The Addition with Character

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN AT LAURELHURST? If not, go and see it. See what are its possibilities under an intelligent programme of development. It will impress you with the fact that at least one residence section in Portland is being developed in a manner befitting a growing metropolis, and you will also be impressed with the fact that you should own a part of it.

This property is located in the very center of the residence section of Portland, and it is distinctively a residence section. One of its great charms is the fact that it is removed from the dirt, noise, dust and smoke of the city. In selecting a home, you should bear in mind that Portland will never be any smaller. It is growing larger year by year and will continue to grow. The most desirable down-town residence sections are daily being assailed by the march of commerce and by the requirements of business. Stores, flats, boarding-houses, warehouses, factories, and even livery stables, are crowding in upon what have heretofore been regarded as desirable residence streets. These accompaniments to Trade's unfeeling train cannot be kept out, because these streets are in sections which have not been sold with building restrictions, limiting their use to residence purposes only. Very different is the situation in LAURELHURST. Our property is sold under the most rigid building restrictions, and can be used only for residence purposes. A person is safe in building a fine residence upon property thus hedged about with restrictions and limitations. The design has been to stamp LAURELHURST as purely private residence property of the highest order, with the retirement and privacy desirable in an ideal home, but with in close touch with the public and in easy reach of the city.

IS FOR EXPANSION

Mayor Simon Believes the City Should Annex Suburbs.

REACH OUT ON ALL SIDES

Declares Action Should Be Prompt. Thinks It Would Be to Advantage Both of City and of the Outlying Districts.

Mayor Simon yesterday declared himself unequivocally in favor of the annexation of St. John, Lewis and all that portion of the district adjacent thereto, Linton, Riverside, and any other territory tributary to Portland, and said he hopes action to this effect will be taken at once. This is the first indication the Mayor has made as to his attitude upon this question, which just now is receiving great attention by various business organizations and citizens in general.

"I am highly in favor of the annexation of St. John and the other places situated near to Portland," said Mayor Simon. "I can see no possible objection to the taking in of St. John, in particular, either by the people of St. John or of this city; it naturally belongs to Portland, and, in my opinion, should become an early date an integral part of Portland. I also favor the annexation of Lewis and adjoining territory, commonly called the Mount Scott district; Linton and Riverside, and earnestly believe that it would be to the advantage of both Portland and these other places if this is brought about. If they come into the city they will, of course, be entitled to Bull Run water, police and fire protection and lights. It would be necessary to install those things gradually, and that would naturally be understood; but I believe that, eventually, it would be an excellent thing."

Seneca C. Esach, supervisor of the Federal census in this district, with headquarters in Portland, started the agitation for annexation of the various places near Portland, and the Portland Realty Board also strongly favors such action.

Rose City Park, a portion of Montavilla and some of the Mount Scott district was annexed at the last election, adding several thousand to the population of Portland, and it is the belief of those who have expressed themselves in favor of further annexation that Portland is entitled to the prestige that would come with it.

In order to annex any portion of the territory under discussion it would be necessary for the City Council of Portland to give its consent, and for each of the places concerned to vote on the question and declare by a majority vote for the plan. This might be done at a special election, to be called by the Mayor and Council, and this is made more probable because of the fact that there is a strong demand, led by Mayor Simon, for a change in the law relative to the laying of water mains, for which such election may be had.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A high pressure area of considerable strength is central this evening off the Washington coast and the rains have practically ceased in the North Pacific. During the last 12 hours only light amounts fell in Western Washington and near Vancouver in the eastern part of that state or elsewhere in this district. The temperature on the Pacific Slope has remained nearly stationary.

FORECASTS.

For the 24 hours ending midnight Oct. 14: Portland and vicinity—Fair, westerly wind; Oregon and Washington—Probably fair; Idaho—Fair. EDWARD A. BEALS, District Forecaster.

Amusements

What the Press Agents Say.

Blanche Bates at Bungalow.
David Belasco is presenting the famous and charming American actress, Blanche Bates at the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets, tonight at 8:15 o'clock and every night this week, with a matinee Saturday, in her latest dramatic success, "The Fighting Hoop."

Lost of "The Ringmaster."
Tonight will witness the classic performance of Olive Porter's strong play of Wall Street financial intrigue, "The Ringmaster." It is a new drama that has won the approval of the people in this city, and the Suburbs are to be expected to witness the play with the opportunity to witness it.

News and Erwood at Orpheum.
News and Erwood occupy a few hilarious moments on the Orpheum bill this week, with what they call "Let of Little Bits and Some Dances." They open with some clever impersonations and follow with a routine of fast dancing that establishes no precedent as well as enviable reputation for both artists. Matinee daily at the Orpheum.

"The Sunny Side of Broadway."
The brightest, frothiest and merriest musical show that has come along this season so far is "The Sunny Side of Broadway." Boyle Woodford's great song attraction, "Every One's a Winner," is the feature of the show, and the comedy is furnished by Max Bloom, the clever Hebrew Impersonator, and two wild Irishmen.

Patience Offers Jack Oliver.
To the joy of mirth and merriment, a better tip can be given than to see Jack Oliver at Patience this week. He is a truly funny man, in fact the funniest colored man to play in Portland vaudeville for a long time, and his imitations of various characters are the talk of the town.

Miss Fay at the Grand.
At every performance given at the Grand this week the theater is crowded, for Anna Eva Fay is the headline attraction. This is the first time this world-famous and wonderful musical comedienne has appeared here in vaudeville. Miss Fay is not a spiritualist medium, but a clever and skilled scientific manipulator.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"The Great John Ganton" at the Portland.
Out of 30 attractions offered by the Shubert to Russell & Drew, for the opening play at the new Portland Theater, the management selected "The Great John Ganton," with George Fawcett in the stellar role, and the theater will open in a blaze of glory Monday evening, October 18.

"Three Twins" Next Monday.
Beginning next Sunday night, October 17, and continuing the following six nights with special matinee Wednesday and Friday, the attraction at the Bungalow Theater will be the big musical comedy sensation, "The Three Twins." This has been the most pronounced hit recorded in the last year of musical plays and Portland is getting the original company.

Kathleen Lohse at Orpheum.
Kathleen Lohse is a charming little English singer who comes to the Orpheum next week. She possesses a youthful and agreeable voice and among other things a song of an encounter of a pigeon, holding on her shoulders several superb birds, who, with certain postures, stand to around their mistress. She also introduces a wonderful white bulldog.

Tickets for the Gleason Benefit.
Next Monday night the opening of the Donald Bowles engagement in "The Prince Chap" at the Baker Theater, will be a benefit for William and Mina Gleason. Tickets are being sold to everyone who desires to see the attraction, and at the same time assist these two popular members of the old Baker Stock Company, as Mr. Gleason is being very ill in an Oakland hospital. There is no advance in prices, and Manager Baker has simply donated this one night of the week for the former character people. Boxes and seats have all been disposed of, and well-known society people as well as hundreds of seats and the affair promises to be a great success. Tickets are on sale at Powers & Estes' drugstore, by Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. Preston Smith and many others who are interested.

Donald Bowles All Next Week.
All next week at the Baker, commencing Sunday matinee, the much talked about engagement of Donald Bowles in "The Prince Chap," will take place. This is Bowles' farewell to the drama, and as he goes upon the Orpheum circuit next month. Tickets for "The Prince Chap" are selling rapidly.

Next Week at Patience.
One of the best bills to be presented in the vaudeville circuit is that which is being offered at Patience next week. At the top are Bert Swan and his wonderful trained squirrels, and a number of others, from the European concert halls, where it has been the top-line attraction in the past season.

New Acts Booked.
Among the acts booked for the Grand the coming week will be Will Rosier's "Branch of Kids in a Comedy," comedy hat throwers, Helen Horeford & Company, presenting "The Squirrels," and a number of others. The coming bill will be especially strong in the musical and singing department.

Pink Tea Matinee at Loring.
The "Flamingo," which is being presented by the Alton Stock Company, at the Loring Theater this week, is pleasing large audiences nightly, and a number of others, the most popular plays the company has as yet presented. The regular pink tea will take place today.

Star Theater for Pictures.
At the matinee next Sunday the Star Theater will again be devoted exclusively to high-grade motion pictures, songs and acts, that blend attractively with this form of amusement. The shows will be run continuously and the programmes will be entirely changed Sundays and Wednesdays. The theater has been brightened up, made more comfortable than ever and the man-

PIONEER EDUCATOR DIES
Miss Clementine Rodney Helped Found St. Helen's Hall.
Miss Clementine Rodney, one of the founders of St. Helen's Hall, a school for girls in this city, died yesterday morning at the Good Samaritan Hospital. She was one of the pioneer educators of the state, having come to Portland in 1889. She was accompanied at that time by Miss Mary B. Rodney, Miss Lydia Rodney, sisters, and Henry Rodney, a brother. The school was started by the sisters shortly after their arrival, and flourished successfully under their direction for many years.
Mary B. Rodney married the late
