

PEARY HILED AS RETURNING HERO

War Fleet in Hudson Gives Explorer Warm Welcome as Steamer Passes.

FLYING NORTH POLE FLAG

Peary Slips Quietly Into New York and Receives Salute of All Nations as Steamer Joins Parade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—New York City and State today gave Commander Robert E. Peary a welcome home such as few returning heroes can hope to receive.

Having successfully buffeted the ice floes of Smith Sound, and proved herself so stout a ship that no sea or ice foe could turn her back, the Roosevelt met with an accident in the most tranquil part of the Hudson.

Morgan's Yacht Salutes. "It is most gratifying to have taken part in the parade," said the commander tonight, "and I am deeply appreciative of the reception that has been given the officers and crew of the Roosevelt and myself."

Keeps Silent About Cook. Peary declined to talk about the Cook controversy, except to say that General Hubbard would make a statement on the subject early in the coming week.

Welcomes to the Pole-discoverer, flag-bearer of his country. When you sail north, my dear commander, in July 1908, you carried with you the Nation's Star Spangled Banner mounted upon the great white banner of peace.

When Commander Peary, Mrs. Peary and Herbert L. Bridgman boarded the boat for the trip up the Hudson, the explorer was met at once, recognized by some 200 persons gathered there for a glimpse of the Roosevelt.

Writes North Pole Flag. The North Pole flag which the steamer bears is the usual American ensign with a strip of white bearing the words, "North Pole," in black letters running diagonally from the upper corner of the horizontal stripes to a corner under the stars.

Wear Arctic Costume. Captain Bartlett and the crew of 19 men on the Roosevelt still wear the garments they had chosen for their rough trip to the Arctic—flannel shirts, fur boots and picturesque sea togs.

Whitney Speeds Home. Millionaire Arctic Hunter on Way to See Dr. Cook.

TRURO, N. S., Oct. 1.—Harry Whitney, who with Dr. Cook at Etah, arrived here last night from St. Johns, N. F., and took a train for New York to see Dr. Cook. He declined to talk.

ST. JOHN'S, N. B., Oct. 1.—Harry Whitney passed through this city today, on his way to his Connecticut home. Mr. Whitney talked briefly with the newspaper reporters during the few minutes that he remained in St. Johns, but he said nothing that threw any additional light on the controversy.

TO DIE, HE BUMPS HYDRANT. Negro Measures Distance and Falls. Knocked Senseless.

Stiffening his body, after carefully measuring the distance between himself and a fire hydrant at Thirteenth and Levee streets yesterday afternoon, his hands tightly clasped behind him, Joe Blackburn, a negro, fell face forward, evidently intending to strike his forehead on the sharp point of the hydrant in the hope of ending his life.
