PULPIT IS ACCEPTED

Boise Pastor Will Come to Hassalo-Street Church.

SUCCEEDS PAUL RADER

Rev. George E. Paddock Telegraphs Bible Texts in Announcing That He Will Take Portland Congregational Pastorate.

Dr. George E. Paddock, of the First Congregational Church of Boise, Idaho, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Hassalo-Street Congregational Church, of Portland. The call to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Paul Rader was extended to Dr. Paddock by the board of trustees of the local church last week, and a telegram signifying his acceptance was received by J. W. Wood, the chairman, Saturday night. This telegram reads: "Call accepted. I Timothy, III:14; Philimon, I:27."

The references read as follows: "These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly." "But, withal, prepare me also a lodging, for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you."

Dr. Paddock is a married man, 50 years of age, and said to be one of the most capable preachers in Idaho. He was at one time pastor of the First Congregational Church in Denver, Colo., and took a pulpit at Keokuk, Iowa, later. The Hassalo-Street church will pay him a salary of $1000, the same as that formerly paid Mr. Rader.

Dr. Paddock was one of those enlisted in a recent fight in Boise over the liquor question. The Sunday after election he preached a sermon on "Booze in Black and White," in which he said:

"It was with an aching heart I watched that body of fine-looking young men following the band last Wednesday evening, while it played as a song of triumph, the well-known song, 'There'll Be a Hot Time

NEW TRIAL WANTED

Dickerson Thinks He Could Reverse Findings.

RELEASE EXPECTED TODAY

Garrett's Slayer Says Witnesses Who Were Not Called by His Attorney Could Have Given Facts in His Favor.

Robert T. Dickerson, sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary for shooting Harry A. Garrett, thinks he will secure a new trial when his case is taken to the Supreme Court. He said last night he does not understand why his attorneys did not place on the stand several witnesses to corroborate his testimony, and that the fact they were not called has been made the basis for his motion for a new trial. If he is tried a second time no crime greater than manslaughter can be laid against him under the Oregon law.

Dickerson said that he expects to be released from the County Jail this morning, his bond of $3000 having been signed by John P. Sharkey, M. C. Barnfield and R. E. Menefee. "This bond needs only the ratification of the court," said Dickerson.

Talks Freely of Case.

The convicted man talked freely of the case and those connected with it. "My lawyers tried to get Mr. and Mrs. Bert Aldrich and William Williams, but could not find them," he said. "Mrs. Aldrich would have testified that I borrowed the key from her with which to unlock Garrett's trunk when I found my wife's letters in it. Besides them there were six other witnesses who would have supported my testimony had they been called."

"Mr. Thomas was working for me, and knew that the revolver went off at my house once by accident. I was sick in bed, and my wife had put the gun under my pillow. I did not know it was there

BRIDGE RISES FAST

Madison Span to Be Completed by Next April.

GOOD PROGRESS IS MADE

Preliminary Work Over, Viaduct Will Assume Shape Soon—East Approach to Be Started First, Other to Follow Quickly.

Work on the new Madison-street bridge is progressing rapidly, and in another week will be far enough along so that the casual observer may see the structure assume shape. The preliminary work has been such that it did not show very perceptibly, but as soon as the superstructure is under way the proportions of the new bridge will become visible to the passerby.

Most of the preliminary work and dredging have been completed, and four cribs have been partially framed. The equipment for the superstructure will be assembled as rapidly as possible and put in shape for joining. The pile-driving inside the piers was started this week, and the first shipment of 1000 barrels of cement will be received. All materials are arriving. There is a good equipment of scows and barges, and the timber is being delivered as fast as needed.

The United Engineering & Construction Company, in charge of the work on the east end of the bridge, has the timber lined, and at present is busy procuring piles and other material.

It is the present intention to start on the east approach October 1. When this is completed, work will be started on the piers, the fourth pier from the east side to be started first. The two piers on the inside of the bridge will then be started, and the work will progress toward the west side. The west approach, about 40 feet in length, will be the last portion of the bridge constructed. The east approach is 600 feet long.

The larger part of the steel material

MERCHANT FOILS THIEVES

Removes Coin From Safe and Leaves Door Unlocked.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Cunning safecrackers who attempted to steal the day's receipts from John P. Wall's department store at Libby, Mont., Friday night, happened across the work of a man more cunning than they, and after carefully guarding against capture, gained their way to the coveted safe, but turned up in disgust.

The burglars bored a two-inch hole through the front door and turned the key on the inside of the lock, gaining an entrance. The office was locked on the outside, so that no one could escape and give the alarm.

Before leaving the store, J. P. Wall removed all his money, warned by former safecrackings in Libby, and left this notice on the open safe door, which was found by the burglars: "This safe is open for your inspection."

The office was locked on the outside, so that no one could escape and give the alarm.
