

CANNON ROAR ON SALAMIS STRAITS

Greek Mutineers' Fleet Is Scattered.

TAKE ARSENAL AND LOSE IT

Tibaldi's Rejects Cabinet's Compromise Terms.

LEADS REVOLT IN NAVY

Demands Place in Cabinet and Will Not Listen to Military League, Rebel Ships Still Roam the Greek Sea.

ATHENS, Oct. 29.—Naval mutiny today forced the army mutiny of several weeks ago which forced a change in the cabinet at the dictation of the Military League. Headed by Lieutenant Tibaldos, 200 officers and men of the navy seized a flotilla of eight torpedo-boats, went to the island of Salamis and seized the arsenal. A battle lasting 20 minutes followed between the mutineers and the loyal forces, consisting of field guns and big warships. One of the torpedo-boats was disabled, another fled toward the Bay of Louisa and a third has put to sea. When the loyal ships opened the attack, a sharp exchange of shots followed. Only one shell hit a torpedo-boat—the Splendona—which was immediately enveloped in a cloud of smoke and proved to be disabled.

Troops Recapture Arsenal.

The torpedo-boats gradually retired until they obtained shelter off the headland, when firing ceased. The rebel vessels returned the fire of the warships and field batteries, but apparently little damage was done on either side. Athens remained quiet tonight, but much suppressed excitement prevailed. An official statement was issued, stating that the arsenal, which was in the hands of the rebels, had been recaptured and that the mutinous torpedo-boats were expected to surrender.

Revolt Against Compromise.

Lieutenant Tibaldos appeared to have been actuated by his disapproval of the tactics of the Military League and the junior naval officers in consenting to negotiate a compromise of the ultimatum recently issued by the Military League for an ordinance suspending all promotion for five years and abolition of the posts of Rear-Admiral, Vice-Admiral and 13 places of lesser rank. Tibaldos took a prominent part in the military movement last August. He was the first officer to go to the camp at Goudi, outside the city, after the Premier's refusal to receive a deputation of officers, and he subsequently was appointed commander of the rebel company.

At a meeting of the Military League yesterday Tibaldos said: "I led the last revolt and without me it would have failed. Now you abandon me, but I will carry out a second revolt single-handed."

Say Tibaldos Is Mad.

The Military League's proclamation disowning Tibaldos, who was in command of a flotilla of torpedo-boats and submarines and demanded the portfolio of Minister of Marine, describes his pretensions to madness and the influence of outsiders, and threatens to have him court-martialed for treason. The league met late tonight to discuss its attitude toward naval officers who took part in the fight. It is believed the league is inclined to show them indulgence.

Meanwhile the position of the mutinous torpedo-boats resembles that of the Russian battleship Kaptan Potemkin, which mutinied in 1905 and fled on Odessa and then roamed the Black Sea for several weeks and the government is apprehensive as to where it next will hear of them. It is rumored they have gone toward the island of Crete.

Government Will Show Mercy.

In the Chamber of Deputies today, Premier Mavrominehals said the government was determined to suppress the outbreak by force. Happily the movement was very limited. The ministers, he said, were occupied in reforms in all branches of administration and would not neglect the navy. Therefore, the officers' impatience was unjustified. The Premier added, however, that if the naval officers had been lost astray, they still had time to rehabilitate themselves.

Origin of Revolt.

Regarding the origin of the revolt, the government, in response to the demands of the naval officers for the suspension of promotion for five years and the abolition of certain naval posts, had consented to introduce a navy purification bill, but it insisted that the bill must be absolutely impersonal and declared that it would flatly reject any proposals aimed at individual officers.

The Military League accepted this solution, but Lieutenant Tibaldos branded it as inadequate and secretly convened a meeting of naval officers, who all signed a document, laying down their minimum demands.

This document Lieutenant Tibaldos presented Thursday night to Colonel Tschabas, head of the Military League, and at the same time appealed to the

OLD LOVE REVIVES AFTER MARRIAGE

WIFE TELLS HUSBAND HEART IS GIVEN ANOTHER.

Remains at Elmira to Care for Her Mother While Husband Comes to Coast.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Miss L. McConnell told a hard-luck story to Judge James today, and it was sufficient to secure a decree of divorce from Louisa M. McConnell. The couple were married in Horseheads, N. Y., in 1906. After the ceremony the wife remained at Elmira, N. Y., to take care of her mother. It was agreed that she should come to this city as soon as possible. The mother died, and McConnell insisted on his wife joining him here. Finally he received this letter from her:

"I will tell you how I feel about coming to Los Angeles, and then you may see how impossible it is for me to ever come and live with you. I love John with my whole heart and soul, and, feeling like that, it would be wrong for me to ever think of living with you. I did the greatest wrong to marry you, but it would be a still greater wrong to try and live with you when I love some one else as I do."

The "John" referred to is John Allen, a young man who at one time was about to marry the writer of the missive.

FUNDS FOR OREGON ASKED

Bishop Scadding Lectures at Los Angeles to Raise Endowment.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The Right Rev. Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon for the Protestant Episcopal Church, arrived at the Angelus today on his first visit south of the Oregon border and expressed his delight with Los Angeles.

Tonight he delivered one of his lectures in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, covering the church history "from Jamestown to Oregon," and illustrated his lecture with 200 colored stereoscopic views. The lecture was free, but an offering was taken for the benefit of the Oregon Association Mission.

The bishop is seeking to raise an endowment of $100,000 for the Oregon mission to relieve the weak churches of heavy assessments, and also a fund which he calls the Associate Mission Fund. The latter is for the purpose of grouping weak parishes around a common center.

Tomorrow the bishop will become the guest of Bishop Johnson at his Pasadena home, and on Sunday night he will preach in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral.

BULLET FLIES NEAR MAYOR

Tom Johnson Walks Right Into Saloon Brawl.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29.—Because he was refused a drink today, Joseph Olajnyk shot through the window of a cafe and killed Mayor Tom Johnson and Councilman Birmeston were entering. The shooting gave rise to a report that an attack had been made on the Mayor's life. He was not hurt.

Olajnyk had been refused a drink in the cafe, the bartender declaring that he had had enough. The city officials were only a few feet in advance of Olajnyk when he concluded to "shoot up the place."

The bullet went through the glass and into a passageway, where the Mayor was walking.

The shooting did not excite Mayor Johnson. He went on into the dining-room, notified his officer of the occurrence and then ordered something to eat. He declared he firmly believed no attack had been made on his life.

Olajnyk was arrested.

WOMEN VOICE DEMANDS

First Female Political Convention Assails Sex Discrimination.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—One thousand delegates completely filled the floor of Carnegie Hall tonight at the first women's political convention ever held in New York. Mrs. Clarence Mackay presided the platform, which was adopted.

Peaceful as was the purpose of the convention, there rested in adjoining cloakrooms 150 policemen with "light sticks" in their belts. They were not needed.

The convention demanded amendments to state and National constitutions permitting women to vote; amendments to the city charter requiring one-third of the board of education to be women; compensation for all civil service employees, including teachers, by position and not by sex; and an amendment to the state civil service law prohibiting the exclusion of any citizen from any examination by reason of sex.

BOOK SWINDLERS GUILTY

Got $500,000 in Subscriptions to Bogus Business Directory.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Two alleged book swindlers, Manuel Goodheart and Melville Kline, who were arrested in Seattle and brought here, were found guilty to the criminal court today.

The men are said to have obtained nearly $500,000 from business men throughout the country by posing as publishers of a business directory and securing money for subscriptions and advertising space. They made their headquarters in New York.

The customer would be asked to sign a contract, which was so drawn that by tearing off the upper portion of the page, the holder was in possession of a promissory note instead of a contract.

PHENOMENA STILL LACK EXPLANATION

Sanders Home Upset, None Knows Why.

MYSTERY IS MORE PUZZLING

Electricity and Earthquake Theories Scouted.

PSYCHIC FORCE ADVANCED

Dr. Morrison, Rector Trinity Church, Declares Manifestation Essentially Spiritualistic—Boy Alleged Responsible Is Unconcerned.

NOT ELECTRICITY, TWO DECLARE

Orin B. Caldwell, who has charge of the electrical department of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, said last night he could not understand how electricity could have anything to do with the phenomena at the home of the Sanders family Thursday afternoon. As wood is not a conductor of electricity, Mr. Caldwell says it could not be subject to electrical effects. The recent activity of the Aurora Borealis, which put cables and telegraph lines in many places out of commission, might furnish some basis of a theory in this case, Mr. Caldwell explains. If the manifestations had not been confined to one house, and if the effect had been limited to such articles, such as knives, forks and cooking utensils.

Dr. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, said: "The electricity theory is the most absurd of all. Electricity does not cause any such manifestations. It is a matter of psychic phenomena, in my opinion, a manifestation of an unusual intelligence."

Twenty-four hours of investigation and speculation have served only to deepen the mystery attendant upon the weird performances at the home of J. P. Sanders, 546 Marshall street, Thursday afternoon, when furniture and utensils spent several hours cutting up queer pranks, as if suddenly possessed of independent animation. No satisfactory explanation was arrived at yesterday, and perhaps none will ever be found.

The whole city gave up much of its time to theorizing yesterday and hundreds of people visited the place where the strange things occurred, hoping to get new light on the subject. Various explanations were advanced by people of varying temperament and beliefs. There was a cock-sureness about many of these so-called explanations, especially those advanced by persons of a skeptical turn of mind. But every explanation, scientific or otherwise, struck on the reefs of obstinate contrary evidence.

"Electric disturbance—nothing so very uncommon," urged those who sought a solution out of scientific motives.

"Psychic phenomena, pure and simple," averred those of less material views.

"Specks acting through a boy medium," insisted the spiritualistic element.

BALLOTS STOLEN BY RAIDING BAND

HELD IN KENTUCKY RETREAT BY 60 RIFLEMEN.

Breathitt County Feud Causes Violent Attempt to Prevent Election.

JACKSON, Ky., Oct. 29.—Official ballots intended for the county election on November 2 were seized by a band of armed men today from a bank where they had been deposited for safe-keeping. The band hurried the ballots to an almost inaccessible part of the county and late tonight successfully resisted arrest.

Sheriff Crawford got warrants for the arrest of County Clerk Hurst and another man, organized a large posse and went after the ballots. He returned empty-handed, saying that when they approached the house in which the ballots are held, they were covered with 60 guns in the hands of raiders. Then the sheriff and his men decided to return to Jackson.

Later A. H. Hurst was arrested on a warrant charging him with having fraudulently removed or permitted others to remove the ballots. He was released on $2500 bail.

The present county officials were elected four years ago, when the ticket was headed by the late Judge James Hargis, was swept out of office. There is a hot fight between the Democrats and Republicans and so County Clerk Hurst placed the ballots in the bank.

RANGE WAR MAY REVIVE

Militia Ordered to Basin to Restrain Sheepmen and Cattlemen.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 29.—A detail of ten militiamen was ordered to Basin tonight, and the remainder of the local company was ordered held in readiness for immediate service.

Cattlemen and sheepmen are pouring into Basin and trouble is feared in connection with the re-arrest of five men charged with complicity in the Ten Sleep raid, in which three sheepmen were killed.

REVOLT BEGINS IN SEOUL

Rioters Attack and Burn Depot. Dispersed, They Reunite.

SEOUL, Oct. 29.—The Union Station here of the Seoul-Fusan Railroad was attacked by 200 rioters at midnight last night and partly burned. The rioters were dispersed, but gathered again and are said to be moving northward. No casualties have been reported. The garrison has been ordered to quell the disturbance.

MACHINE COMPUTES HEIGHT OF STARS

CHINESE FINDS WAY TO TELL CELESTIAL DISTANCES.

San Francisco Oriental Gets Ideas From Old Teacher and Then Asks for Patent.

MODESTO, Cal., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Ma Chuck, a Chinaman who was born and reared in San Francisco Chinatown, but who has for the past year been living in this city, has just completed an instrument with which he claims he will be able to calculate the distances between the earth and the planets and also the distance between celestial bodies.

Ma Chuck, then, a boy, had an old teacher in San Francisco who explained the methods of the machine to him, but died in the old country before he had completed the invention. As soon as the teacher and companion died, Ma Chuck set to work on the machine and now has a model at the United States Patent Office.

The machine, after certain manipulations, indicates on a plate an index which gives reference to a page of mathematical computations of the Chinese system from which the exact height or distance of the subject in view is calculated.

GERMAN LIKES REPORTERS

Admiral von Koester Says American Writers Are Fair.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Grand Admiral von Koester, commander of the German fleet which took part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration at New York, today paid a tribute to American newspapermen.

"I had heard a good deal about the American reporter," said Admiral von Koester, "and felt a certain shyness as to how I should get along with him. My first experience was to have five cameras leveled at me in different angles."

"Daily thereafter, I talked with many reporters. Not one got me wrong; not one was I misrepresented. Often I mentioned things in confidence, and in no instance was that confidence betrayed. The reporters whom I met in the United States treated me with delicacy and afforded me a feeling of fair play which I admire and appreciate."

A German-American evening has been arranged for November 4, and a feature of it will be a speech by the Admiral.

MEXICAN GUILTY OF LIBEL

Journalist Convicted in New York of Injuring an Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Carlo di Fornaro, caricaturist and journalist, was found guilty of malicious libel by a jury before Judge Malone in the Court of General Sessions late today and was remanded to the Tombs for sentence on Monday.

He was charged with having libeled Rafael Reyes Espinosa, editor of El Imparcial, of Mexico City. The supposed libel was contained in a book entitled "Diaz, the Caesar of Mexico," published in this country.

In charging the jury, Judge Malone said that a writer has a right to comment on actions of public men, but such comment must be fair and honest. The freedom of the press, he added, must not be interpreted to afford a vehicle for the defamation of a private citizen, even though he is in public life.

Attorney George E. Josephs declared that the real plaintiff in the case was the government of Mexico, "the tyrant government whose misdeeds Carlo di Fornaro exposed."

TRAINMEN FACING CRISIS

Conductors, Firemen and Engineers May Demand Increase.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29.—A crisis among railway employees of the United States, it is believed in railroad circles, is drawing near. President Lee, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Grand Master Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, returned here today from a conference with officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Order of Railway Conductors.

It is believed the conference related to a demand for a wage increase. It is said a referendum vote now is in progress among the 200,000 or more members of the trainmen and conductors' association east of the Mississippi.

TAILOR IDENTIFIES ROBBER

Evidence Tends to Connect Matthews With U. P. Holdup.

OMAHA, Oct. 29.—Evidence tending to connect William Matthews, alias W. G. Marvin, one of the men on trial here charged with the robbery of the Union Pacific mail train here last May and to show that he was with the other defendants in April of this year, was introduced today.

Gus Breen, a tailor, of Kansas City, identified Matthews and Grigware, another of the defendants, as having visited his place of business on April 3, at which time he measured Matthews for a suit.

GALE GROUNDS SCHOONERS

Two Ships Go Ashore During Storm in New Brunswick.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 29.—A message from Quaco late tonight says two schooners, one a large vessel, went ashore at that place during a heavy gale tonight. The schooners are in a dangerous position.

The government schooner Laysdowne left for the scene.

WICKERSHAM ADDS FURY TO CAMPAIGN

Gives Stinging Blows to Judge Gaynor.

MERCILESS TOWARDS HEARST

Latter Promises to Kill and Skin Tammany Tiger.

NAIL ITS HIDE TO WIGWAM

Send Procession of Ballot-Box Stuffers to Sing-Sing—Tammany Candidate Sues Hearst for Campaign Libel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—With United States Attorney-General Wickersham bitterly attacking William J. Gaynor in behalf of the Republican-fusion ticket, oratory, redfire and invective were scattered nearly all over Greater New York tonight, with the municipal election only two working days away. Hundreds of minor mass meetings were held, while the respective heads of the three tickets—Independent, Democratic and Republican—were the chief speakers at larger gatherings.

Hearst Will Give Reckoning.

W. R. Hearst spoke three times on the East River. J. Gaynor spoke in Brooklyn and then came to Manhattan, while Otto T. Bannard, beginning in the theater district, swept down town, then up into Harlem. The candidates confined themselves rather to summing up their campaign arguments.

Hearst, keeping up his appeal to the "common people," struck a popular chord tonight by announcing that, if he were elected Mayor, he would hire a spacious hall, where he would appear at stated times for a reckoning at the hands of the people—to answer their questions and to receive their advice. He spoke also of ballot-box stuffing. He said he was prepared to meet repeating at the coming election.

Nail Tiger's Head to Wigwam.

"Forty-six Tiger cuts have been sent to Sing Sing," he said, "and we expect to send a regular Hudson-Fulton parade to the same place during the coming month. But we are going to kill the Tiger this time."
