SURVEYING PARTY STIRS PENDLETON

Rumor Says New Line Will Be Built in Umatilla County.

ENGINEERS KEEP SILENCE

S. C. Martin, of O. R. & N., at Head of Camp-Gossips Think Line May Run Birch Creek to Heppner or Into Grant County.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 23 - (Special)-Mystery shrouds the party of railroad en. gineera establishing a permanent camp four miles west of Pendleton on the Umatilla River at the junction of the Pilot Rock branch with the main line of the O. R. & N. One thember of the party came to Pendleton this morning to secure lumber and other supplies for his camp, but an air of secrecy characterized his vements and he even refused to divulge movements and he even retused to diverge his name.

Later it was asceptained that this man was S. C. Martin and that he is in the employ of the O. R. & N. It developed that all his camp equipment and supplies had been shipped to this city and because there was no car available to take them back to the alte of their camp, he was compelled to have them handed down the river in wagons. There are it or it men in the party. Local railroad men profess to know nothing about the surveyors or their purpose.

Many theories have been advanced to account for the presence of the party, but none are satisfactory. One rumor has it that the railroad is merely preparing to straighten and shorten the road.

ing to straighten and shorten the road down the Umatilla River and incidentally eliminate the famous horse-shoe curve. If this were true there would be no ex-cuse for secrety, and there are many places where the camp might have been more advantageously located.

One of the most persistent theories is that the old scheme to build a road across the country from the mouth of Birch Creek to Heppner, has been revived. If this line should be built it would settle the Stanfield-Coyote cut-off proposition. For, though it would not materially shorten the distance, by making use of this cutoff and the Heppmer branch, east-bound freight trains could shun the heavy grades along the lower Umatilla. Other gossip has it that the Pilot Rock branch is to be extended south into Grant

The local lodge was instituted October 19, 1859, when a dispensation was granted by Grand Master Amory Holbrook to a number of residing Masons. The lodge is named, after him and six days later he presented the lodge with the Bible that has ever since graced, its altar.

The lodge was chartered by the grand lodge December 21, 1860. Until 1878 the meetings of the fraternity were held in the upper story of a small frame building, known as the Western Hotel to the old settlers, which stood on the lot now occupied by the Forest Grove National Bank. In 1860 Holbrook Lodge had a membership of 12.

In 1872 the agitation for more adequate lodge quarters came up for discussion and on June 15, 1878, a contract was enlered into between the officers of the lodge and the trustees of the egate of lodge and the trustees of the estate of Michel Vert, to build a hall jointly, the upper floor of which should be used exclusively by the Masons. This hall was dedicated by Tuality Lodge, No. 6, on St. John's day, December Z. 1878, the late Congressman Thomas H. Tongue being gers.

The usefulness of the latter, the winners declare, is materially impaired by the fact that Crock is now a dry county.

The bucking buil contest, while it did not, perhaps, equal in ferocity the exhibitions offered in Spanish arenas, provided a vast amount of amusement for the onlookers, even if the conclusion reached by the hovine "buckaroos" was that horses are the better mounts, after all. The "squaw race," by the way, which was the impromptu drawing card of the previous morning, surpassed the rosiest expectations of its promoters as an amusement-maker. This thanks to an amusement-maker. This thanks to the fact that the five ponies which started in the race, with their bronzefaced and vividly-cled feminine jock-eys, one and all bolted the track when they reached a point opposite the en-trance to the grounds, and deposited the racers, their ribbons and themselves in a rainbow-tinted and exclamatory tangle.
