Jefferson High School is completed and occupied by February the students will have to be transported in mud-hoats. There are no improved streets leading to or around this splendid building, and none is in prospect of being improved very soon. Efforts have been made to improve Kerby, Sumner and Emerson streets, but it cannot be done this year. There is a disposition to hold off improving any of the streets in North Albins until after sewers are laid. The City Engineer, who is preparing plans for the sewer system, says it will be March before the contract can be let and work started. It will take a year and a half to complete the work. Prominent residents insist that the improvement of the streets about the high school building ought, not to be held iff for two or three years, even if the sewers are not laid.

entire sum, $1400 collected for road taxes in Milwaukle has been secured for the use of the Milwaukle road district. Of this sum 69 per cent was allotted to the district some time ago, but Mayor Strein insisted that the district ought to have the whole amount collected, with the result that the Clackamas County Court allotted the remaining 50 per cent. City Auditor Dowling sald yesterday that the money will be used to repair the streets and bridges of the district. The securing of the entire road money is considered a victory for the Mayor and city, as it settled the contention held in Milwaukle that road taxes collected ought to be used at home.

Police Think Elmer Buren Has Been Repaid Part of Losses-Prosecution Not Balked.

Buren, the chief witness against Frank Watson, accused of the larceny of $400 Watson, accused of the larceny of $400 by the fake racing game, has caused the police to suspect that Buren has been reimbursed for part of his money and induced to refrain from testifying against Watson. Buren could not be found when Watson's case was called yesterday morning in the Municipal Court. He had been living at the St. Charles Hotel. At this place it is not known where he is. He had been released the day before on $50 cash ball, having been detained as a witness against Watson.

The awindle is an old-time one and one which has been worked with great frequency in this city during the past few months. Buren, who is a tourist from Midas, Nev., was approached on the street by a total stranger who struck up an acquaintance with him and these two encountered a third man. This last man told of a secret wire-tapping by which he got information on the result of the races before they were received in the poolroom where the bets are taken. Buren saw a bet or two made at a fake poolroom which extensibly won and was induced to play himself. While he was offices on the upper 14 floors. Of course,

E. R. Steen's Former Salesman Confirms Woman's Story That Employer Beat Her Cruelly. Arrest Is Result.

E. R. Steen, a sewing machine agent who conducts a store at 383 East Morriwho conducts a store at 382 East Morrison street, was arraigned before Judge Bennett yesterday morning in the Municipal Court and held to await the action of the grand jary on the charge of having assaulted with intent to kill Miss Louisa Stoetz, of 153 Thirteenth street. The assault took place in the rear room of Steen's store on the evening of Friday, October 22. Miss Stoetz was seriously hurt, the bones in her lower law on both sides were broken and she received other serious injuries which confined her to the hospital for two weeks, and at one time placed her in a critical condition.

She was still weak and very nervous when she appeared in the court room yesterday morning, her head and laws yesterday morning, her head and laws swathed in bandages. Several witnesses were examined, most of them Steen's employes, who seemingly tried to shield their employer. Steen did not testify. The story of the assault hinged upon the fact that Miss Stotez, who had been friendly with Steen, had lent him $400 for the purpose of engaging in the sewing machine business, with the understanding that marriage between them standing that marriage between them was to follow, and that after a long time, during which he had paid her nothing, he repudiated the debt and defied her to prove that he owed her anything at all.

Miss Stoetz testified that when Steen repudiated the alleged agreement, she called him a cur, and that he retaliated by raining blows upon her as she sat in a rocking chair. Throwing her to the floor, she said, he kicked her brutally until a great crowd collected in front of the store, when he threatened to kill her if she called for help.

George Backum, a salesman for Steen, said that he had found Steen beating Miss Stoetz in an ladescribably brutal manner on the floor, and that when he tried to pull Steen off from her and cause him to desist. ## Many Years the Favorite

For many years the Optimo has been the favorite of critical smokers who know a good cigar.

For many years it has been the best selling all-Havana cigar made-sales run to 30 millions last year. For the simplest reason, too. Only the choicest, most aromatic Vuelta Abajo leaf is used. Only the most skilful cigarmakers we can hire in Cuba, make them. And our exclusive methods of mellowing the leaf, give the cigars a rich, piquant flavor, a rare, exquisite fragrance that enchants the discriminating smoker.
