SPEEDY ACTION ADVOCATED

President Would Handle Inland Waterways Question as Panama Canal Has Been Treated-Commercial Advantages Sleep.

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 27,-President Tatt's river schedule went all to pieces today, owing to the inability of the vessels following his flagship, the Cleamer, to maintain the designated speed. The President tried to remain with the fleet as far at possible and delayed his arrival at Memphis three hours today in order that the boat carrying the 26 Gov-ernors and the 177 Congressmen, as well as other vessels carrying delegates to the waterways convention in New Orleans, might land at the earne time. Leaving Memphis an hour and a half late this afternoon, the Oleander had to press forward at top speed in order to reach here at 8 P. M., two hours behind the scheduled time.

Leaving here nearly three hours late tonight, the President will not reach Vicksburg until 6 o'clock or later tomor-Vicksburg until 6 o'clock or later tomorrow night, that being his next stop. Even to make that city at 6 P. M., the President will have to leave the other vemeck behind. It had been intended that the President should be welcomed once more to Arkansas by Governor Donagher, but the Governor's boat was an hour behind the President, and the introductory appeach was made by Mayor Marrin.

Mr. Taft received a noisy welcome in Memphis. As his boat drew up to the levee the place was black with people. The buildings fronting the river were also crowded.

Congress Has Power.

Congress has the power to improve the riverways. They have spent much money, but have not entered into general plans. We all realize that if we do anything effectively and economically it must be a general plan. If it is proven practical, I believe it ought to be done and done quickly. We ought to treat it like we have treated the Panama Canal issue, but not piecemeal. Let us center on a measure alone and issue bonds.

I wish to impress upon you most emphatically that you have grown, not by reason of your river facilities, but by reason of your railroad facilities. "And now that is why we are here. We are here to see if we cannot add to your river facilities so that in the same length of time you may again double your growth. We did not come down that river of yours simply for the enjoyment of it. We came down because we believe we are now enterthe enjoyment of it. Offensive Breath and Stomach Gases Cannot Exist When They Are Used.

Charcoal, by virtue of its porous na ture, takes up gases mechanically just as a sponge takes up water. Its capacity in this respect is in proportion to the number and fineness of its pores. Willow-wood charcoal is, then, the very best for the purpose of absorbing excessive gas of the stomach, removing intestinal flatus, and purifying foul breath. Charcoal to be effective against gastric flatulence must be introduced among the gases of the stomach in the same state as when fresh from the crucible. The means of effecting this is to compress them into soluble logenges, so that after being dissolved in enges, so that after being dissolved in the mouth and swallowed, the char-coal is "set free," and at once begins its work of oxidizing and absorbing foul gases, and also, through its anti-septic properties, of purifying the en-tire alimentary tract. It is definitely known that the ab-receivent and cleansing action of char-sorbent and cleaning action of char-coal is protracted and continued through the intestinal system as well as in the stomach, and it proves beneficial there also. IN STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous." L. TURLEY CURD, Wilmore, Ky.
