Portland again demonstrated its sueriority over the Los Angeles crew by CHICAGO defeating the visitors 3 to 0 yesterday afternoon at the Vaughn-street enclosure n the third straight victory since the reand Return turn to the city of roses. The game was full of thrilling plays and good batting $72.50 as well as a lot of wranging on the part of the Los Angeles crowd, resulting the departure from the field of "Happy" Smith and Frank Dillon, at the equest of Umpire Van Haltren. The two players were banished from the field as a result of kicking at a decision at 0. R. & N. some plate when Smith was declared out on a close play. The Beavers were in the game from start to finish and the Los Angeles crowd didn't have much chance. The Califorlians couldn't locate Jess Garreti's spltball. Hosp, who usually has the Indian sign on the Beav-Going Limit Ten Days ers, was hit to all corners of the lot and one of his shoots was clouted out of the lot. Fisher was the man who turned the trick. He hit the first ball pitched and the last scen of it, the sphere was soar-ing toward Mount St. Helens. The Californians came near scoring in the sixth chapter. H. Smith singled to Return Limit Nov. 30th money by alternating their positions at the finishes of the two heats. In the 2:20 class pacing event the horses finished in the same relative positions in three straight heats—a performance which is not often seen in a meet. De-monio Wilkes, driven by Henry Helman, won the event easily, and scored the first heat in the remarkable time of 2:114, Dan Z., driven by Johnson, took second place three successive times, and Exchi-B., with Davis bandling the ribbons, was third. All three heats were done in less than 2:15, which is a credit to the winner. The big growd eagerly awaited the run-ning races, for the natural tendency to-ward the bangtails has not altogether been eliminated, even though the harness events fave been high class. The first of the running events was seven-furiong dash, which was won by Lambertha, with Copeland up. HENRY GRAY, OWNED BY COUNCILMAN ABNOLD ZBINDEN, OF

Henry Gray Wins the Classiest Turf Event of the Year in Brilliant Struggle With Jo McGuire's Lee Crawford. (Continued From First Page.) The Seattle horse got off good, took the lead at the half and finished easily at the head of the procession. The victory occasioned wild cheering. Today is to be another big day, the programme including a 2:06 pacing event and a grand procession of the prize winners. The stock parade will occur at winners. The stock parade will occur at 4 P. M. upon the completion of the racing oard. All the winners of awards will be led past the grandstand. The day has been designated as ladies' day and Columbia Valley day. Broncho bust-ing, a balloon ascension and fireworks will occur tonight. Henry Gray's Gallant Fight. The victory of Henry Gray, owned by Councilman Arnold Zbinden, of Seattle, in the big stake event can easily be said In the big state event can be easily be suit to have met with the heartlest approval extended a winning horse in the history of racing in this city, for the gray's per-formance in the last heat was the signal for a perfect demonstration of applause. It was a remarkable race for more than to be declared winner of a heat, for those two entries finished first and second respectively. According to the rules, which are particularly plain in stating that horses going at other than their stride shall be set back, the judges could conscientiously do nothing else but give Henry Gray, the third horse in the heat, first place and put Lee Crawford and Zombronut eighth and ninth respectively. Bought-Horse at Auction. Arnold Zbinden picked up Henry Gray at the finish of the third heat.

It was more or less unfortunate, the breaking of Lee Crawford and Zombrouut, at the auction sales here last year, and seen on the track this season, henry Gray was declared the winner, and in the following two heats he beat the others easily without any question. In fact, in the last heat McGuire jockeyed Harinagle, the driver of Henry Gray, out of the pole position at the first turn, and this seemed to indicate that the Denverite would go after the race in earnest and succeed in beating his rival. Crawford kept the lead in fairly good shape until almost at the half mlie post, when Henry Gray gradually overhauled not only the McGuire entry, but three other horses as well, and before the far turn was reached Zbinden's gray was in the lead by at least a length. This seem-ingly took the heart out of the McGuire home and Crawford dropped steadily back, for when the stretch was reached Henry Gray was eight lengths in the Henry Gray was eight lengths in the lead and still going good, while Sophia Dillon and Lida Carter had also passed Lee Crawford. In this order the horses came under the wire, and Henry Gray, amid the applause of the big crowd, was declared the winner. Starter Strider then announced that first money went to here the the come would be craw-

It was by long odds the most in ing and exciting harness race sec this season, and Joe McGuire, who of the best drivers at the track of the best drivers at the track, should prove himself a good sportsman and with-draw his protest, which is hardly likely to be allowed in any event. He defeated to be allowed in any event. He defeated the Henry Gray hopse and the field at Salem and should rest on his laurels. He might arrange for a return smatch be-tween Zhinden's entry and his own, for the Seattle man would surely be willing. If the Henry Gray horse had been flagged at the end of the first heat, as is claimed by McGuire, it seems strange that Judges W. F. Matlock and G. A. Last night the "Home Stretch" attrac-tions received most flattering patronage, and all of the events were keeply appreclated by the big crowd which assembled early. The events in the hippodrome, such as broncho-busting and chariot racing, are thrilling exhibitions. A number of the visiting horsemen and racing officials were tendered a banquet at the Commercial Club by the members of the Portland Fall & Livestock Asso-ciation, at which several specches were made, praising the efforts of the Port-
