

WHITE PEOPLE KEEP THEIR PASTOR

Cheers Greet Dr. Brougher's
Decision Not to Go to Los Angeles.

DEACONS WON HIM OVER

Plans for Enlarged Work and Offer of Assistant Pastor Convince Him Greater Opportunity Is Open Here.

With hand-clapping, tears, the doxology and a Chautauque salute, a large congregation at the White Temple yesterday morning resolved Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher's announcement that he had decided to decline a call to Los Angeles. In expectation of the announcement an unusual number filled the auditorium of the temple at the morning service, none of whom had any positive intimation of what the pastor's decision was to be.

The denouncement did not come until well toward the middle of Dr. Brougher's statement and at the first words showing a determination to remain the speaker was interrupted by sustained applause. At its conclusion he finished his remarks, deeply affected by the enthusiasm.

The members of the presbytery committee, the board of deacons and other leaders in the White Temple work had presented to Dr. Brougher a series of reasons why they believed he could do no larger, more important and substantial work right here in Portland than he could in Los Angeles.

It was impressed upon Dr. Brougher that the Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles did not own the million-dollar building in which it met, and that when its lease ran out it would have no home of its own; that here in Portland he had the use of the finest church buildings in the world, all paid for. He was also assured that the church was ready to meet any call for funds that would be necessary to give him an assistant pastor, and meet the needs of an enlarged work. These and many arguments were brought to bear upon Dr. Brougher until he finally yielded, and just before his sermon yesterday morning he read the following statement:

Statement of Dr. Brougher.
On September 11 the Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles, extended me a hearty and unanimous call to become its pastor. The call came entirely unsought by me and presented, in its circumstances, conditions, an opportunity for heroic and magnificent service. I felt impelled to give the matter serious and earnest consideration. I did so, not because of any dissatisfaction on my part with you or with my opportunities here, but because of the obligations imposed by your relations as pastor and people. Your confidence and affection have been increasingly manifest as the years have passed. If any active member of this church desires a change in the pastorate, I cannot know it.

The call, however, to succeed Dr. Robert Brougher, of Los Angeles, was a heavy and so unanimous that I could not turn aside from it without sufficient reason. In believing that the Lord's will for me to do so. In contrast to the needs and claims of the Los Angeles Church stood the opportunities and claims of this church. I have spent days and nights in the severest struggle of mind and heart in a prayer and sincere desire to reach a decision. I have weighed the facts and come to a right conclusion. This city and church are calling me to a life of service, and I feel that I am called to stay here. I have been called to stay here, and I feel that I am called to stay here. I have been called to stay here, and I feel that I am called to stay here.

And may the God of Peace, who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make us perfect in every good work to do his will; working in us that which he pleases in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory, forever and ever. Amen.

At the point where Dr. Brougher announced that he would remain in Portland his reading was interrupted by a burst of applause, exclamations of "Amen" and the waving of handkerchiefs in a Chautauque salute, followed by a whole congregation rising, under the leadership of the choir, and singing "Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow." Dr. Brougher stood quietly at his pulpit desk, with bowed head, so full of emotion that he could only say at the conclusion of it all: "I appreciate the expression of your love and devotion more than I can tell you." He then proceeded with the reading of his statement.

At the close of the sermon large numbers crowded about the platform to greet both Dr. and Mrs. Brougher, and express personally their joy and satisfaction in the decision that had been made. It is understood that arrangements will be made at once for a big church rally, and that plans will be made for enlarging the work of the church for the coming year. An associate pastor will be secured at once. It is believed that Rev. John Bonnichsen, superintendent of the Baptist City Mission Society, will be willing to accept the position now that Dr. Brougher is to remain in Portland. The increase of the church membership is given at 12,377, and the Protestant 20,237,742. There are listed 184 denominations, of which 184 are Protestant. Sixteen states have a majority Catholic membership. The increase of members in proportion to population is 44 per cent in the Roman church and 11 per cent in the Protestant denominations.

WHITE TEMPLE PASTOR WHO DECLINES CALL TO LOS ANGELES

DR. J. WHITCOMB BROUGHER

"People read the papers with ten times the fidelity with which they read the word, get into a panic and think it is true." In addition to this, he ascribes the condition to the pressure of worldly cares and the rival appeals of cities and synagogues. Dr. Foulkes pointed out to his congregation the local application and made a strong appeal for greater interest.

Conference Year Closes.
Conference closed yesterday at Centenary Methodist Church. Reports showed good progress made during the year. The pastor's salary has been paid in full. A sermon was given at 8 o'clock, only $1000 remaining unpaid, and a furnace is being put in the basement. During the year 84 new members were received into the church.

MISSIONARIES FOR CHINA

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL WILL SEND YALE GRADUATE.

Rev. Edwin Dwight Kellogg and Wife to Leave Portland for Orient in October.

Arrangements have been completed by the governing body of the First Congregational Church whereby the church will maintain two missionaries in China for the next ten years by a permanent subscription. The cost of this service, together with that of a large native force of preachers, is to be maintained for a period of not less than ten years by a permanent subscription.

The missionaries who have already been selected and who are now under a contract with the church are Rev. Edwin Dwight Kellogg and wife. Mr. Kellogg is a graduate of Yale and Bangor Theological Seminary. At Bangor he met and courted a fellow student, Miss Mary Kellogg, who is now a graduate of the same seminary. They were married in June, and at once accepted service with the local church. Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are expected here about October 25, and a reception at the church is planned for October 26. At a commissioning service on that day Dr. Tenny, secretary of the Mission Board, will deliver an address, as will Dr. Dyott. Rev. George W. Hinnman and Mr. Kellogg. At the evening service Mrs. Kellogg will speak. About October 27 the two missionaries will sail from Vancouver, B. C., for their station at Foochow.

For the past five years the First Congregational Church has had an independent mission at Foochow, under charge of Rev. George W. Hinnman, under whom there were employed over 100 local native ministers at outlying stations. The method used in getting converts at these stations is to hang out before the picture illustrating points of Christian doctrine, which arouse the curiosity of the Chinese and start them making inquiries.

The church also maintains at Foochow a college with 20 students. Dr. Dyott states that no part of the church benevolence arouses more liberality, especially among members who have seen the work progressing in China.

Thomas Davies Dies.
OREGON CITY, Oct. 9. (Special.)—Thomas Davies died at 5 o'clock this morning at his home near Maple Lane. He was born at Simla, Lancashire, England, near Neath, South Wales, October 12, 1837, where he lived until 1859, when he went to Australia and New Zealand, returning home in 1864. He was married May 4, 1866, to Jennet Howell, who died in 1894. He came to Oregon City in September, 1862. He is survived by three sons and two daughters—John R. Davies, of Dickey Prairie; Mary J. Davies, of Maple Lane; Thomas H. Davies, of Carus; Lewis M. Davies and Mrs. Sarah E. Gwinn, of Maple Lane.

A KUHN ENTERPRISE.
Twin Falls Oakley Project—35,000
Idaho's Choice of Acres.

On Monday, September 20, at 10 o'clock A. M., at Milner, Idaho, a Carey act drawing under the supervision of the State Land Board of Idaho, will take place. Prices per acre, the flower of all Idaho, including water rights, $45.00; $3.25 in cash per acre at time of filing; balance in 10 annual payments, 6 per cent interest; no interest charged until water is ready for delivery, which will be April 1, 1911. Milner and Oakley will be the trading points for this great tract, and will be linked together by a railroad now completed from Gooding via Wendell to Jerome and under construction from Jerome to Milner. The enterprise is being financed by J. E. and W. S. Kuhn, who, during a career of 20 years, have made good in every instance. The management will be the same as the Twin Falls and Idaho Southern Railroad and all the power and equipment will be under the same management. CLIO FEDERATION PLANS EXPANDED

Clean Up City and Boost Plane
of Morality, Says L. D.
Mahone.

LOOKS FOR "DRY" STATE

Thinks Saloon Not Needed for Economic Reasons, and Expects Oregon to Vote It Out at 1910 Election.

For a cleaner city, morally and economically, for a higher standard of public morality, for a city where the money collected as taxes is spent to the best advantage was declared to be the purpose and platform of the Clio Federation by L. D. Mahone in his address yesterday afternoon in the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Shaver street and Missouri avenue. While Mr. Mahone was not the regular speaker for the day, and took the place of those who failed to keep their appointment, he gave a lucid explanation of the purposes of the Clio Federation, composed of delegates of 51 different organizations of the city, from the churches and from commercial ranks.

"The main portion of the work of the Clio Federation," said Mr. Mahone, "is not done in public, but through effective committees, which are engaged in making investigations of economical and moral conditions. In this city the reduction of the cost of sand is an example of the character of its work."

Look After Honesty.

"While the taxes in Portland are not as high as those of Seattle and San Francisco, it is the one object of the Federation to see that the money collected is honestly expended and that the taxpayers receive full value. An English writer, Mr. Bright, in his two books, 'America declared that the municipal governments of this country are conspicuous failures. Vast sums of money are spent for which there is no return. An instance is given where it cost the taxpayers more than $300,000 to repair a piece of broken plaster in the City Hall of New York."

"The committees of the Clio Federation are composed of earnest and capable business men, who have been giving much of their time to find out conditions and have them remedied. This is done through careful investigations. It is our intention to make public the result of these investigations at the proper time. We have churchmen and business men with us from the 17 different organizations, religious and commercial; we are working for a common purpose. The expenses of the Federation are met by means of our publication, the Oregon Citizen."

Expect Prohibition.

In answer to the question, "Will prohibition carry Oregon in 1910?" Mr. Mahone expressed the conviction that it would, temperance being a branch of the work of the Federation. "I base my belief that Oregon will go dry in 1910," continued Mr. Mahone, "on my observations and information obtained by letters from all over the state. I have traveled over a considerable portion of the state the past few months and find a growing sentiment for statewide prohibition. The saloon is not needed for economic reasons, as had been supposed. This has been demonstrated in cities and towns in this state that have gone dry."

To Offer Prizes.

"In order to conduct an educational programme we will offer three prizes for the best three papers on the economic side of the temperance question. The prizes will be $50, $25 and $10. Churches will be asked to hold contests among the young people to bring out the best essays on the subject and then the winners will enter a district contest."

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Mahone announced that there will be an open meeting of the board of governors of the Federation, which will be held at the Commercial Club, on Saturday, September 25, at 8 o'clock.

Members of the Portland section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers gave full evidence of life and activity in their recently-organized section.

The section was organized on Saturday night at the Commercial Club. The event was in honor of the distinguished Electrical Engineers, P. M. Lincoln, vice-president, Ralph W. Pope, secretary and Charles T. Scott, past president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, now visiting the Portland section. In addition to the membership there were present a number of prominent citizens including railway officials of the city and suburban electric lines. O. B. Caldwell, president of the Portland section, called upon John F. Carroll, editor of the Telegram, to welcome the visiting engineers in behalf of the City of Portland. Mr. Carroll paid a high tribute to the genius of the engineering profession to whom modern industry owes more than to any other factor in human activity, and spoke of the great natural resources of the state which offer so many fields to the energy and skill of the modern engineer.

He was followed by Mr. Pope, who began his interesting remarks by referring to his visit to this city, which took place 44 years ago, when he was sent out here to investigate a route for a telegraph line via Alaska and Siberia to the Chinese continent. He then devoted some remarks to the organization of the institute on April 15, 1864, to the work and progress of that organization, and advised engineers to take a more active part in public affairs.

Industry increases 100 per cent every five years.

Among others who addressed the gathering were Vice-President Lincoln and Frank H. Gale, of the General Electric Company.

On motion of William H. Galvani, a vote of thanks was tendered to the distinguished visitors, and, while on the floor, expressed his disappointment, over the inability of H. W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian, to join in Portland's welcome to officers of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

WOMEN OUT; THIEVES CALL

Daylight Robbers Ransack Home of Mrs. B. M. Le Bare.

Daylight burglars visited the residence of Mrs. B. M. Le Bare, who lives on the Seventh-street Terrace, Portland Heights, yesterday afternoon, securing a gold watch and $15 in money. The crime was committed between 2 and 3 o'clock while Mrs. Le Bare was visiting at the home of a neighbor.

As her custom had been, Mrs. Le Bare placed the key under a coal scuttle on the porch and wheeled her return to the house. She was alone in the house at the time. She reported the matter to the police at once and an investigation is being made by Detective Sergeant Endicott and Detective Sloan.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N. J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with various female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I decided to try it, and after taking it for a few days, I felt a great relief of all my suffering. —Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N. J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It cures all the troubles of women, such as irregularities, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodical pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Write for a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. MEN'S AILMENTS CURED

"WORNOUT," AILING MEN
NOT A DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNLESS CURED

AFFLICTED MEN

I want you men in whom are sown the seeds of early follies, later excesses or disease, you whose failing memory, lost vigor, wrecked nerves, lame back, disordered stomach, waste your strength, and who are undermining your physical, mental and vital powers, to call on my office and learn of my methods of curing the ailments of men after all others have failed entirely. I make no charge for consultation. If I accept your case will guarantee you a perfect and permanent cure or no pay.

CERTAINTY OF CURE IS WHAT YOU WANT

Any man who is diseased and discouraged today has no one to blame but himself. There is now absolutely no excuse for a man to allow himself to gradually waste away in the clutches of a Private Ailment. If you are a sufferer from a Private Ailment which you should well know will in time make a total physical wreck of you, you may attribute your present condition to one of two things, viz: You either have failed through neglect to give yourself the attention which you well know your condition demands, or you have never placed yourself in the hands of a Specialist. Complete and Reliable Specialist. It requires more than ordinary ability to cure any one of the diseases of men. I have made a life work and specialty.

I Cure All Blood and Skin Diseases Never to Return.
I Cure Nervous Debility; No Stimulant, But Permanent.
I Cure All Urinary Diseases Without Surgery in Any Form.
I Cure All Complicated and Associated Ailments of Men.

Positive Cures For Men

I do not wish people to judge my work merely upon my reputation. I want them to note the evidences that prove my statements correct. The proof of a physician's ability is to be found in the results he obtains, and though I am not at liberty to supply individual names of patients as references, the marks of superior skill and service are so prominent and conspicuous as to render my doing so unnecessary. I have cured many cases of chronic Bright's Disease, and have cured many cases of chronic Bright's Disease, and have cured many cases of chronic Bright's Disease.

Have you ever heard of a promise of mine remaining unfulfilled, or of one of my patients being diseased? Consider these things, and then come and consult me in regard to your case.

Varicose Veins

There is no necessity for surgical operations in the treatment of Varicose Veins. This disease yields up completely to my mild and painless method, and results are far better than were ever attained by the harsh and dangerous process of cutting. But one week is required, and seldom is it even necessary to detain the patient from his business.

OBSTRUCTIONS—My treatment is absolutely painless, and perfect results can be depended upon in every instance. I do no cutting or dilating whatever.

Examination and Advice Free

I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a careful examination and diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.
