Superintendent Rigler Announces Stephens School Will Open Today, but Three Others Are Held Up for Heating Apparatus.

Despite the fact that four of the city schools did not open yesterday, owing to the fact that heating plants have not as yet been installed, the record of attendance for the opening day was greater than that of last year. Superintendent Rigler figures on an attendance of about 1800 in the four schools which are to open in a few days and the totals of yesterday are thought to have held down almost that number on account of the late opening. The total number registered yester a small school, Fernwood, not yet received, as opposed to 16,580 for 1908 and 15,971 for the opening day of 1907. Superintendent Rigier definitely announced yesterday afternoon the Stephens school would be opened tomor-Until the heating fans are installed in the Davis, Ellot and Vernon schools, these will not be opened. By the end of the first week of school in 17,752, and Superintendent Rigler expects this figure to be passed by about pects this figure to be passed by about 2000 by the end of this week, provided the heating fans arrive and the schools may be opened. One factor which was noticeable in the outlying districts was a falling away in the attendandee for the opening day, due doubtless to the late hop-picking season this year. Many children are still in the fields.

Many children are still in the fields.

The three high schools show a gain this year of 205 for the opening day. Of this increase, 165 appear in the Jeffers High School, which was not open at the start of last season. The September opening records for the last five years are as follows: 1205, 12,750; 1906, 12,254; 1907, 15,971; 1908, 16,580; 1969, 16,764. The attendance in the various schools yesterday follows:

FIREMAN WANTS RING BACK

Declares Telephone Girl He Loves Has Grown Cold.

As a result of his misplaced affec-tions, Ira Fitzgerald, a member of the Portland fire department, has brought replevin action to recever a diamor valued at $55, from Helen es, a "hello girl" at the central board of the Pacific Telephone & Tele-graph Company. The couple met a year ago, with the subsequent passing of the token of their engagement. Recently Helen's affections failed to evince the usual degree of warmth. Ira, it is said, en-deavored to effect a reconciliation. His failure to bring about an amicable sotwith his fiances resulted in Fitzgerald's appeal to Constable Wag-ner's office. When approached by ner's office. When approached by Chief Deputy Kiernan, the pretty "helio" girl refused to surrender the ring she wore. Kiernan was in duty to allow it to remain on her finger. He is now wondering whether or no she will keep her promise to "fix r no she will keep her promise to "fix t up with Ira" without the aid of the

Tonight, Twice Tomorrow

William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismes are presenting Harmon Rhoder and Thomas A. Wises' great American comedy, "A Gentleman From Mississippi." at the Bungalow Theater Twelith and Morrison streets conjent and tomorrow night, with a special matines tomorrow (Wednesday). Included in the cast are James Lachage and a former Portland girl. Minette Barrett.

Everybody Likes "Girls."

The opening Stubert attraction at the Star Theater was a hit from the first curtain to the last. A more enthusiastic audience has seldom if ever been seen hore and last right the theater was packed with the most representative theater-goes in the city. The seat sale is very heavy for the remainder of the week.

Delightful Bill Attracts Crowds. "The Dancing Tenderheel" is the title of a delightful little comedy playlet presented by Daver and Pony Moore, at the Ornheum this week. It tells a clever story and is filled with comedy and has a number of spiendid songs. A strong feature of the net is novelty dancing introduced by Davey Moore.

Bargain Matince Tomorrow. The attention of all theater-goers who sujoy an attraction full of fun and catchy music, is turned towards the Baker this week, where George M. Cohan's celebrated "Fifty Miles From Boston" is holding forth. The play and company are an instantaneous Pantages Offers Excellent Bill. One of the best bills offered in a vaude-lie showhouse this zeason is presented at antages this week. The topline attrac-in is Mentakel, a most startling litusion, thur Deming is delightful in blackface unedy and Montague's cockatoes are scor-e heavily. A number of other good is complete the bill.

Italian Musicians a Hit. The Three Vagrants at the Grand have nade a substantial hit. The singer of the rio has a Liagnificent haritone and his suddition of Italian songs and several grand pera selections made a sensation. Dolan not Lenharr appear in "The High-toned Burgiar's Christmas Tree."

Souvenir Matinee Today. There's a souvenir matines at the Lyric today, when the Athen players will present the great object-lesson drama. "The Wages of Sin." It's a great scenic production with all the players of the company in the cast. Same bill all week. You'll like the Lyric.

Onks Resort Is Popular.

Goodly numbers of visitors at the Cake afternoone and evenings prove that the great amusement park is josing none of its attractiveness, despite the fact next Sunday brings the present season to a close. Fare 5 cents from any part of city.

"Paid in Full" Next Thursday. Beginning next Thursday night, September 16, and continuing Friday and Saturday nights with a special matinee Saturday nights with a special matinee Saturday. This interesting offering made one of the biggest hits of last season and will be seen at the Sungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets.

SPANISH WAR FIGHTERS HERE AFTER ENCAMPMENT.

day was 16,764, with one report from Programme of Toasts Given and Speeches Made by Many of Visitors to City.

The 95 visiting members of the party of Spanish War Veterans, who have been in their sixth annual encampment at Tacoma, were given a banquet in the Commercial Club rooms last night be-September, 1908, the attendance was fore leaving for California in their special cars at 7:45. The banquet was given by Scout Young Camp, No. 2, de-special cars at 7:45. The banquet was given by Scout Young Camp, No. 2, department of Oregon. About 20 Portlanders gathered around the banquet board with delegates from the Easter, and Southern States.

At the close of the banquet a number of five-minute toasts were given. Colonel C. U. Gantenbein acted as toastmaster. After an introductory speech by him, the newly-elected commander-in-chief, E. J. Gihon, of Corporal C. F. Parker Camp No. 33, of Boston, Mass. spoke on the organization. He outlined the policy for the next year, which he stated would be that of putting in new camps and increasing the membership of the present camps. Sensea Fouts, department commander of Scout Young Camp No. 2, Portland, in speaking of the "Department of Oregon," made the address of welcome to the visitors. Colonel Tom Hichardson then told a few funny stories in handling his subject, "It Pays to Be Optimistic."

The toast, "What We Have Accomplished," by the retiring commander-in-chief, Colonel Charles W. Newton, of Charles L. Burdette Camp No. 4, Hartford, Conn., was a statistical statement of the doings of the past year, showing the remarkable increase in members and camps. General Thomas Anderson, U. S. A. (retired), also a member of Scout Young Camp No. 2. Portland, spoke on the results of the late war, making a special plea for Anderson, U. S. A. (retired), also a member of Scout Young Camp No. 2., Portland, spoke on the results of the late war, making a special plea for care for the Filipino women as well as the Filipino men. Colonel Jackson, U. S. A. (retired), spoke on "Pariet."

Past Judge-Advocate-General Cap-tain White, of Columbia Camp No. 2, Chicago, spoke flatteringly on "Im-pressions of the West." General Owen Summers, of Scout Young Camp No. 2, Portland, who is one of the few members of both the G. A. R. and the S. W. V. spoke feelingly on the com-radeship existing between the two organizations, teiling the Spanish War Veterans they would soon be the sole survivers among those who have fought for the Stars and Stripes, and admonfor the Stars and Stripes, and admon-lishing them to perpetuate the teach-ings of patriotism as the G. A. R. has done. The concluding talk was by resident-General Mrs. Ida M. Gal-loway, of the National Auxiliary, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Galloway told of the work being done by the women throughout the country along the same lines of relief as that of the men. The visitors spent yesterday morning about the city in an observation cur, visiting the various points of interest. In the afternoon the party was taken in a special car to the Oaks and returned by launch. Some of the mem-bers visited Vancouver Barracks during the afternoon. OAK STREET IN ABEYANCE

Mayor May or May Not Approve Extension of Thoroughfare.

Oak street may be opened from Park to Eleventh street, and it may not be opened. Although an ordinance for opening the street has passed the Coun-cli, there is some doubt as to whether Mayor Simon will approve the ordinance, which calls for the expenditure of $177,304, which will have to be assessed against the property in that vicinity and along Oak street clear to the river.

Mayor Simon went out on an inspection of the proposition yesterday afterndon with Councilmen Belding and tion of the proposition yesterday afternóon with Councilmen Belding and strongly, believing the money necessary for the improvement is too great for the good to be derived by the property other hand, favors the plan, thinking the street will have to be opened at some time, and that it can be done cheaper now than at any other time.

The property which will have to be

Mayor Simon was entirely non-committal as to the stand he would take in the matter. The Addition with Character

Visited by the Portland Realty Board

On Saturday last the Portland Realty Board and friends of the members, some 400 strong, visited LAURELHURST and enjoyed the afternoon in viewing this magnificent addition.

All of the visitors were enthusiastic in their admiration of the beauties of this splendid tract of land, consisting of 442 acres, of which every acre is a good acre and every lot a good lot.

The visitors admired particularly the beautiful rolling land, with its undulating surface, the natural beauties of which have been preserved by laying out the streets in curved lines following the natural contours and making the whole addition a matchless residence park.

Every expression of the visitors was an expression of approval or enthusiastic admiration. Every prediction was a prediction of unqualified success in the development of this property into a most delightful residence section, and the universal opinion heard expressed was that the property values in this addition would more than double in the next year.

Everybody in Portland knows the location of LAURELHURST, which for many years has been known as the Ladd "Hazel Fern Farm," lying in the heart of the East Side residence section, extending from the Base Line road on the south to the Sandy road on the north. Almost everybody has passed by this tract on one side or the other, but up to the present time very few have passed through it, because it has been private property.

LAURELHURST is now open to the public, the plat has been filed, the streets have been dedicated. Everyone is privileged to go and view the property, to enjoy its beauties, to visit the splendid tract of 31 acres just purchased by the city for a public park, which is covered by a wonderful growth of immense forest trees, many of which are between two and three centuries old. This park was purchased expressly to preserve this natural exhibit of the forestry of Oregon, the like of which could not be reproduced in 200 years.

It is worth while to visit LAURELHURST, and it only takes 15 minutes to go there on either the Rose City or the Montavilla carlines. Both lines run through the addition.

If you have not seen LAURELHURST, do so today. Then investigate our prices and terms. You will find that they are very reasonable. Office on the ground at East Thirty-eighth street.

Dr. Buttrick's visit is the desiral Board of Eduvantage to the General Board of Education as well as furnishing him information from which he can advise the trustees of the Reed Institute. "In a work of this kind, advertigation."

Dr. Wallace Buttrick, of New York City, Here to Confer With Trustees.

MUCH WORK IS PLANNED

Endowment to Be Used to Make Portland Center of Artistic and Scientific Education of Northwest-Buildings Projected.

Preliminary to carrying out the inent of the $1,000,000 bequest for the oundation of the "Reed Institute" in this city, the Board of Trustees of the coming seat of learning is seeking expert advice from some of the most prominent and influential instructors in the country. At the present time, at the instance and invitation of the Board, Dr. Wallace Buttrick, of New York City, is visiting Portland in the general interest of education and more especially to confer with the trustees regarding the specific principles and form in which it is thought best to initiate the work of the institute.

Dr. Buttrick is secretary of the General Board of Education which is administering the endowment of $50 .-000,000 from John D. Rockfeller. Dr. Buttrick's visit was preceded about three weeks by that of Dr. H. S. Pritchett, of the Carnegie Founda-tion for the Advancement of Teaching, who, while in the city, frequently con-ferred with the trustees, and gave them valuable advice and counsel. President Judson, of the University of Chicago, during his attendance on the National Baptist Convention in Portland, also conferred with the trustees

Portland to Become Center. These men are all convinced that Portland may become the greatest edu-cational center in the Northwest by tices, said the efforts of the board were now directed almost wholly toward determining the basic principles on which the institute shall be founded.

It is desired that the work of the institute shall not duplicate efforts now being undertaken by the Y. M. C. A., and the various state institutions. Dr. Buttrick yesterday inspected the new Y. M. C. A. building and gained knowledge of the broad scope of the work that institution is now about to attempt. Today he will go to Eugene to visit the State University, and will also investigate thoroughly the educational advantages offered by Oregon in other sections.

The General Board of Education has the United States as a field of operations and among its work is the reaching of 20,000 farmers in the South in the matter of educating them in practical agriculture. The staff of the office conducts a research work, and maps and tabulates every state in the Union with a view to ascertaining real conditions and needs so far as possible, both guiding and promoting educational betterments.

Dr. Buttrick to Advise. Dr. Buttrick's visit is therefore of ad-investigation into the actual educational needs of the state is a matter of first importance," said Mr. Dolph yesterday

"We are endeavoring to proceed systematically with a view to obtaining the greatest possible benefits from the bequest to the Institute."

In reply to a question, Mr. Dolph said the trustees had not yet selected a head for the Institute, although the board had been in correspondence with several men of educational prominence. While no definite plans, have been formulated, it is likely new and substantial buildings will be required on the site of the In-

The bequest of $1,000,000 for the en dowment of an educational institute in Portland was made in the wills of Simon G. and Amanda Reed. The endow ment is broad in scope and might be applied to manual training, galleries of art, technical, scientific instruction and other fields of education. It is said the investigations of the trustees have shown that the field of industrial instruction is quite well covered in Oregon and that the main purpose of the Institute when established will likely be to advance art, and surgical, medical and other sciences in a specialized form, giving the patrons of the Institute instruction now obtainable in the West only from books and li-
