the Pole," he said. Five days ago Dr. Cook sent out from the Sledland Islands the first message of his success, a message that has aroused a storm of controversy around the world.

WOMAN'S DREAM OF DEATH COMES TRUE

MAKES INQUIRY ONLY TO HAVE VISION CONFIRMED.

Young Man Is Killed in Eugene and Revelation of Death Is Received in San Francisco.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—What is believed to be a remarkable case of mental revelation is conveyed in a letter received by the Chief of Police here from a San Francisco woman who asked for information about a brother she dreamed had been killed or seriously injured.

The woman is Mrs. Kimmers, of 1050 Stanton street, San Francisco. Her brother, C. W. Jessie, was killed in a cave in the Payne brickyard here Thursday. Friday night his sister says she had a mental vision of his being killed or meeting with a serious accident.

Inasmuch as Jessie had been here but a short time and as no one here knew of his relatives, it is not probable that Mrs. Kimmers had received any tangible notification of the accident to her brother when she had the prophetic dream.

Mrs. Kimmers' letter was received yesterday afternoon and was turned over by the Chief of Police to the coroner, who got into communication today with her by long-distance telephone and conveyed the intelligence of the young man's tragic death.

In her letter Mrs. Kimmers' description of her brother left no doubt as to the identity of the young man who had been killed here. In her conversation with the coroner Mrs. Kimmers asked that the body of her brother be held until she could get into communication with another brother who resides in Roseville, Cal.

PREHISTORIC BONES FOUND

Tooth of Monster Uncovered Near Pendleton 14 Inches Long.

PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Portions of a skeleton of some unknown prehistoric animal of unusually huge proportions have been unearthed by Orville Elder, on his farm in Despain Gulch, about 18 miles northwest of Pendleton. To convince his skeptical friends that his find is genuine, Elder brought in a tooth which is 14 inches long and has a chewing surface 7 1/2 inches.

The molar is in a fairly good state of preservation, but Elder says that most of the other bones crumble to pieces as rapidly as they are removed from the earth. There are some pieces of the ribs which are six or eight feet long, however, and as all the bones seem to be of like gigantic proportions, the animal must have weighed many tons.

AMERICANS ARE IN FLOOD

Tidal Wave Overwhelms District in Which Are Many Oil Men.

MONTREY, Mex., Sept. 6.—General Trevino, commanding the military zone, received a dispatch tonight from Tampico, stating that Soto La Marina and the surrounding country, in which are many American oil men, had been overwhelmed by a tidal wave.

The dispatch states that the inhabitants of Soto La Marina had taken refuge in the hills and were destitute. No state aid is to be expected. No state aid is to be expected. No state aid is to be expected.

HERCULES MILL BURNS

Fire of Unknown Origin Causes Nearly $100,000 Loss at Burke.

WALLACE Idaho, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Fire of unknown origin tonight destroyed the mill at the Hercules mine, together with expensive machinery. The plant, which was one of the most modern in the Coeur d'Alene, will be a total loss, the damage being estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, with no insurance.

It is not known at this time what effect the loss of the mill will have on operation of the mine, but it is not believed to be necessary to close the mine, as much of the ore can be shipped in the crude state until the mill is replaced.

TWO RESCUED FROM CAVES

Adventurers Almost Perish While Lost in Arizona Cavern.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Sept. 6.—After being lost in the ice caves at Lake Mary, ten miles below here, for nearly 24 hours, John Michels and of Newark, Ohio, and J. S. Price, a recent arrival here, were rescued late today by one of the numerous searching parties that had been in the cave all night and today.

The men were nearly exhausted and badly frostbitten when found and must soon have perished. They had torn up their clothing in order to make a rope with which to cross a crevasse and had given up the attempt when the searchers came upon them in a side chamber, 150 feet under ground.

FATHER DROWNS IN ATTEMPTED RESCUE

REV. T. A. CULLEN LOSES LIFE NEAR MILWAUKIE.

Leaps Into River to Save 4-Year-Old Son, Who Is Rescued by David Sholin.

MILWAUKIE, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Leaping into the Willamette River to save his 4-year-old son, Phillip, who had fallen overboard from a launch, Rev. T. A. Cullen lost his life opposite this place at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The boy was saved by David Sholin.

Rev. Mr. Cullen was a pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance, and lived at 228 East Nineteenth street, Portland. A party of 12, including Mr. and Mrs. Cullen, their two children, G. H. Thomas and daughter, Ed Sholin, David Sholin, Mrs. Ruth Turner, daughter and son, left Portland in a launch this morning for a pleasure trip to Oswego. The party took lunch there, and was returning, Cullen's little boy being seated in the front of the boat, dangling his bare feet in the water.

A sudden lurch of the boat threw him overboard, and his father, who was a good swimmer, sprang in to rescue him. Cullen evidently took cramps, for he did not come to the surface.

About ten men set at work at once dragging the river for Cullen's body, the water being about 80 feet deep at this point. The body was recovered a half hour after the accident, but two hours' efforts at resuscitation failed to restore the life spark.

TWO DAYS OF CONFERENCE

President Will Act on Alaska Coal Land Today or Tomorrow and Put Lid on Conservation Roy Once for All.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 6.—Secretary Ballinger came to Beverly today, armed with three portfolios filled with reports regarding the Cunningham coal land entry cases in Alaska, which have been the subject of serious charges preferred by Louis R. Glavis, an inspector, against officials of the General Land Office and of the Interior Department. Mr. Ballinger intended also to take up with President Taft the controversy between the Interior Department and the forestry division of the Department of Agriculture.

The President had accepted an invitation to present the cups at the horse show of the Myopia Hunt Club this afternoon, however, and there was no opportunity to talk over official matters. Mr. Ballinger will see Mr. Taft tomorrow and Wednesday. It is expected that matters in the controversy will be settled before Mr. Ballinger returns to Washington, Thursday or Friday.

Mr. Ballinger could not be drawn into a discussion of the policy of the Interior Department or of the Glavis charges. He said, however, that the Interior Department had nothing to fear from the closest scrutiny.

It is the general belief that out of Mr. Ballinger's interview with the President some definite action will result. The issue has been rather too sharply drawn, and, as was the case with Director North, of the Census Bureau, and Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, it cannot be overlooked according to the judgment of Government officials who have been perturbed by the intensity of the controversy. The fact that Chief Forester Pinchot is a warm personal friend of ex-President Roosevelt and that he has called in question the faith of the Interior Department in carrying out the Roosevelt conservation policy makes the situation rather embarrassing to the President.

THOUSANDS SEE BALLOONIST FALL

FRED BANTER DROPS 1000 FEET AND STILL LIVES.

Parachute Falls and He Crashes to Ground in Front of Grandstand.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—More than 6000 persons, more than half of whom were women, saw Fred Banter, a balloonist, fall nearly 1000 feet this afternoon at a Labor day picnic at De Kalb. Nearly every bone in Banter's body was crushed into a shapeless mass but at a late hour tonight he was still alive.

Banter was to have made a parachute leap and his ascension directly in front of the grandstand at the fair grounds. When it came time for him to make his leap, however, his parachute wire failed to work and he fell the entire distance directly in front of the stand. His body was crushed into a shapeless mass but there was still a spark of life left and numerous physicians who were in attendance are making desperate efforts to save the man's life.

Banter, while falling, missed a haystack about 20 feet. Had the wind been blowing in the right direction he would have alighted on the stack and his life probably been saved.

Banter was an Aurora man and has made more than 100 ascensions.

TWO PORTLAND LADS LOST

Search Made at Seaside for Roy Hatfield and Jack Adams.

SEASIDE, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Searching parties will leave here in the morning in quest of Roy Hatfield, aged 18, son of Horace Hatfield, a real estate dealer residing at 367 East Washington street, Portland, and Jack Adams, aged 18, also a Portland lad, who are believed to have either drowned or to have been entrapped on Tillamook Head.

Leaving their camp on the edge of this city last Tuesday, six days ago, Hatfield and Adams embarked in a rowboat for a trip around Tillamook Head, and yesterday it was thought the young men had successfully rounded the point, but their failure either to return or to send any word explaining their continued absence has served seriously to alarm their friends.

A searching party was organized here today and early tomorrow morning a thorough search will be instituted for the missing young men.

PHYSICIAN HOPES FOR BEST.
ARDEN, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Dr. W. G. Lyle, E. H. Harriman's physician, tonight gave out the following bulletin:
"Mr. Harriman has suffered a relapse. He had a sharp attack of indigestion on Sunday, but rested comfortably today. We hope for the best."

ARDEN, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Edward H. Harriman has suffered a relapse and it is thought to be in a serious condition tonight. Dr. William G. Lyle, the family physician, admits that there has been a change in the financier's condition, but insists that there is no cause for alarm.

"Mr. Harriman suffered a sharp attack of indigestion yesterday, but he is resting comfortably tonight," Dr. Lyle said to a reporter.

Inquiries Besiege Physician.
Dr. Lyle appeared anxious that Harriman's condition should not be exaggerated. The physician was besieged with telephone inquiries following a day of rumors that had apparently started in New York and had disturbed Wall street.

Two incidents at Arden seemed to indicate that Mr. Harriman's condition is again believed to be serious. A trained nurse was hastily summoned. A second incident was the sudden postponement of a lawn picnic arranged by Mr. Harriman's daughters for the children of the Episcopal Church here today.

"It is only natural that a sick man should want a nurse," said Dr. Lyle.
Nurse Needed Day and Night.
Dr. Lyle today sent a message to Miss Taylor, superintendent of the St. Luke Hospital, central register at No. 214 West One Hundred and Eighth street, New York, requesting that a professional nurse be sent on the first fast train. The nurse reached Arden at 11:30 this morning and was taken to the Harriman house in an automobile. She said that she understood that Mr. Harriman was critically ill.
