Seals Fail to Cinch Pennant in Game Full of "Ifs" and Errors.

STRANGE PLAYS BOB UP

Double in Early Stages of Contest Costs Beavers Run-Zeider Goes to Sleep in Ninth-Cooney Sidesteps

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE. cland 5, San Francisco 5; called, Oakland 7, Los Angeles L.

Februmento 2, Vernon 1.

There were more "if's" in the ball game between Portland and San Francisco today than any contest that has taken place in many months. If the Beavers had not bumped into a double play in had not bumped into a double play in the early stages they would have scored more runs, and, on the other hand, if Rolle Zeider had paid strict attention to business in the first of the ninth, the Beavers would have suffered a defeat that would have cinched the pennant race. But in spite of the "if's" the game dragged along into extra innings and when at the end of the lith it was too dark to see what was taking place, the umpires called it a 5-to-5 tied score. It was exciting all right, with plays It was exciting all right, with plays never before dreamed of and others that were remarkable. A peek at the error column shows that both clubs were far from playing spotless baseball.

Fisher Makes Three Errors.

Catcher Fisher, of the Northerners catcher sinner. Of the Northead shows up in a bad light with three errors against his name, but truth compels the statement that Cooney was largely responsible as he sidestepped two throws when he might have blocked the ball, if nothing else.

M nothing else.

San Francisco started off with runs in the first inning. Davis was out when Mohler put a bunt along the third base line and took second when Ote Johnson overthrew to first. Miller siammed the ball short scoring Mohler, and then came all the way around when Fisher, to whom the ball was returned, made a wild throw to second with no one to wild throw to second with no one to

on a single, a walk and a long hit by Spens, but luck was against the Beavers in the first of the third. Cooney and Olson singled and were advanced by past Henley. The latter just tipped the ball with his glove. It bounded toward second after the fashion of a carrom shot. Mohler held it fast and merely touched second to complete the double.

Wild Throw Costly.

nbination of hits and errors gave the Seals their closing three runs in the fourth. Zeider singled to left and Miller beat out a bunt. Melchior attempted a sacrifice and on Fisher's wild throw to third Zeider scored. With Tennant out. The Beavers made three more in the fifth when Henley walked one man, hit another and allowed two singles. This combination together with Berry's wild throw worked the havoc. In the first of the ninth, Speas started with a single and was safe at secon-on Guyn's sacrifice. Cooney was out to Mohler, but Olson hit a grounder to Zeider that ought to have been an easy out. Reilie hesitated momentarily in an effort to land Speas and when he did throw the ball, it pulled Tommy Tennant off the bag. The first sacker dropped the ball and Speas romped home.

PACIFIC'S TEAM WINS BY ONE POINT AT FOREST GROVE.

Forward Pass and Onside Kicks Are Used Frequently, but With Poor Success by Either Side.

FOREST GROVE, Or., Oct. 22 -(Speclal.)-Pacific University, the local elaven, took the Hill Military Academy football team into camp on the University field this afternoon by a 6-to-5 score. The play of both teams was ragged at times. The forward pass and onside kick were used freely by both aggregations with poor success. Several of Pacific's men were suffering with hurts received in the game with the Oregon Agricultural College last Saturday, and did not put up their usual good game. Pacific kicked off to Hill's ten-yard line. Baker being downed in his tracks. The ball see-sawed back and forth, neither team being able to make consistent gains. Toward the end of the half, Wirtzweiller, of Hill, advanced the ball 40 yards on a fake punt to Pacific's 20yard line. Hill worked the ball over for the only score of the half. Cole missing the goal by a close margin.

The score resulted from a beautiful place kick made by Stanard. Washington's left, end, from the 25-yard line, and a safety when the ball was passed over Cobb's head, by Curry, the scademy center.

The close score was somewhat of a surprise to everyone, as it was thought before the game that Washington High had much the stronger team and probably would score two or three touchdowns on the light academy team. The academy boys put up a stiff game every minute of the contest and showed the fighting apirit which has always been reputed to its teams.

On the offense Washington had it over P. A. to a considerable extent, and it kept the ball in P. A.'s territory more than half the time. Three or four times washington came within striking distance of the goal, but was held for downs by the stubborn academics. If better generalship had been used by Washington in two or three instances, it probably would have had a touchdown to its credit. The academy never attempted a goal.

Cohb's Punting Feature.

Cobb's punling was one of the features of the game. He averaged at least 40 yards, and one of his boots went 55 yards. Ed Leader, kicking for Washington, also did good work. Part of the game was a punting duel in which Cobb excelled.

Cornell, the East Side quarterback, was in every play and his work was of the stellar variety. Frazier, Ed Leader and Munley, the Washington backs, all played faultlessly. Nolan, the 196-pound full-back, was the strong man for the acad-

The rooters for both schools did great work, and the playing of the East Side High School band of 12 pieces was a feature. Several hundred boys from the East Side marched on the field before the game and also paraded downtown after the game to celebrate their victory. Washington kicked off at the start for the first half, and Cobb on the first down for P. A. made 35 yards on an end run. The ball then was lost on downs by both sides. On a punt by Ed Leader, Washington recovered the ball for a gain of 20 yards and rushed it to P. A. 219-yard line, but it was lost on downs. of 29 yards and fushed it to P. At this juncture, Washington made 20 yards on a forward pass and had the ball on the P. A. 10-yard line. P. Cobb fell on it and the result was a safety for fell on it and the result was a safety for Washington, making the score 2 to 0.

Munley Nearly Gets Away.

Following this several punts were exchanged, and P. A. made 20 yards on a quarterback kick, and another 30 yards on a recovery of Cobb's punt. P. A. attempted a quarterback kick, but Washington recovered the ball on its own 20-yard line. Punts were exchanged and then Munley, running back a punt, almost out away for a round-laws but most got away for a touchdown, but was | from the determination exp

Portland Academy kicked off in the second half. After several minutes of play, Washington recovered the ball on one of its own punts and thereby gained 50 yards. The ball was rushed to the P. A. After several minutes of interesting punting and end runs for short gains, Washington recond runs for short gains, Washington re-covered one of its own punts and rushed the ball to the P. Trainer Bill Hayward is especially hopeful that the meet will bring forward several promising new men, particularly in the sprints; for with both Oliver Hus in the sprints; for with both chive rus-ton and Harry Moon, Oregon's fast 100 and 230-yard men of last year, unable to represent the varsity next season, the chances look rather black. Among the youngsters of whom Hayward expects much is Robert Kuykendall, a younger brother of Eberle Kuykendall, the former star hurdler, sprinter and football man. At the Eugene High School last year Kuykendall showed great promise as a oming athlete.

The various classes will be captained as follows: Seniors, George Riddell; juniors. Lewis Johnson; sophomores, James Johns, and freshmen, Robert
