

SNOW KEEPS BACK $2000 OF STATE'S

Ex-Highway Commissioner of Washington Admits He Retained Funds.

SAYS NONE TO GIVE IT TO

Although Requested Resignation
Takes Effect August 1, Not Until Books Are Expended Does He Mention Funds in Hand.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—By his own written admission Joseph M. Snow, ex-Highway Commissioner, has in his possession about $2000 belonging to the state. Although his requested resignation of the office took effect August 1, it was not until Governor Hay had given out a statement that the books were being expensed and that Snow had failed to account for certain funds that the ex-Highway Commissioner made any reference to this retained coin.

Governor Hay, through Highway Commissioner Bowley, had called upon Snow to report as to the status of $10,000 paid Snow for the state by the Milwaukee road for the right to use part of a state road near Lake Koshong, and Snow paid no attention to the demand. The State Bureau of Accountancy called upon Snow to submit his vouchers and correspondence respecting this deal, papers which Snow had taken from the highway office when he left here.

Today State Auditor Clausen received a letter written by Snow in which he is forwarding by express both vouchers and the correspondence. In addition Snow says he has this $2000 in his possession and is ready to turn it over to any person entitled to receive it.

That Snow had failed to turn over any actual coin to his successor was a disagreeable surprise to the local friends of the ex-Commissioner. Bowley was not in Olympia August 1 to take over the office nor was it known that day when he would arrive. Snow left on receiving advice from the Attorney-General that his resignation prevented him performing any duties after August 1, whether Bowley was on hand to receive the office or not.

But weeks have passed and friends of Snow are at a loss to explain why in the interim the ex-Commissioner absolutely failed to make any report or to turn over this cash and why he thought it advisable to carry away the vouchers and other correspondence relating to the matter.

GRAVES TO BE ATTORNEY

Cos Bay, Oregon & Idaho Railroad
Proceeds With Survey.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Attorney R. A. Graves has been appointed attorney for the Cos Bay, Oregon & Idaho Railroad. He takes the place of Francis H. Clarke, who is now president of the road, and who, with Engineer Haines, holds an option on the right of way. Darius Kreitzer has been made auditor and J. H. Flanagan, treasurer of the road.

Engineer Haines, who has been in the city, left today with $500 to meet the September payroll of the surveying party. He was accompanied to the survey camp by Francis Clarke, who will there meet one of the men from outside said to be behind the railroad and show him over the right-of-way.

O. A. C. HAS CHESS CLUB

Effort Will Be Made to Form Inter-collegiate League.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—O. A. C. will have a chess club. This was the decision reached last night at a meeting of some 30 enthusiasts who had responded to a call from Professor Tallander for a meeting of those interested in the formation of such a club. Professor Tallander was made chairman of the temporary organization and plans were drawn up providing for a permanent organization soon to be perfected.

SHUTOUT TACTICS BEGUN

Oakland & Tidewater Road Boys
Land Wanted by Another Line.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Considerable comment was created here by a report that W. W. Purdy, chief engineer and manager of the Oakland & Tidewater Road, organized to build from Oakland to Coos Bay, had bought or taken options on large tracts of land on the south side of Coos River.

HOQUIAM MAN DISAPPEARS

Town Is Alarmed Because John G.
Wheelock Is Mysteriously Gone.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Some apprehension is felt by friends over the unexplained absence of John G. Wheelock, a long-time resident of this city, well advanced in years and possessing considerable property. Mr. Wheelock is single and is a man of steady habits. His apartment at the Hotel Fernona have been unoccupied since Monday, and business men about town do not remember having seen him since that day.

FRESHIES HAVE EASY TIME

No Hazing at Corvallis and Upper Classmen Extend Glad Hand.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The freshmen met in the Armory this afternoon and under the protection and guidance of representatives of the senior class proceeded to elect officers and perfect their class organization. Not a sophomore appeared to mar the harmony of the occasion. Everything was orderly and peaceful. Never in the history of the college has a freshman class broken into the sphere of college life and traditions so peacefully and easily as the class of 1913. This utopian condition is due in part to the faculty decree prohibiting hazing, but mainly to the attitude of the upper classmen, who, contrary to all precedents, have welcomed the freshmen with open arms and have protected and aided them at every turn.

INITIATIVE IS ATTACKED

LOCAL OPTION LAW HELD IN-VALID FOR LACK OF TITLE.

Contention Made in Suit of State vs.
Langworthy on Trial in Supreme Court.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—More than ordinary interest is being manifested by attorneys in the outcome of the case of the State vs. Langworthy, a primary election law. The principal contention of the appellant is that the Secretary of State, in certifying the names of state and district officers to the County Clerk, and the names and numbers of initiative measures, did not certify the title of the local-option act as was given in the law, and as section 4, laws of 1903, required, but instead simply called the act the local-option act and in accordance therewith it was placed on the ballot under the title, "For Local Option" and "Against Local Option." The claim is made that because the title of the act did not appear on the ballot the law is invalid.

This point is thus set forth: "The initiative and referendum is only an amendment to the constitution and its other provisions with respect to the enactment of laws applies, even if by initiative petition. Every act shall have a title, and article 4, section 30 of the constitution applies to initiative enactments the same as legislative." Numerous authorities are cited. Langworthy is represented by Holmes & Handley and Talmage & Johnson, the state by Attorney-General Crawford, I. H. Van Winkle, John H. McNary, Assistant District Attorney, and W. H. Cooper and H. T. Botta, of Tillamook.

INDICTMENT IS DELAYED

Belated Witness Holds Up Grand Jury in Ryan Murder Case.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Though the new grand jury this morning took up the investigation of the Ryan murder case, no indictment can be returned before tomorrow. The reason for the delay was the failure of Jacob Schubert, to Walla Walla, to receive the notification to be here and testify before the grand jury. He arrived this evening, and as his testimony is all that remains to be taken, the indictment will probably be read tomorrow forenoon.

HUNTERS READY TO KILL

NIMRODS WILL SWARM OVER FIELDS FOR PHEASANTS.

Estimated 1000 Gunners Will Shoot
in Linn County on Opening of China Season.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—In spite of a reduced limit and a great scarcity of birds, it is estimated at least 1000 hunters will be in the fields of Linn County after China pheasants tomorrow, the first day the open season opens. Hunters from Portland and other Oregon cities reached Albany today on every train. The number of outside hunters is smaller than usual, however, but many local hunters will be abroad tomorrow as is usual on the opening day. Scores of hunting parties are leaving Albany tonight, to be in the fields ready to begin shooting at daybreak.

FIELD SURVEYS ARE ACTIVE

Two Lines Busy Mapping Route to Coos Bay Country.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Engineer Stevens, of Marshfield, has been engaged to assist Chief Engineer P. A. Haines in the work of surveying for the Coos Bay, Oregon & Idaho line from Marshfield to Coos Bay. This is the survey started by the local company which gave the option on the survey and right of way to Engineer Haines and Attorney Francis H. Clarke. They secured outside capital to continue the work. Engineer Stevens will have a crew of 10 men with him. Haines will work at the Roseburg end of the line and Stevens will survey between Myrtle Point and Remote in Coos County. He has left with his helpers and started on the field work this week.

LIVESTOCK EARNS MONEY

Ed. Schol, of Albany, Cleans Up
$1301.50 in Prizes at Fair.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Ed. Schol, of Albany, returned today from a tour of the four leading fairs held on the Pacific Coast this fall with $1301.50 in prize money, which he won with an exhibit of 25 hogs, 12 sheep and 39 specimens of poultry.

WHISKY LEADS TO MURDER

Greek Laborer Shot by Teamster on Sumpter Valley Line.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 14.—Through a fight which occurred in a tent last night above Astoria on the Sumpter Valley extension, a Greek laborer was shot and killed by Hugh Jackson, a teamster. The quarrel started over whom should buy a bottle of whisky. Jackson was taken to Prairie City, where he is in jail.

Fortune Found in Oil.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Henry Hoeck, an alderman of North Bend, and a well-known logger who formerly operated a camp in this county, writes that he has struck it rich in oil and gas in Wyoming. Mr. Hoeck is one of the chief stockholders in a company which bored for oil and gas.

WOMEN IN SESSION

State Federation Begins Its Annual Convention.

NOTED GUEST IS PRESENT

Mrs. Philip N. Moore, President of National Federation, in Address at Forest Grove, Praises the Growth of Work in Oregon.

FOREST GROVE, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The ninth annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs met in the First Congregational Church this morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting was convened by the state president, Mrs. Sarah E. Evans. Judge W. H. Hallia, for Mayor Laughlin, extended a cordial welcome to the 78 delegates who had arrived this morning. Mrs. Charles Hines, president of the local club, also made a welcoming address, which was responded to by Mrs. M. L. Gowan, of The Dalles club.

The presence of Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis, president of the National Federation, lends much to the enthusiasm of the attendance. She was welcomed to the state by the Western sea by Mrs. Abigail Dunaway in a most able manner, and in her response the National Federation president paid the Oregon club a high tribute. Mrs. Moore at the conclusion of her talk was presented with floral tributes.

The report of the recording secretary shows there are 90 clubs in the state, with a membership of over 2000. Reports from standing committees were read, all showing progress in the work. The program for this evening was held in Marsh Hall, and was begun by a recital, with Professor Frank P. Chapman director, after which a reception was tendered to Mrs. Philip N. Moore and to the officers and delegates of the convention by the Women's Club of this city.

LOOK HERE! THE EQUAL OF 2 SUITS FOR THE PRICE OF 1

Ask any man who is accustomed to buying an extra pair of trousers with his suit and he will tell you that it makes a suit equal to two suits in wear and comfort. Trousers get out of shape and need pressing oftener than a coat.

A coat wears much longer than a single pair of trousers and it's a splendid plan to have an extra pair of trousers with a suit of clothes both for appearance as well as for the double service gained.

We're making a big run this week on all lines of tailor-made suits. We're offering a special inducement to good dressers for one week only, of with every suit ordered from this store. The order may be left and the suit taken later. We simply want your order.

AN EXTRA PAIR OF TROUSERS FREE

Our suits are made to your own measure in our own workshop, and there is not a garment that leaves this shop that isn't strictly up-to-the-minute in every respect.

Our $25 suits will cost you $35 in any other high-class shop. Our $50 suits will cost not less than $65 elsewhere.

It's on goods of this character that we are making this extra special offer. Make your selections while the assortments of goods are at their best.
