STONE HOUSES give evidence of becoming popular. We have been commissioned to build two other houses of stone during the past week, and the plans are now in preparation for them. Many of those who see us in regard to such houses express a, wish for such a dwelling "If they could only afford it." They are surprised to find on figuring the matter out with us that such a house is infinitely chapper than frame. In our opinion it is not going to require a restrictive building ordinance to do away with frame buildings your own common seems will compass it. We would like the operating of the such positions of the such portion of the such portions of the such positions of the such positions of the such position of the such positions of the s
