JOY RIDERS' CASES SET

MRS. MADDOX TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL NOVEMBER 11.

Holland Summoned Same Date. Rodman and Robertson Called One Week Later.

Because of a decision of Circuit Judge Bronaugh yesterday to set the cases of Mrs. Hazel Maddox and Harry Holland for trial November 11, and those of Frank E. Rodman and John Robertson for trial November 18, the charges of manslaughter and theft of an automobile, growing out of the joy rides on the Linnton road, and on the East Line road, will be on trial at the same time. All four of the defendants demanded separate trials.

Mrs. Maddox and Rodman, accused by the grand jury of manslaughter for running over Mrs. May Real on the Linnton road on the morning of August 5, were in court last before noon yesterday, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Attorney George W. Caldwell asked that the Maddox case be set for trial first, and Deputy District Attorney Vroeland offered no objection. Judge Bronaugh fixed the trial at 8:00, the same amount as that under which the pair was held on a charge of murder in the second degree in the Municipal Court. New bail was demanded, and Attorney Caldwell filed the bonds yesterday afternoon, after they had been endorsed by Circuit Judge Gatens. The Union Guarantee Association, by W. H. Hirtz, the general manager, appears as bondsman.

The Robertson and Holland cases, in which both are accused of stealing William M. Ledo's automobile and 14 gallons of gasoline, September 19, were set yesterday afternoon. The two young men, with four young women, speeded out to the Twelve-Mile House, took several drinks, and, in returning drove the automobile over a steep embankment at the Gravel Pit, pinning Dolly Ferrara under the upturned machine, and killing her.

Johnston McCulley, the magazine writer and theater press-agent, charged with a statutory crime against Lena Boyd, who is under 16 years of age, will be tried November 11. Judge Bronaugh reduced McCulley's bail from $5000 to $2000. William Churchill, who was also indicted by the grand jury for a similar offense against the same girl at the same time, August 7, will be tried November 11. McCulley and Churchill are still in jail.

Herman Hofer, accused of assault and battery, pleaded not guilty before Circuit Judge Bronaugh yesterday afternoon.

DOCKET TO BE CLEARED

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT TO CLEAN HOUSE.

New Order Making Monday "Law and Motion" Day Goes Into Effect Next Week.

Next Monday will be "house-cleaning" day so far as the docket in the United States Court is concerned. Under the new rules adopted recently by the court, every Monday hereafter will be law and motion day. Next Monday inaugurates this new custom, which has for its purpose cleaning up the docket and accelerating the disposition of cases pending before that tribunal. The new rules provide that on every Monday the clerks of the court shall prepare a calendar of all pending cases for presentation to the court. All such cases shall maintain their relative places on the calendar, and shall be disposed of in that order.

G. H. Marsh, clerk of the United States Circuit Court, is preparing the calendar which will be submitted when court convenes Monday morning. It will include not less than 150 cases which have been pending in that department of the Federal Court for years. Some of the cases have encumbered the court docket since 1903, and there are not a few cases so old the attorneys interested have died. The effect of the new order in this
