MUST OCCUPY POLE TO HOLD IT

French Paper Questions That Discovery Gives Sovereignty.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The Temps, discussing today the sovereignty of the North Pole, expressed the opinion that the relative permanence of the ice there might properly raise the question whether the territory comes under the ordinary rules applying to land and the high seas. The paper insists, however, that exploring expeditions, such as Cook's and Peary's, can't give the title and to this end it quotes Calvo to the effect that the acquisition of sovereignty is involved in an effective occupation, namely, accompanied or followed by the commencement of administrative organization or commercial and industrial activity.

TELL COOK'S STORY

Oregonian Will Publish His Narrative of Pole.

WARNING GIVEN THIEVES

New York Herald Will Protect Papers in Syndicate From Violation of Copyright by Pirates.

COOK'S STORY IN OREGONIAN.

The Oregonian has arranged with the New York Herald for the exclusive right to publish in Oregon Dr. Cook's amplified story of his discovery of the North Pole. The first chapter of this story will be published in The Oregonian tomorrow (Wednesday).

WILL PROSECUTE THIEVES.

"Newspapers in other parts of the country included in the Herald's syndicate were naturally outraged to find that the story had been stolen—there's no use mincing words—and the right given to their competitors for publication on the same morning."

CAN'T EVADE COPYRIGHT.

"No honest man regulates his conduct by the penalty. Everyone concerned was fully informed that Dr. Cook's story had been written for the Herald and was its exclusive property. The question in certain quarters, however, was not whether the Herald's right would be violated by publication, but whether the penalties of the copyright law could be evaded by "lifting" the story from the Herald's European edition and owing to the difference in time-calling it to this country for publication on the same morning. As the law is interpreted by high authorities, copyright for the United States is not in the slightest degree impaired by a publication outside the limits of this country.

PUBLISH COOK'S FULL STORY.

"These romances and they are in the nature of fair warning—are timely, in view of the fact that the Herald will tomorrow publish the first of the four chapters of Dr. Cook's amplified story of his discovery of the Pole. He has written this narrative exclusively for this newspaper, and it will be cabled from Europe by the Herald and for the Herald and those newspapers to which the Herald gives a legal right to its publication, and these rights will be protected, and, if invaded, will be vindicated by legal action."
