MINT JULEP DOES

Leaves It Untasted but Eats Bounteous Southern Breakfast.

ON HIS POWER

Will Not Exceed Limits Placed by Constitution, Even for Good End, but Will Put Reponsibility on Congress.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 4.—A real mint julep failed to tempt President Taff in Macon today, It had been browed with consummate skill and reposed, apparently harmless, in a green-topped glass that had barnacles of frost-ing on the outside. It was placed be-fore the President at breakfast in the fore the President at breaktast in the Bartlett home.

This is what the President did: He looked at the inviting mixture, smiled and then got many with a bountiful Southern breakfast. He had plenty to eat, including waffles, quall, fried chicken, sauwage, steak, broiled ham, broiled chicken and grits.

"If this is winat you would call breakfast, I wonder what dinner would be like," commented the President.

The mint julep remained in the glass when the President left the table. Its ultimate fate is a bit uncertain, but Mr. Taft did not drink it—that much is sure.

Will Not Exceed Powers.

The President's principal utterance of the day was at Macon. In it he sought to define more exactly than he has in the past the limitations placed upon the executive and the responsibility that should rest upon Congress.

I doubt not after I am out of office, he said. "I shall be ahis to look back and see where I might have done things in the exercise of power that would have filled me with a consciousness of it, but I am bound to say that of it, but I am bound to say that under existing circumstances the thing which impresses me most is not the power I have to exercise under the constitution, but the limitations and restrictions to which I am subject.

"But our forefathers builded well and they knew what they were doing; and I am not in favor, even if it seems to me that a particular provision ought to be omitted, of changing the Constitution when you run against the sharp edge of something that indicates that you are only mortal and that the forefathers in making the Constitution distrusted your luman nature.

Follow Law as It Exists.

'My friends, that leads me up to one "My triends, that leads me up to one little sermon and that is, the wisdom and necessity of following the law as it exists. I know that sometimes in the zest and enthusiasm of reform there is impatience with legal limitations and statutes. I do not think, and I am sure you will agree with me, that this is the best way of eating rid of a legal limitation that he with me, that this is the next way of gatting rid of a legal limitation that interferes with progress. The best way is to have the people understand that the limitations ought to be removed and that the statutes of our Government ought to conform so far as may be to our highest deals and amplitudes. conform so far as may be to our highest ideals and ambittions; but that the first thing that we have got to do after arous-ing the people to the necessity is to change the law and not rely upon the executive himself to ignore the statutes and follow a law unto himself, because it is supposed to be the law of higher morality.

Place Responsibility Rightly.

"I am telling you of these limitations of the Executive and of the duty of Con-gress, because this Winter I expect to recommend a lot of things to Congress, and I want you to know where the responsibility lies if they fail to pass."

The President has formally come to the defense of "possum." When somebody in a crowd in Columbus, Ga., yestorday shouted, "How about posum?" he

"In some way or other the impression has gone abroad that I have a peculiar love for that dish. Well, at Atlanta they gave me a dish of 'possum' that was very well cooked, and that I liked very much. I am bound to say that I cannot distinguish it from the taste of young pigbut I have had to encounter, insisting that they did not like it, a certain sort of prejudies that is said to exist against that animal in the tastes of some people. Now, I don't entertain that sort of preprejudice that is said to exist against that animal in the tastes of some people. New, I don't entertain that sort of pre-

He will remain here until tomorrow. He is due to arrive in Washington next Wednesday evening. The President was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet tonight. Mayor George W. Tidmann was toustmaster.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT OF-FERS $1000 FOR EVIDENCE.

Victoria Italians Will Not Help in Finding Murderer of Salvatore Andrea, Foully Murdered.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 4 .- (Special.) --A verdict of murder against unknown persons was today rendered by a Coroner's jury which since October 23 has been investigating the death of Salvatore Andrea, a Tuscan, found with a bullet through his beart in the woods near Gold-stream, a popular roadhouse 12 miles from stream, a popular roadhouse 12 miles from here.

Accumulating circumstantial evidence leads to the conclusion that Andrea was executed by order of some Italian secret society, probably the Black Hand, two of whose agents had long pursued the young Italian. Exceptional aversion is shown by all members of the local Italian colony to having anything to do with the case; and 'Andrea's funeral was unattended, although he had until latterly been a favorite. The police have been advised that there is nothing to be gained by trying to solve the mystery. "Perhaps" one prominent Italian suggested, "this young man may have been false to an oath, and the arm of vengeance is long. Who knows?"

The police are not content to remain in knorance, and the government has offered 1000 reward for convicting evidence. Particularly is-desired the arrest of Nicodemus and Giovanni Alvaro, who are believed to have been the instituments of vengeance and who were seen near Goldstream the morning of the shooting, and since then have vanished as into thin air.

MINING COMPANY FINED

Federal Judge Finds Timber Was Taken From Land Illegally.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—
After four days' trial in the Federal Court in the case of the United States against the Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining Company, at Wardney, for timber trespassing, the jury tonight returned a verdict against the mining company for special company for

John Messenger filed a homestead on a quarter section near the mining company's properties and removed all timber, selling it to the mining company and abundoned his homestead, it was claimed, because it had been classified as mineral lands, and therefore the mining company sought to evade its liability. Judge Deitrich's instructions were, in part:

"All timber may be removed from homestead and sold, providing it is done in good faith to permit cultivation, but otherwise any timber is removed, its value must go back on the lands for improvements."

CAUSED HIS OWN DEFEAT

SAN FRANCISCO TELLS STORIES OF HIS ARROGANCE.

Predictions of Victory in Residence Districts Falsified-One Sample Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4—(Special.)

Politicians are much amused over the claims put forth by the Hency League before election. According to this prophecy, Hency was invincible in the residential district, but Fickert heat Hency in every district—in one by 400 votes, in another by 1200 votes and in still another by 1200 votes and in still another by 1200 votes and in still another by 3 to 1, his victory heing absolutely overwhelming. Hency, despite all his brag, carried not a single precinct.

Hency is said to be the sorest man in San Francisco. It was an awful blow to his concelt to be beaten so scandalously by a practically unknown.

blow to his contell to be beaten so scandalously by a practically unknown man. Since the election many stories have come out showing Heney defeated himself. Here is one that cost him thousands of votes:

One day about a month ago Heney entered the steam room at the Olympic Club, two men were talking and one said:

"Well, all I want is to see Heney thoroughly beaten."

The meeting last night was well attended, and 40 new members were secured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The big oil side, Heney made himself known and remarked:

"Well, you can bet on it that the man who votes against me is either a crook or an imbecile."

It did not take this story more than 10 minutes to get all over the club and before the day was over it was discussed at every club in San Francisco. It cost Heney very heavy losses,

COURT BUILDING SLIPS

GOTHAM $2,000,000 STRUCTURE CONDEMNED.

Construction of Subways Weakens Foundations-Engineers Hope to Save Place.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A cordon of 15e policemen stood guard today around New York's Criminal Court building, which the building inspectors have suddenly found threatens to collapse.

All traffic on surrounding streets has been stopped. Meanwhile workmen are shoring up the cracking walls and constructing a shield across La-Fayette street, to protect the subway heneath in case the building suddenly falls.

Construction of subways is blamed for the slipping of the foundations.

for the slipping of the foundations. Engineers express hope tonight that the building might be saved by foundations driven deeper into the earth.

Judges, coroners, the district attorney and other occupants of the building worked all night to vacate the structure. While the police had stopped tura. While the police had stopped all streetcars and other traffic and had roped off the streets for a block in all directions, officials quartered in the historic structure risked their lives, they believed in carrying out personal belongings and official records.

Though experts declare that the building is in no danger of immediate collapse, Judges of the Court of General Sessions declared yesterday that they would not risk their lives in it.
