

HIS WORKMEN LAY HARRIMAN IN TOMB

Rulers of Wall Street Pay Last Tribute.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES PRIVATE

Only Invited Guests Attend Except His Loving Neighbors.

THREE SERVICES ARE HELD

Holy Communion Celebrated, Then Public Memorial, and in Afternoon Great Financier Is Buried on Estate He Loved So Well.

ARDEEN, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Through the quiet aisles of Ramapo woods, the body of Edward Henry Harriman was carried today from the great house he never lived to see completed, and laid in its last resting place on the Arden hillside.

The rulers of Wall Street came from New York to pay their last tribute, but the most prominent part in the ceremony was taken by the men who knew him best as a country squire and master of the great estate, which covers 4,000 acres of hill and valley.

Workmen Are Pallbearers.

His general superintendent, his master carpenter, his master mason and the managers and assistant managers of his dairies, his farms and his trotting stables bore his coffin. The funeral was private and only those who were personal friends of the family and had received invitations from Mrs. Harriman were admitted.

Distinguished People Present.

Mrs. John C. Neilson, John Carpenter, Charles Carpenter, William Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Har, Mrs. Frank Stevens, Mrs. Emily Underdonk, Mrs. David Murray, Miss Calhoun Harriman, Miss Helen Harriman, Dr. and Mrs. Mercer, Hon. B. B. Odell, Jr., and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. John H. McCullough, Mrs. J. B. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Harriman, G. Clark and family, C. A. Peabody and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. DeForest, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Berwind, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Trubeau, Mrs. G. W. Perkins, Rensselaer Weston, Alexander Miller, G. C. Westhoff, William Mehl, J. Kell, J. Kruttschnitt, J. C. Stabbe, Maxwell Ervats, L. F. Loree, James Stillwell, Jacob H. Schiff, F. D. Underwood, Thomas Hastings, J. W. Sterling, J. T. Harahan, Harvin Hughitt, H. A. VanAlstyne, Dr. and Mrs. George Dixon, W. S. Johnson, Thomas Price, Stephen Brooks, A. G. Hackstaff, Sydney Grant, W. V. S. Thorne, Chauncey Stillman and Robert A. Lovett.

First Service at Home.

The first service was holy communion, celebrated at 10 A. M., by the Rev. J. Holmes McGuinness, at the Harriman home, on Tower Hill. At 11 o'clock came a public memorial service at St. John's Church for the employes of the farm and parishioners, who, on account of lack of space, were unable to attend the funeral service later. Mrs. Charles D. Simons, Mr. Harriman's sister, her husband, two daughters and Orlando H. Harriman, a brother, were the only relatives present.

Elaborate precautions were taken to preserve the privacy of the afternoon service. Several scores of employes, aided by a number of policemen, guarded all roads over which the funeral procession passed and kept watch at intervals of 20 yards around the patch of woods which includes the Harriman burial plot.

Eight carriages followed the hearse from Arden House. The first carried Mrs. Harriman with her daughters, Mary and Carol, and her sons, Walter Averill and Roland. Mrs. Robert L. Gerry, the married daughter, drove in the next carriage. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Charles Peabody, Judge Robert S. Lovett and Dr. W. G. Lyle.

Bearers Garbed in Black.

The casket—one solid mass of lilies of the valley and green vines with an immense bunch of crimson roses on top—was carried to the altar by eight bearers in black and wearing black skull-caps. The regular funeral service was conducted by Dr. McGuinness, assisted by Rev. G. Nelson, archdeacon of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York. A male quartet and the choir of Grace Church, New York, sang "Aure With Me" and "There is a Land of Pure Delight," Mr. Harriman's favorite hymns. The service lasted but 20 minutes. Then the bearers carried the casket to the burial plot, 100 yards up the hill. There was no room inside the burial ground for more than 15 or 20 beside the mourners and the two officiating clergymen. Others stood in the road outside and looked over the stone wall.

Several hundred Harriman employes and their families stood with bare heads outside the church during the services.

Rev. J. Holmes McGuinness, Harriman's chaplain, at the funeral services over the body of the dead financier, spoke as follows:

Private and comparatively small as this gathering is, I feel upon me a power, both

DIVORCE HARD ON GOULD CHILDREN

LITTLE ONES MUST MOVE BACK AND FORTH.

Six Months of Year They Are to Be With Father, Then With Mother, and Either May Remarry.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—What is to become of Helen Margaret Gould, aged six and one-half years, and Dorothy Gould, aged five years, heiresses alike to their share of the mighty Gould millions and their mother's divorce decree?

A few weeks back, when Mrs. Frank J. Gould secured a decree of divorce, Supreme Court Justice Gleicherich played the role of a modern Solomon and divided the two daughters of the unfortunate match between their parents, not physically, but according to the calendar.

So for six months in the year and Christmas day little Helen Margaret and little Dorothy, with their retinue of maids, governesses and visiting instructors, will live with their mother. At the end of that time, with their maids, governesses and instructors, they will remove to the residence of the father.

The law gives Mrs. Frank Gould the right to marry, if she so desires. The law says that Frank J. Gould may not marry in the State of New York, but he may take chances and go to another state to marry again and then bring his second wife into New York.

REVISION OF LAND LAWS TAFT'S AIM

Ballinger Sent West to Get Ideas.

WILL REPORT TO CONGRESS

President Anxious Roosevelt Policies Be Legalized.

BASIC PRINCIPLE KEPT

Former President Overstepped Constitutional Rights in Backing Pinchot, and Taft Would Legalize Rulings.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 12.—When Secretary Ballinger returns to Washington in the Fall he will prepare, for submission to Congress, a statement of needed changes in the National Reclamation act, the various public land laws and legislation affecting Indian affairs.

It was for the purpose of studying the operation of existing laws that the Secretary spent several months in the West during the Summer, and the recommendations which he will submit will be based upon his personal observations in the field.

Sweeping Land Law Changes.

Like other practical Western men, Secretary Ballinger has long been convinced that the land laws, as a whole, need radical revision. As Commissioner of the General Land Office, he recommended a number of changes, but as Secretary of the Interior his recommendations will be more sweeping and decidedly more comprehensive.

In his former position he was at liberty merely to recommend changes in the land laws proper. As Secretary of the Interior he can properly recommend changes in the reclamation law, as well as in statutes affecting the Indians, for those bureaus are all now under his jurisdiction.

Roosevelt Work on Legal Basis.

What the Secretary's recommendations specifically will be cannot yet be learned. He himself has not fully determined upon what changes he will urge, and will

Dr. Norman Hansen Relates Peculiar Story.

NEW YORKER IS SILENT

Danish Paper Publishes Account of High-Handed Action of Peary, Who Leaves Note Saying Rival Is Dead, No Use to Search.

SCIENTIFIC ARBITRATION OF NORTH POLE DISPUTE IS URGED ON ALL SIDES

Little, if any, progress has been made towards settling the Peary-Cook controversy over the discovery of the North Pole. Sentiment in this country and abroad strongly favors placing the whole matter before an unbiased scientific commission for decision. Both from Germany and France recommendations came yesterday for deciding the famous quarrel by scientific methods. In New York the Arctic Club of America is planning to have both explorers in New York during the celebration. Dispatches from Paris indicate France would not be averse to acting as mediator in the dispute as an unprejudiced nation.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12.—A remarkable letter giving Dr. Frederick A. Cook's version of the trouble with Peary over supplies appears in the Politiken.

The letter was written by Dr. Norman Hansen, a prominent Danish physician, who several times visited Greenland to study eye disease. Dr. Cook told practically the same story to one of his closest American friends just a week ago, before Commander Peary reappeared on the scene, but said he did not intend to make it public because it might lead to unpleasantness.

Dr. Hansen was with Dr. Cook for

IRISHMAN IS TREADED BY ANGRY CHINESE

CANNERY HANDS RESENT BURIAL OF ONE AT SEA.

White Man Acting as Watchman Is Set Upon and Forced to Flee for Life to Rigging.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The sight of a terrified white man clinging to the rigging about the cross trees of the bark Star of India, newly arrived from the salmon fisheries of the North, while a mob of angry Chinese raged about the deck below, led Jimmy Sinnott, skipper of a harbor launch, to pull alongside of the bark today to see what caused the riot. Not until Sinnott had displayed a revolver were the Celestials subdued.

Then Patrick McGinnis, the man in the rigging, watchman of the vessel, slid to the deck.

When the Star of India sailed from the canneries her hold was crammed with Chinese cannery hands. Wo Hop, one of the number, died during the voyage and McGinnis discovered the body. Despite the infuriated Chinese, he consigned it to the waters, with a canvas shroud about it, and a shot at its heels.

When the bark anchored, the captain came ashore, leaving McGinnis in charge. The smoldering rage of the passengers then broke into flame and McGinnis sought refuge in the rigging. They believed the sailor had not been in accordance with Chinese funeral rites and determined to wreak vengeance on the watchman. The opportune arrival of Sinnott saved McGinnis rough treatment, if not worse.

WHEAT RATE CUT BENEFITS OREGON

O. R. & N. Expected to Bid for Trade.

INTER-STATE ORDER APPLIES

Tariff Must Be Same From Intermediate Points.

HILL LINE MAY APPEAL

Commissioner Lawrence Confident, However, Courts Will Recognize Justice of Order After Extended Investigation.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—"Wheat rates on the O. R. & N. in Oregon will be reduced in accordance with the 12 1/2 per cent reduction ordered on the North Pacific in Washington," is the prediction made tonight by State Railroad Commissioner John C. Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence said:

"The order of the Commission applies only to the Northern Pacific, but we confidently expect the reduced rates will be met by the O. R. & N., otherwise shippers at competitive points will naturally divert all the grain to the road which will give the cheapest haul to tide water markets."

Oregon Rates Must Be Cut.

The O. R. & N. officials certainly will not evet such a diversion of traffic. The grain haul revenue is a big item in O. R. & N. earnings. When the O. R. & N. meets the cut it will announce tariffs making rates to Portland identical with the Tacoma-Seattle rates ordered on the Northern Pacific. "This done, the Interstate Commerce Commission rules will apply, which will require that the O. R. & N. charge no more or higher rates from intermediate points in Oregon than the rate from Palouse points to Portland. In other words, meeting the cut in Washington means the O. R. & N. must make lower rates in Oregon. By relationship of rates this reduction will extend to all points in the latter state."

Shippers Route Grain.

During the hearing the railroad officers contended for a time the effect of this order reducing rates on the Northern Pacific would be that the railroads there would themselves make Portland the shipping terminal, using the shipping water grade as a cheaper cost
