USE NEW METHODS

Police Adopt Bertillon and "Finger-Print" Systems.

STUDY MADE BY DETECTIVE

Hunter Returns From Oakland Where He Got Data to Be Employed by Criminal-Catchers In This City.

The identification of criminals by means of the Bertillon system of measurements and by the application of the "finger print" identification method is to be employed in the future by the Portland police department. Detective Hunter, of the local police force, has just returned from Oakland, where he has been for the last month studying the finger print and Bertillon systems under the tutelage of H. H. Caldwell, the most expert man on the Pacific Coast in the employment of these means of identification. Mr. Hunter had studied the systems from texts before journeying to Oakland. The two systems will be installed at once in Portland. An order will be sent immediately for a complete outfit for the taking of Bertillon measurements. Mr. Hunter will be placed in charge of this department. At present he is the only person in Portland who has made a thorough study of this work. The finger print means of identification consists of having the criminal make an impression of each thumb and finger on a card constructed for the purpose of retaining the impressions. Then the impressions are classified, and the system is such that a man may be identified by a telegraphic description of the finger prints which merely give the classification numbers. These cards will all be filed in the office of the detectives here and an index system arranged whereby, from telegraph messages, the correct cards may be located at once. The Bertillon system of measurements, which describes accurately every scar and irregularity on the criminal, has been employed for a number of years in large cities of America and it is said by members of the local detective force that there is no other city in the country today the size of Portland which has not for a long time made use of the Bertillon measurement system. The same is said to be true of the employment of finger prints as a means of sure identification. While the latter mode of identification has never been regularly employed in

VISIONS OF RICHES SEEN

MANY THINK THEY HAVE DISCOVERED RADIUM.

Request of Mining School for Pitchblende Leads to Deluge of Samples.

If Oregon contained the radium deposits described in letters that are pouring into the Chamber of Commerce each day from miners in various localities, the mineral wealth of the state would be so great that all other of its boasted resources would be inconsequential in comparison to it. Imagine how little interest would appeal draw, even at $5 a box, if radium, which demands between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000 a pound, could be picked out of the ground in large quantities. A. W. Miller, who has charge of the mineral exhibits at the Chamber of Commerce, recently received a request from the School of Mines at Golden, Colo., to obtain samples of ore that looks like pitchblende, in which radium appears, for it is believed that somewhere in the West are valuable deposits of this rich ore. All samples are to be tested at the school, and any lucky prospector who locates a deposit of pitchblende might be able to buy out the United States mint. To various papers in the state, Mr. Miller sent notices that he was prepared to get samples of what might prove to be pitchblende, but now he has begun to regret making the offer. For Mr. Miller confesses to being a man of a sympathetic nature, and to write to the hundreds of men who have confided in him concerning their positive wealth in pitchblende mines, and break the news to them that after all their visions of wealth they are simply illusioned human beings, is a task he would avoid if he could. One of the most exciting letters of this kind was received yesterday, accompanied by a large package of ordinary shale, many miles of which can be found covering the ground in some parts of Oregon. The writer was certain it was pitchblende, and he told of the large deposits he had found. He was anxiously waiting for a reply from Mr. Miller, although he seemed to have no doubt concerning the identity of the rock. The rich samples he forwarded are now reposing in a garbage can and a letter will go to Josephine County today to tell the man who sent it to keep his pitchblende at home, for it is not desired here or anywhere else. "I really don't like to discourage these prospectors," said Mr. Miller yesterday, "for I feel confident that somewhere in the state pitchblende can be found."

BABY REVIVED GETS WELL

After Being Dead Five Minutes, Child Restored and Recovers.

Gilbert Wagner, the 20-months-old baby that was miraculously restored to life Saturday after being choked to death by a piece of apple, has almost been restored to normal health, again, said Dr. F. A. Short yesterday afternoon. Five minutes after the death of the child the physician arrived, finding the child black in the face, without heart movement, respiration or other indication of life. The removal of the apple, followed by long-continued efforts at artificial respiration to restore life, finally resulted in restoring suspended animation. Gilbert Wagner is the son of Harry Wagner, of Woodstock, but the nearly cataleptic occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Wagner were visiting at 613 10th street.

WIFE WANTED TO KNOW

HEARS HUSBAND HAS ANOTHER FAMILY IN OLD COUNTRY.

So She Has Him Arrested for Beating Her and Then Tells Court Real Reason and Is Satisfied.

Cornelius Battaman, a laborer, was haled into court yesterday on complaint of his wife, who alleged he had severely beaten and assaulted her. When the case came up, Mrs. Battaman said her husband had never beaten her and that she had brought the charge merely to get him into court, so he could explain the report that had reached her of his having a wife and four children in the old country. "What did you mean by having this man arrested?" demanded Judge Bennett. "Well, your honor," the woman pleaded, "some one sent me a letter and it said that in the old country my man had left another wife with four children. That bothered me so I thought I would find out what he has against me by marrying me when he knows he has another wife and four little babies over there." Battaman protested so vehemently against this that at his own request he was put under oath and swore he had only one wife and that he loved her. When Mrs. Battaman heard the words which dispelled her suspicions she danced up and down with pleasure and was about to turn away when she suddenly remembered something else and putting her hand under the folds of her dress withdrew a paper package containing darkening powder and produced it for Judge Bennett's inspection. "But, your honor, there is one more thing I would like to have explained," she hesitated. "Some one has been spreading this poison about the house trying to kill me. Cornelius, tell us what you know about that." "Poison," ejaculated Deputy District Attorney Hennessy, "let me see it," and he placed the powder to his nose. A violent sneeze followed. "Why, this is not poison; it is only snuff," declared the prosecutor. "Well, if that's the case I guess I take my man back. I thought all the time he was all right, but somehow I like these things explained to me," with which the unsophisticated woman and her husband held a joyful reunion and went happily out of the courtroom after a caution from the bench to avoid family jars.

SQUIRES CASE POSTPONED

Woman Assaulted Alleges She Is Too Badly Hurt to Appear.

The case against Harry Squires, the well-known turfman and owner of race horses, was called yesterday afternoon in Justice Court before Justice Olson, but was postponed until Mrs. Jay Hamilton, Squires' former wife whom he is accused of having pulled through a window and assaulted, is able to appear in court. Word was sent that Mrs. Hamilton was too ill from the results of her beating to leave her bed. Justice Olson was disinclined to grant a continuance of the case and when urged to do so by Attorneys Baker and Huntsman, who appeared for Squires, issued an order for the County Physician to examine Mrs. Hamilton and see if she were as badly injured as she asserts. The attorneys of the defendant set up the claim in court that Mrs. Hamilton was suffering from intoxication more than from bodily injury. They were unable to offer any evidence, but upon their representations a physician representing the defense was given permission to accompany the County Physician. Squires and his wife and Miss Hazel Nelson, a 17-year-old niece of Mrs. Squires, who lives at the Squires home, all assert Squires was at home and asleep at the time the assault was committed and that he has been singled out as an object of Mrs. Hamilton's spite. Some ill-feeling has grown up about their son, Harry Squires, 20 years old, who was undecided whether to live with his father or his mother. Justice Olson announced if Mrs. Hamilton were able to come to court and further objected he would send an officer and force her to come. CARD OF THANKS. I wish to extend many thanks to the friends who attended the funeral of my father, (Thomas E. Hirsch), for their kindness and sympathy during his illness. MARIE T. HIRSCH.

PROBATE COURT NOTES.

The will of Elizabeth B. Gowanlock, filed in the County Court yesterday, gives to Edith M. Gowanlock, a daughter, $8,500 of a $40,000 estate. Three sons, James A., Ralph W. and Clyde C. Gowan-lock, will receive $500 each. Included in the property is $10,000 cash, ten shares of stock in the Portland Iron Works, worth about $100, and notes and mortgages of like value. The home place, in Hanson's addition, is valued at $500.

Edith M. Henderson and Walter A. Tyler, children of Benjamin F. Tyler, an Oregon pioneer who died at his home in Lents September 30, will receive $1000 of their father's estate, which is of the estimated value of $8000. The real estate is worth $2000 and will be filed for probate in the County Court yesterday, gives to the widow, Emma F. Tyler, all the real estate to hold during her lifetime. She died, and it will now go to the children. Besides this real property, the will gives them $1000 each. Herbert A. Tyler, one of the sons, has died, as has Mrs. Bertha Gifford, a daughter. Judge Webster appointed J. C. McGraw executor, while W. H. Powers, C. E. Kennedy and J. H. Donaldson will act as appraisers.

SHOWERS ARE TO CONTINUE

Storm Warnings Issued on Oregon and Washington Coast.

Intermittent showers of the past 24 hours will continue to fall throughout the state today, according to the observations of District Forecaster Beals. The high southerly winds that have prevailed along the Oregon and Washington coasts for the past two days have shown no immediate indication of decreasing. In view of that fact, the weather man sounded storm warnings along the coast yesterday. The blow has been beneficial to sailing vessels and attained a maximum velocity of 69 miles an hour at North Head yesterday. By tonight it is expected the barometer will begin to climb with the gradual settling of the elements. A rising temperature is looked for in Eastern Oregon where it has been exceptionally cool during the recent period of precipitation. The hourly temperature for Portland and vicinity yesterday were: High 58, Low 48, 5 A. M. 50, 6 A. M. 50, 7 A. M. 50, 8 A. M. 50, 9 A. M. 50, 10 A. M. 50, 11 A. M. 50.

CITIES SEND IN EXHIBITS

Klamath Falls and Scappoose Products Put on Display.

Klamath Falls has just sent its first exhibit to the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and the fruit and vegetable specimens that it includes have been put on display. A feature of the exhibit is an onion which measures nearly 16 inches in circumference. A number of unusually large potatoes have been received for exhibition from Scappoose, one of which measures almost a foot in length. A table has been installed at the exhibit rooms on which will be exclusively displayed Hood River apples, and literature from that place will be placed there for free distribution. TO PREVENT WET FEET. Rub a little Webfoot Oil Blacking or Dressing (tan) on the shoes once or twice a week. This oil paste makes shoes last longer, too, besides keeping the leather soft and pliable. All dealers carry it. Today is positively the last day for discount on East Side gas bills. Read "Gas Tips."
