PRISONERS BEG FOR FOOD

Hunger Strike Effectually Broken. Women Give Official Notification 700 of Them Are Ready to Be Arrested Monday.

SPOKANE, Nov. 12—"We are not employing any Industrial Workers of the World, if we know it," said the manager of an employment agency today. "The contractors do not want them, for they are agitators and trouble-makers. They take every opportunity during work and in the bunkhouses to create dissatisfaction among the other men. It is againgt the rules of the Industrial Workers' organization to patronize an employment agency and when one of them comes in here he removes his buttons and conceals his I. W. W. card." The manager of another employment

The manager of another employment agency said:

"We have instructions from various employers not to send out any Industrial Workers of the World. They agitate and cause trouble wherever they go. While we are short of men and there is plenty of work, we will not send out any I. W. W. men If we know them to be such. Six "Workers" Brave Sleet.

Six "Industrial Workers" braved the sleet today in the cause of free speech. These men stood with bared heads at Washington and Riverside streets, the police letting them orate until they were well moistened and then arresting them. Every one admitted be had come to the city within the last few days in response to calls sent out for "martyrs" to fight the Spokane authorities.

Most of them were from Seattle. One was provided with a store of food for his life in juil, a carrot and an apple being found in a pocket, together with tobacco, eigarette papers and matches. Six "Industrial Workers" braved the

In Police Court all cases on the docket have been continued until November 16. With only ten arrests in two days the officials now feel the court machinery is in no immediate danger of being swamped. Attorneys Moore and Rogers for the I. W. W. members asked the continuance to give them time to argue the habeas corpus proceedings now pending in court. Action on these proceedings was today delayed by the failure of the attorneys delayed by the failure of the attorneys pay filing fees.

A woman called up Mayor Pratt today and toid him the women of the Industrial Workers of the World would take up the fight Monday, and that 700 of them were ready to be arrested. This move, it is said, has been decided on to embarrass the officials. Efforts to secure the release of I. W. Clean House Thoroughly.

That is exactly what Mr. MacVeagh intends to find out. As he described it today, house-cleaning is as essential to the public as to private businesse, and a person is liable to forget how time fles. It may seem to him that he cleaned house a year previously, when, thinking it over, it will be found the soap and water had not been applied for possibly five years. That is the trouble now, it seems. There has been no house-cleaning these many years. There is to be one right away, and one that will remove all the dirt, if such a thing be possible.

Mr. MacVeagh does not anticiapte that the application of map and broom will uncover any such nests of "rattlesnakes," as it is termed, as have been found already in New York, but, where there is rottenness, it is the determination to cut it out, and where there is inefficiency, it is to be remedied to the fullest possible taken up with an impassioned plea by Trouard Riolle, advocate-General, for conviction of the woman who is charged with having killed her husband and her stepmother. Mine Steinheil's counsel, M. Aubin, is yet to be heard, and doubt has arisen whether the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

The prosecutor showed neither pity nor mercy in his address to the jury. He painted the accused woman in the blackest of colors—as a born liar and as one whose whole life, before and after the crime, justified the presumption of guilt. He developed the theory that after the rich and generous lover, Chounard, abandoned her in 1967, Mine. Steinheil realized she was almost at the end of her tether and that when she gor Maurice Borderet in her clutches she was determined to hold him, even at the price of murder.

Theories Are Finespun

The prosecutor insisted that Mmc. Stein The prosecutor insisted that Mmc. Stein-heil's story that burglars committed the crime was a myth, and he undertook to reconstruct the scene that actually hap-pened, claiming that while the secused woman and her accomplice were tying Mme. Japy, M. Steinheil was aroused by the noise and jumped out of bed. There-upon they attacked and killed him and, returning to Mme. Japy's room, found her in a bad fright. M. Defendant May Make Address.

Throughout the day Mme. Steinheil seemed terribly depressed. Not once did she interrupt the proceedings, though frequently she clenched her fists and showed signs of anger when the prosecutor made particularly odious insinuations against her. It is understood that at the conclusion of M. Aubin's address Mme. Steinheil intends to address the jury in her own behalf. This would make a dramatic climax, and it is expected would have a powerful influence on the jury, which is reported to be evenly divided.

Two things must be remembered in connection with a French verdict-first, the majority vote prevails, the foreman of the jury having two votes if there be a tie; second, the jurors are not confined, but are permitted to return to their Throughout the day Mme. institutions, he said, had the advantage of close permonal touch with the student body. He said:

I depreciate the desire to increase every class in a university. The desire to say that this year's freshman class is larger than last year's while it may give pride for the moment, seriously increases the burden of college administration, and brings about the necessity for a search for money to meet the added expenses.

It has fallen to me at times to have a share in selecting a college president, and there has always been at such times the suggestion that what we needed was a husiness man. I am glad to say that I always dissented from such an ideal. I am not attacking business men, but I believe such men have their limitations and that these limitations are such as to exclude them as college presidents. The figures show the North Dakota, steaming at an average speed of 12 knots an hour, is able to travel 9000 nautical miles without recoaling.

At a 19-knot speed the big ship would be able to steam 4000 miles without replenishing her bunkers, while she would be able to give 3000 miles without recoaling.

At a 12-km steam 4000 miles without re-plenishing her bunkers, while she would be able to cover 3000 miles without recoal-ing when steaming at her maximum speed of 21½ knots.

ART NEEDLEWORK FOR XMAS

—The past week has been a very busy one in our Art Needle Work and Fancy Goods department. This year the arrival of many pretty art novelties made of imported fabrics in new foreign art work makes this department most attractive.

-WOMEN SEEM TO FANCY the new Darmstadt, Mosaic and Holland Work. Indeed so enthusiastic have been our earlier customers that we fear now the unusual large assortment we imported will prove far too small and that belated customers will be disappointed.

-The prices also have a great deal to do in making this particular section of our department popular, ranging as they do from 50c to $2.25 each.

-IN STAMPED LINENS our showing this year embraces every known article, in all the popular sizes and designs. Also many new patterns and designs so as to make our assortment practically bewildering. Prices ranging from 5c to $2.75 each.

TO THOSE CUSTOMERS who are otherwise employed and cannot spare the time to fashion their own Christmas Gifts we offer a beautiful assortment of made-up novelties, It would be almost impossible to attempt to describe them. Hundreds of little dainty conceits for men and women, misses and children.

-That every year sees an increase in personal gifts, gifts made by one person for another, gifts that mean more than the purchase of a ready-made trinket is proven by the fact that we have already doubled the selling force in our art department. Christmas gift-making has already begun.

-To the women of Portland our department needs but little introduction. To the newcomers whose first Christmas will be spent in Oregon we extend an invitation to inspect this department, to acquaint themselves with our needlework novelties, our pyrography demonstrator and our metalography teacher. They will be pleased, we are sure, to learn that they can secure Heminways & Sons' Embroidery Silks, for which we are agents. Also Columbia Yarns.

-OUR FREE EMBROIDERY CLASSES are in session every afternoon. We will be glad to have you join them.
